ALLEN THORNDIKE RICE DEAD. The Minister to Russia Dies Suddenly in

New York. NEW YORK, May 17.—Allen Thorn-dike Rice, editor of The North American Review, and President Harrison's appointee as minister to Russia, died at the Fifth Avenue hotel yesterday.

His death came with surprising and almost tragic suddenness. Mr. Rice was to have sailed Wednesday for his new post at the court of St. Petersburg, and had engaged berths on board the City of

The night previous a soreness had be-come noticeable in Mr. Rice's throat, and in the course of the day it developed into a severe attack of tonsilitis, the ulcerations being pronounced and painful. Mr. Rice was anxious to sail, however, and insisted upon doing so until his physician positively forbade a sea voyage at such a time. So sudden and unex-pected was his illness and deferred departure that his intimate friends were not aware of it until they went to the steamer expecting to bid him Godspeed on his voyage.

He returned to his rooms at the Fifth Avenue hotel, and when he retired said he felt better. The next morning he coughed himself to sleep, and when the nurse went to awake him he was dead. The doctors say Mr. Rice died of acute cedema of the epiglottis. He had, in plain English, choked to death.

Earl Dunraven Easily Satisfied.

NEW YORK, May 17.-Earl Dunraven's letter to the New York Yacht club respecting the Valkyrie challenge race was made public last night. The earl says he gave the length of his yacht only as a matter of convenience, and the club can sail any length yacht they please against her. He also accepts Oct. 1 as the date of the first race, and is satisfied with the courses proposed. He thinks the start should be made at the specified time, if either contestant so desire, instead of leaving the question to the sailing committee solely. He will accept any umpire satisfactory to the club, but would be specially pleased if Gen. Paine were selected. He does not feel competent to discuss the conditions on which the cup shall be held and challenged for in future, and suggests that this question be deferred until after the present race.

Was He Oulek or Dead?

New York, May 18.—An examination for the purpose of finding whether Wash-ington Irving Bishop, the late mind reader, met his death through the effects of a cataleptic fit or by wounds inflicted by the surgeon's knife while in a cataleptic state, was begun before Coroner Levy. Thomas A. Atchinson appeared on behalf of the wife of the deceased and presented a letter from District Attorney Fellows authorizing him to act for the district attorney's office. The physicians who performed the autopsy were held in $2,500 bail each and the examination was continued.

The Election at Jamestown, D. T. JAMESTOWN, D. T., May 15 .- The election of delegates to the constitutional convention in North and South Dakota was held yesterday. The North Dakota convention will consist of seventy-five members and will meet at Bismark, July 4, to frame a constitution for the new state. In this district two Republicans and one Democrat were elected. Springer's minority representation scheme was tried and the people were dissatisfied with the result. It insures the election of twenty-five Democratic delegates.

63,000,000 in the Chorus.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—A project is under way to have the 63,000,000 people of the United States join in singing the "Star Spangled Banner" at a fixed hour on the Fourth day of July next. The idea is to have President Harrison visit Philadelphia on that date, and when the signal to begin singing is given by him to have the wires flash the news over all the country, so that the singing will be going on all at once.

RIVAL RAILROAD.

Proposed New Line from New York to Pittsburg.

TO PARALLEL THE PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia Capitalists Are Working Up a Scheme to Construct a New Route to Pittsburg via Ashland, Selinsgrove and Huntingdon, Connecting with Lehigh

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—The plan for an independent railroad across the state to connect with the Lehigh Valley railroad has been revived, and within the past two weeks efforts have been made to interest Philadelphia capitalists in the scheme. Since the South Pennsylvania railroad fell into the hands of the Vanderbilis several new projects have been started and old ones revived. The one that is considered to have the best financial backing is the one which contem-plates a connection with the Lehigh Valley at Ashland, and it is this one which has been brought to the attention of local financiers.

Line of the Proposed Road. The line of the proposed road is from Ashland due west to Pittsburg, passing through Selinsgrove and Huntingdon. The route is quite direct, and runs close to the Pennsylvania railroad for most of the distance. It is intended that the Baltimore and Ohio terminals at Pittsburg shall be used, while the Lehigh Valley is depended upon to receive and take care of the traffic delivered at Ash-

Engineers say that the route is a good one, although not as good as the South Pennsylvania. From Ashland to Selins-grove the country is very mountainous, and the work will be exceedingly expensive. From Selinsgrove west, however, the country is very fair, except in the Allegheny mountains section.

It Will Require $10,000,000. No exact estimates of the cost have been made, but work will not be begun unless at least $10,000,000 is subscribed A portion of this amount has been se cured, and the promoters are searching for more. The experience of the South Pennsylvania syndicate has not given much encouragement to investors, and very few monied men have as yet iden tified themselves with the enterprise The promoters of it are pushing men, and feel confident that the road will ultimately be built. Lehigh Valley's Interest.

It is not claimed that the Lehigh Valley is interested in the scheme, and it is declared that all that is expected from that corporation is a traffic contract to exchange freight and passengers. The distance from New York to Pittsburg, by way of this route, is slightly less than the Pennsylvania's. The friends of the scheme talk of large profits that would be made by the construction of the road since a large tonnage of antiracite coal could be placed in Pittsburg every year, and besides, the new line would compete with the Pennsylvania for local business

The Coal Trade.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.-The coal trade shows some improvement, and dealers generally report a better demand. Orders have been accepted at slight concessions but prices are now firmer, and it is believed that there will be no necessity for making concessions in the future. Some of the mining companies have started additional breakers to keep their colliers from going to other fields. The resumption will give employment to thousands of men, some of whom have been jelle for powerly. The Frei have been idle for months. The Engineering and Mining Journal says the coal trade continues to show improvement, and that buyers are anxious to book orders at present prices, because on the 22d inst, a slight advance will be made, to take effect on June 1.

War on the Sunday Saloons, READING, Pa., May 21,—The committee of public safety are engaged in sub-penaing witnesses to appear against the saloon keepers next Wednesday, when the first testimony will be taken by the commissioner appointed by the court in the matter of the Sunday liquor selling cases. The committee have announced that everything will be in readiness by that time for the warfare against the saloon keepers. There are thirteen cases, but it has not yet been decided which will be called first.

Died from Unrequited Love. DOYLESTOWN, Pa., May 17 .- A pretty and vivacious young girl, named Emma Jane Funk, aged 21 years, employed as housekeeper in the family of Charles Swain, on Afton avenue, committed suicide by taking strychnia. The cause is attributed to an unfortunate love affair. She was the daughter of a wealthy farmer of Carversville, this county.

Illegal Saloons That Are Said to Flourish

in and About Pittsburg. PITTSBURG, May 20.—Since the granting of licenses this year under Judge White's strict interpretation of the Brooks high license law, what are known as "speak easies" have sprung up in the rough districts throughout the city and

It is estimated that there are at least 400 of these places in Allegheny county that are selling liquor illegally. The county authorities seem to be paying but little attention to them, while the city police officials are preparing a list of those under their own observation, which they will furnish the county authorities. Most of the liquor sold in these places

"I have never had any question as to my duty in regard to the amendment and will vote for it, of course, as I have always intended to do. The only ques-tion in my mind has been one of duty as a representative of the party. With-out pretending to represent the Repub-can party, I expect to take ground pub-licly in favor of the amendment in due

A Cow Runs Amuck. CARBONDALE, Pa., May 20.—An in-furiated cow held high carnival on one of the principal streets here yesterday. On Tuesday she gave birth to a caif, and yesterday for the first time was separated from it and she became wild with anger. She rushed through the streets, head down, goring a boy about the body and cutting his head frightfully. Her next victim was a girl, whora she knocked down and injured seriously. Then she attacked a fence and tore it in pieces. The animal was finally quieted by the restoration of the calf.

The Bridegroom Came Not. CARBONDALE, Pa., May 18.—Lights burned brightly, a wedding feast was prepared and the guests were assembled at the home of Miss Augusta Carroll.

Carnegle's Employes Suffer a Reduction. PITTSBURD, May 18.—Notice of a new sliding scale of wages was posted today at Carnegie's Homestead steel plant. It is made upon a basis of $27.50 for steel bloom, with the minimum at $25, and it is practically a reduction averaging 20 per cent. It falls heaviest on the best paid men, and cuts them in some cases 50 or 60 per cent. The employes had notified the firm that an advance in wages would be demanded July 1. The reduction will probably cause a strike of the 2,500 employes. If the strike is de-feated the scale will probably be adopted in all the other steel mills.

A Miraculous Escape.

HAMBURO, Pa., May 16. — Richard

Nice, a young man residing at Schuylkill Haven, having missed the regular train at this station, attempted to jump on a coal train on the Reading railread, when he fell and was rolled along the track by the car boxes. His left arm was terribly lacerated, and is body is a mass of bruises. His escape from instant death was miraculous.

BRODIE'S BIG JUMP.

The Champion Dare Devil Leaps Over Passaic Falls.

SAM PATCH'S AMBITIOUS RIVAL.

The Bowery Boy Makes the Most Perilous Leap of His Life in Safety-Glory, Not Gold, Was His Object-Says He Will Jump the Genessee Falls.

New York, May 21.—Yesterday Steve Brodie made the most perilous leap he has ever attempted. He stood on Eagle Point rock, the ledge extending over the Passaic falls, and leaped down into the canyon, 105 feet. He came up after thirty seconds on his back, his eyes closed and his face as white as chalk. He managed to turn on his stomach and swam to the shore, where he lay exhausted. He was revived with whisky, and has no serious injury. This jump was the most perilous he ever made, as he feli among a chain of rocks on which he would have been smashed to death had he struck them. He Jumped for Glory. The jump was made on no wager or reward of any kind except a desire for fame. Brodie keeps a saloon on the Bowery, near Grand street, and a few days ago some Jersey men from Pater-son were in his place when one of them remarked: "There is a jump over our way you had better never try. If you do you will be killed sure."

Why?" asked Steve. "Well, several men who tried it have been killed, and on April 30 last a young man named Leach took a row boat to cross the Passaic river to go to a ceme-tery. On the way his boat got in a strong current which bore him rapidly towards the falls. "Fearing that he would be swept over "Fearing that he would be swept over them he jumped out of his boat and tried to reach the shore by swimming.

"It was useless. The tide bore him along like a feather, and he was dashed over the falls. His body has not yet been recovered," concluded the speaker.

Sam Patch's Leap.
Steve leaned on his bar for a moment and inquired: "Did Sam Patch ever make the jump?

"Not over the falls, but he jumped into the river from a tree in Passaic park, in Patterson, in 1842," was the re-

"Well, I'll do better. I'll jump over the fall," retorted Steve, quietly. The Jerseyman laughed derisively and went away. Brodie was seen at his saloon on the Bowery by a reporter after his return to

New York and he said: "I am going to jump the Genessee falls some day, and then I am done bridge jumping forever." His handsome little wife interrupted

"The first time, Steve Brodie, that I hear you say jump again I will have you put in a lunatic asylum. I don't want to be left a widow," she ended, with a fond glance at him.

Brodie's highest leap was from the Poughkeepsie bridge, a distance of 220

MANHOOD How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure of Spermatorrhoea or Incapacity induced by excess or early indiscretion.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' practice that the alarming consequences of early error may be radically cured: pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
