

DON'T SCOLD

a man for growning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But—oughtn't a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he went on his feet, when it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way? It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

The skill of the chemists could not cure me of Rheumatism which had settled in my hips, neck and arms. I had been in bed for several months. I was the first case of Rheumatism cured by the use of this medicine. I was cured in four and a half hours without waking. I can now do all my usual work. I am now as well as ever. I am now as well as ever. I am now as well as ever.

TRAINING SULLIVAN.

Work of Muldoon the Wrestler with the Big Pugilist.

FIGHTER TURNED FARM LABORER.

The Great Pugilist is in Fine Form for His Fight with Kilrain—Muldoon Feels Sure of the Success of His Man—The Daily Routine of Training.

BRADDOCK, Pa., May 20.—Pugilist John L. Muldoon is getting in fine form for his coming fight with Jake Kilrain. He means business, and since his arrival at Belfast, N. Y., has left liquor and tobacco severely alone. When seen today he looked like a four time winner. There was a bright luster in his eyes and a healthy glow in his cheeks. "This will be the fight of my life," he said, "and I am going to win it or my name isn't Sullivan."

Muldoon is Confident. His trainer, William Muldoon, is perfectly happy in the belief that Sullivan will win the big fight in a canter at New Orleans next July.

"When I left New York with Sullivan," said Muldoon to an intimate friend, "I had orders to put him in trim in ten days. If I found that he was not in condition in that time, I was to telegraph Johnston, who would then forfeit the big stake of $10,000. Johnston was determined not to let Sullivan go into the ring unless he was in condition to win, and rather than see any fizzle in the ring was willing to lose his stakes and let the fight go by default."

Sullivan's Docility.

"Sullivan obeys me like a child," said Mr. Muldoon. "I have bled him, and he whines and had a good deal of him, and in five days' training find him in splendid form. Up to yesterday I could not wind him in a wrestle, but today he fairly got the better of me. He knows that this is to be the fight of his life, and will put in his best licks. He is catching on to wrestling like a thoroughbred, and will, in my opinion, whip Kilrain in twenty minutes. When he paralyzed Ryan he was able to whip two like him. If he can get him into one-fourth as good a condition as when he fought Ryan no power on earth can save Kilrain."

Sullivan finds no time for mischief on Muldoon's 125 acre farm. He does all kinds of farm work. On Wednesday he put his hands to the plow and turned a big furrow. As a milkmaid, though, he is a failure. One of his duties every morning after getting up is to walk about two miles to the dairy where he tries his hand at milking. He is as afraid of a cow as a woman. He disdains to use the three legged stool. He plunges right down on his knees on the floor and milks with one hand. He keeps his eye on the head of the cow, and his left hand is disengaged to repel any vicious attacks Bossie may make.

The Daily Routine.

After a light breakfast Sullivan slips into three heavy wollen shirts, three sets of drawers, encases his feet in heavy stockings, puts on heavy shoes ballasted with five pounds of lead, covers his hands with felt lined mittens, and drawing a coarse cap over his forehead, starts out for his daily constitutional. This is a walk over hills and through valleys and forests to Birdsall, thirteen miles away. He usually starts at 8 A. M. and returns at 4 P. M. His trainer turns up his shoes when he returns, and pours out about a pint of water from each. Then he takes a brace of invigorating baths and rests an hour. After that he goes into the barn, which has a padded floor, and amuses himself pasting at a sand bag. Muldoon takes him in hand when he is warmed up, and gives him heroic lessons in wrestling. At 8 o'clock he eats a light supper, takes a stroll, and at 11 o'clock is tucked away in his bed.

Everything Staked on the Result.

Muldoon's gymnasium is one of the finest in the land. He possesses a unique machine which develops every muscle in the body. This machine is one of John's pets. He takes to training like a duck to water, and Muldoon expects to make him as a wrestler second only to himself. The training is to be kept up until July 6, when the party will leave for Rochester and embark in a special car for the south. Cleary and Muldoon's brother and a force of trained rubbers have the champion in charge. Muldoon is of the opinion that over $500,000 will be staked on the fight, and he wants as much of it as he can get to place on Sullivan. Sullivan's arm does not trouble him a bit. He expects to train down to 195 or 200 pounds.

Kept the New Postmaster Out.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., May 20.—Ex-Postmaster Henry Winters of Cochocton, N. Y., was held in $1,500 by Commissioner Shields on a charge of delaying the mails. Herman Indell was appointed postmaster at Cochocton about April 1 to take Winters' place. Indell's commission had been sent to him from Washington, together with several letters from Congressmen Stevens, Winters, et al., claimed, purposely delayed them. Post Office Inspector Stewart arrested Winters at Cochocton on Wednesday last and found the letters and the commission in the inside pocket of his vest. The office is a fourth class one, and the salary is only $150 per year. The new postmaster did not get the office until Winters was arrested.

From Soliciting Offices to Soliciting Alms.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Henry W. Rogers, a middle aged man, came here on March 4 for a consulate. He was locked up last night in the Twelfth street station house as a vagrant. He had nearly $20 in coppers and five-cent pieces in his clothes, the result of his solicitations on the street. He was taken before Judge Miller in the police court one day last week and gave his personal bonds to get out of town. But he was sure of getting his position in a few days more and so he stayed.

Another Ocean Grayhound.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The Hamburg-Amerika line's new twin screw steamer Augusta Victoria arrived at her Hoboken dock yesterday after a remarkably fast trip of 8 days and 1 hour from Hamburg. Her time from Fastnet to New York was 6 days 24 hours, but 4 hours was lost on account of heated journals, the actual running time being 5 days, 22 hours, 30 minutes. She made 474 knots on the 16th inst. She has 12,500 horse power, and her machinery is all in duplicate.

A Dakota Snow Storm.

HOPK, D. T., May 15.—Snow fell to the depth of two inches here yesterday. It is considered beneficial to the grain crop.
