

GUEST-BOOK.—Take two dozen sheets of the best Irish linen note paper, —the scarf to form the leaves of the book,—and make a cover for the book,—and make a cover for the book,—and make a cover for the book,—

The ribbon for binding should correspond in color with that used in decorating the cover, as example: if buttercups are painted on the cover, then narrow yellow ribbon is selected for binding.

An Ounce Of Prevention.

Under the above heading the New York World of Feb. 10th, contains an editorial, of which the following are a few extracts: "Physicians are unprofessional men of science agree that if people would take a little of the pains to prevent disease that they do to have it cured that the civilized world would be much less like a vast hospital than it is now."

There is a great deal of wisdom in what the World remarks. Individuals, as a rule, do not give their physical welfare attention, and it is only when alarmed by the presence of disease itself—the consciousness of falling strength—that attention is given to such matters.

Physicians admit that they cannot control advanced disease in those organs and it is doubtful whether they can control it at any stage without the assistance of Warner's Safe Cure, which is established as the only known means which will reliably prevent and cure this class of disease.

Besides it has been definitely ascertained that kidney disease is the real cause of ill health in most cases where consumption, heart, brain or nervous disorders are supposed to exist, and in consequence of such belief many fatal mistakes have been committed by our best physicians in treating such disorders, which are but the symptoms of the disease, whilst they have allowed the real disease—disease of the kidneys, to escape notice until too late.

There is no safer or surer way by which health can be preserved and disease averted than the occasional use of Warner's Safe Cure, which will benefit the "engines of life,"—the kidneys, even if they are in a normal healthy state; while the good that will result in case disease is threatened, or is already present, cannot be over estimated.

The most careful examination made by a skillful physician sometimes is unreliable, since this class of disease is extremely deceptive, and seldom openly manifests itself until the unsuspecting sufferer is beyond assistance.

CHEAM AS FOOD AND MEDICINE.—Persons consumptively inclined, those with feeble digestions, aged people and those inclined to chilliness and cold extremities, are especially benefited by a liberal use of sweet cream. No other article of food or medicine will give them results equally satisfactory, and either as a food or medicine it is not bad to take. As an antidote for a tendency to consumption, it acts like a charm, and serves all the purposes intended to be served by cod liver oil with much greater certainty and effect. Where sweet cream is not to be had, cod liver oil is never needed. The volatile and easily appropriated unctuous matter in cream, besides contributing directly to warmth and vigor, aids indirectly by promoting digestion for the same reason and in the same way that other aromatic and attenuated oils aid the digestive function.

HINTS.—To keep eggs cool is a great help in making frosting. Set them in the refrigerator after separating whites and yolks; they will beat up stiff in half the time they would without.

Two apples kept in the cake box will keep moderately rich cake moist for a great length of time, if the apples are renewed when withered.

Set a dish of water in the oven with a cake when baking, and it will seldom scorch.

Two large silver salt cellars are now used, one at each end of the table. These are to be passed to each guest, who will remove a little of the salt to his empty individual salt cellar.

He that saveth his dinner will have the more supper.

Squeeze not the orange too hard, lest you have a bitter juice.

They who have little butter must be content to spread this their bread.

IT MADE MOTHER STRONG

"My mother has been using PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND for nervous prostration, accompanied by melancholia, etc., and it has done her a world of good. It is the only medicine that strengthens the nerves."

Pain's Celery Compound is of unequalled value to women. It strengthens the nerves, regulates the kidneys, and imparts wonderful power in curing the painful diseases with which women so often silently suffer.

IN THE GARDEN.

I have just a word to say about the care of Spring flowering-bulbs. When crocus, hyacinths, narcissus, tulips have done flowering let the seed stalks be cut down, as the ripening of the seed severely taxes and exhausts the powers of the plant.

JOHNSON—"I saw Mat this morning." Jackson—"Ah, ha!"

"Yes, and had a great mind to speak to him. He owes me $50." "I hear he has been sick. How was he looking?"

"Well, he was looking the other way when I met him." Miss Devoe, at the cooking school—"Do you mean to say, Chef, that we must put our bare hands into the dough?"

Professor Tartopommes—"Sairtainly, M'm'selle." "Perhaps that is why I failed with my bread the last time. My gloves seemed rather in the way."

"Did they receive you warmly?" "Did they? Well, rather. They made it so hot I left on the next train. Here is a souvenir feather."

HOUSEKEEPER—"I regret to say, sir, that your son and the cook have eloped." Rich Old Party—"Thunderation! Then we shan't have any dinner!"

CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES.—

She—"James, I am willing to become your wife, but I wish it to be distinctly understood that if I am to marry you, my mother is to make her home with us."

He—"Live with us always?" "Undoubtedly, James. I cannot desert her. She was all the friend I had until I met you. She must come to live with us."

"Well, er—" "But she will not be a burden upon us, James. She has about $7,000 a year from the dividends on her shares in the Old Colony."

"And you want her to live with us when we are married?" "I do, James."

"Certainly, my darling. $7,000 a year from dividends! Gracious! Sadie, she shall live with us. She shall be respected and admired by her son-in-law, Sadie, I always admired your mother. She is one of the noblest, one of the most kindly and affectionate women I ever saw."

"Then that is settled, James?" "Settled, Sadie, you bet! She shall come and live with us the moment we are married."

"Oh, James, you are so kind." "Don't mention it, Sadie. Don't mention it. I hope I have a soul in me. Your mother shall come to our house and she shall have a home there as long as she lives."

And then, to show her loving gratitude for his condescension, she twined her arms about his neck, while great tears of joy traced their course through the rouse on her cheeks.

WANTED TO BE SURE.—A lady from the country stepped into a jewelry store recently, and asked to see some spectacles. After selecting a pair she turned to the jeweler with the question: "You are sure these glasses will wear well, aren't you?"

"Yes'm," replied he. "They are the best pebbles." "Well, I want to be sure of it," pulling out an old fashioned bag-purse, "because I read a heap of fine print, and I was afraid it might be too much of a strain on 'em."

PROOF.—It is a very sharp emergency that can catch Pat, even when he is ignorant and ragged. An Irishman whose garments were in tatters was brought before a magistrate on the charge that he was a vagrant.

"What have you to say to the charge that you have no visible means of support?" asked the Justice.

Pat drew from the pocket of his torn coat a loaf of bread, the half of a dried codfish and several cold potatoes. These he spread upon the stand before him and coolly asked: "What do you think of them, yer Honor—shore, an' isn't them visible means of support?"

HEALTHFUL EXERCISE.

Only a few months ago these romping, rosy-cheeked lasses were puny, delicate, pale, sickly girls. By the aid of Dr. Pierce's world-famed Favorite Prescription, they have blossomed out into beautiful, plump, hale, hearty, strong young women.

"Favorite Prescription" is an invigorating, restorative tonic and as a regulator and promoter of functional action at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, it is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization.
