LOCAL ITEMS.

A large box of clothing was sent to the sufferers down the valley this week from this place. Trains on the main line are run from Harrisburg over the P. & E. to Williamsport, and over the B. E. V. road to Tyrone. Prof. Eiters, of the Bellefonte schools will be a candidate for County Superintendent, Prof. Wolf declining to serve another term. This section was overrun with tramps and beats from Lewistown on their way to Bellefonte. One was a cripple and sufferer (?) by the flood. A four horse team with express messengers and three safes said to contain $600,000 passed through here last week on the way to Lewistown to take the train east. There has not been a full bright day since the flood. Weather has been damp and cool, with an occasional peep of the sun thro' the clouds as if to say "howdy-do." Dr. Ed. Miller, son of Rev. J. K. Miller, dec'd., formerly of this town, had all his goods swept away by the flood, at Johnstown, fortunately he and his wife and two children were saved. Among the farm improvements in this vicinity is the fine new residence of D. C. Keller, a short distance below the Fort, which is near completion. It is a two story frame with outillage front. With few exceptions every house in town has been put in tatters order, leaving fewer buildings that might be called snugly than any little town we know of; we are pleased to note this fact. The Milroy & Centre railroad is almost entirely ruined by the flood. All the bridges on the road are away, and if the road is repaired, which is not thought probable, it will be several months before the trains are run. Among the announcements this week is the name of A. Schaeffer, for Prothonotary. Three years in the office have made him known to all, that we need not speak of his efficiency in the position he now holds. On Thursday last the first mails from outside the county began to come in, when we received an Altoona paper, the first since Saturday previous. Next day, Friday, we began to receive the first mail matter from Lewisburg and other adjoining counties. The new mill of Kurtz & Son is now under roof and sided; the recent floods having interfered with the railroads, the machinery and engine are delayed, which will cause a delay of two or three weeks before the mill can be ready for grinding. The school teachers employed for the Centre Hall schools, for the fall and winter term, are Mr. Harry Rothrock, of Boalsburg, a graduate of State College, for the grammar school; John Dauberman, for the 2d grade, and Miss Elsie Geiss for the primary school. As announced last week in these columns, Mr. D. B. Brislin has been appointed post master for this town. The applicants were Mr. Reeseman and Mr. Brislin; the latter having been in Gen. Beaver's regiment, got the weight of the governor's influence which secured him the race. He will no doubt make an efficient post master. The Altoona Tribune was the only daily in the central part of the state that furnished complete accounts of the Johnstown horror. The dailies from the large cities could not get in here because all mails were stopped by the flood, and we doubt whether they were able to get any information for several days after the flood, as all telegraph lines were down. Mrs. Sweeney, an aged lady and widow of Pleasant Gap, was a passenger on the day express that was overtaken by the flood at Johnstown. A report reached her friends that she had been in the hospital; then, again, we were informed on Monday morning last, that no intelligence about her had been received at Pleasant Gap. Mr. Clements, who is now drilling for water on the farm of James C. Boal, at Earlstown, has gone through 90 feet of solid limestone rock already, obtaining only slight indications of water, but he thinks a good supply is not far off. We understand one or two parties in town think of boring for water this summer. We believe water could be struck at less depth than at Earlstown. The facts about the drowning of Mr. George Kennedy, at Johnstown, who was formerly of Boalsburg, are related to us as follows: Mr. Kennedy went to a meat market to get some meat and take it home; while there he was told to see for his life, as the reservoir had broken. He said he would hasten to his family and try to have them saved. But that was fatal to him; the waters caught him and he never saw his family again. Mrs. E. L. Kreamer had just called on the Kennedy family when the awful wave struck the town, the house was carried and drifted in the direction of some rubbish to which the family of Mr. Kennedy and Mrs. Kreamer succeeded in climbing and all were rescued.

Row at State College.

A LIVELY WAR BETWEEN THE STUDENTS AND THE FACULTY. State College was excited last week over an unpleasantness between the boys and the Profs. The cause of the trouble is said to be as follows: Charles Musser, a Freshman student from Aaronsburg obtained relief of absence to attend decoration ceremonies; he got back to college a day or two after his time had expired, alleging that he could not return sooner on account of the floods. The faculty notified him that he had been suspended, as the limit of his delinquencies had been reached. Upon this the entire Freshman class said they would leave unless Musser was reinstated, and they did not attend recitations, whereupon the faculty notified the Freshmen that they also were suspended, and the class withdrew and encamped in a woods near the college and had a good time. The suspension of the Freshmen roused the Sophomores, who notified the faculty that they and the Juniors would leave the college unless the Freshman class was reinstated. At this stage Dr. Atherton, President of the College was telegraphed to at Washington. The Dr. has returned; the matter was talked over and explained and the future great men of the Nation have returned to their lessons again—and peace reigns at the college. There will be no martial law declared, no posse comitatus or any other come-at-us, since the young men have agreed to come to their recitations again.

State College Commencement.

D., of Philadelphia, ex-President of Lafayette College, Monday, June 24th, Annual Address before the Young Men's Christian Association, by the Rev. T. T. Everett, of Harrisburg; Tuesday, June 25th, Examination of candidates for admission to College Senior Class Day Exercises, Junior Oratorical Contest, Reception by Washington Society; Wednesday, June 26th, Artillery Salute, Annual Meeting of Trustees, Alumni Dinner, Meeting (in the Chapel) of Delegates and Alumni to elect Trustees, Exhibition Drill of State College Cadets, Annual Address before the Alumni, by Saml. H. Paabody, L. D., President of Illinois State University; Thursday, June 27th, Graduation Exercises of the Class of '89, Commencement Address, by the Hon. Henry K. Boyer, of Philadelphia, President's Reception.

The Clinton Co. Drowned.

Not less than thirty or thirty-five persons were drowned in this county, the names of whom are as follows: James Guilford, Lock Haven; William Confer, wife and three children and two children of Jacob Karchner, Wayne township; Robert Armstrong and sister, Clinton; John Harter, Andrew Rhine, his wife and two girls, Mackeyville; Alex. Whiting and wife, William Emhizer and wife and Mrs. Henry Snyder, Salona; Mrs. Luther Seyler and three children, Cedar Springs. Mrs. Syler was taken from a tree and his wife's dead body lodged on a drift pile only a few rods below where he was clinging. Mrs. Charles Cole and two children; Mrs. C. L. Barner and two children, Rote.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Driving the Witch Out.

In Lawhill township, Bucks county, lately, a housewife was unable to churn her butter, and the failure was attributed to a witch. Accordingly the husband fired a shot into the cream to kill the witch, but without avail. The wife was then told by a neighbor that by making a silver dollar hot and throwing it into the churn she would be able to drive the witch out. She tried it, and the butter came all right. A few years ago a man lived in one of the houses at the upper end of Centre Hall, who put burning coals into the mouth of his cow to drive the witches out of her, and punched the boards inside of his stable full of holes with his dung-fork to make the witches keep out of the stable.

A Ribbon Swindle.

The latest swindle is the selling of ribbons. Sharpers visit the farm houses, exhibit rich samples at very low figures, take orders from the ladies, get half the payment in cash and promise to forward the goods, when the remainder is to be paid. Neither the swindlers nor the ribbons are heard of again.

Drowned on the Train.

Widow Sweeney, an aged lady from Pleasant Gap, was drowned on the day express at Johnstown. She was on her journey home from a visit to Pittsburgh, but had found a resting place in the home beyond. Her age was about 75 years.

Extract of Vanilla, wholesale and retail, at Murray's. Read Fauble's flaming ad, in Reporter and give him a call. J. B. Boyer, of near Bellefonte, gave the Reporter a call. See Fauble's new spring stock before purchasing elsewhere. When in Bellefonte stop and see E. L. Powers $3.00 dress shoe. The new house on Mrs. Curtin's farm, at the lower end of town, is up. Go to Fauble's clothing house for a fine suit of clothing, new spring styles. Murray's Extract of Vanilla is far cheaper and preeminently superior to any other make. Daniel Bohn, of Linden Hall, was among the visitors to our town last week. For cheap clothing go to the Rochester clothing house, Bellefonte, largest stock in town. Fauble keeps the finest stock of ready-made clothing in the county and cannot be undersold by any competitor. Vance McCormick came home from Lock Haven, where he was working in a planing mill, no doubt was flooded out. The largest and most complete line of suiting—now on exhibition on our counters—that have ever been shown by us. Suits made to order at the lowest prices. MORSEBROOK & CO., Tailors, Bellefonte.

The P. R. R.'s Facilities to Atlantic City.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company's facilities for reaching Atlantic City were never so complete as they are on the opening of the present season. During the past winter and spring the road-bed of both the West Jersey and Camden and Atlantic has been greatly improved. The West Jersey road has been bettered in various ways and rebalanced; the track of the Camden and Atlantic has been renewed on many portions of the line and track tanks have been added for the use of fast trains. The equipment, both in locomotives and cars, is superior in every respect, and will be ample for the comfortable conveyance of the largest midsummer crowd. The terminal facilities at both ends of the line possess the advantage of superior location. The Market Street station in Philadelphia, from which the fast trains of both the West Jersey and Camden and Atlantic Railroads start, is the central seashore station of the city, accessible from all sections by direct lines of street cars, and within fifteen minutes of Broad Street station by the Market Street cable car. In addition to the central station at Market Street, there is also a ferry from Vine Street and a boat running from Vine and Shackamaxon Streets direct to the Camden side of the Market Street ferry. At Atlantic City passengers are landed in the heart of the city, at a point from which every part of the city and suburbs are easily reached by the new electric railway.

The special excursion travel is delivered at the large and handsome new excursion house, the Sea View Hotel, which is just completed. This is the most commodious and best appointed house of the class on the coast, and offers every facility that the day excursionist could demand. With all their facilities improved and strengthened, with ample equipment and fast trains, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's branches to Atlantic City will grow stronger in favor of the traveling public.

Loss of Life at Mackeyville.

Advices from Mackeyville, which seem to be well authenticated, are to the effect that aside from the great loss of property there was reported some of the terrible swell that, like death, is no respecter of persons. In its course it carried away almost everything portable, and many things that were supposed to be stationary and utterly resistive to the forces of the flood. T. J. Small, who kept a general store there, was carried away with his store; Andy Ryan, and family are reported drowned; John Harter is also among the missing and is supposed to be drowned. At the same place the bodies of four persons were caught, but who they were or where they came from, is not known.

At Flat Rock, homes were destroyed, personal property was swept down the rapacious stream. The lives lost were those of the wife and two children of Chas. Cole and the wife of Mr. Cal. Barner and three children, Messrs. Cole and Barner were absent from home, working up in the woods.

Gored by a Bull.

On Wednesday morning, Mr. Joseph Gilliland, of near Centre Hill, was seriously injured by an Alderney bull, in one of his fields. The bull had broken from one field over into another, and Mr. Gilliland endeavored to drive him back, when the animal turned on him, threw him down, and began to use his horns, which had knobs on the end. A hired man of Mr. Gilliland in an adjoining field witnessed the attack of the bull upon him, and hastening to the spot grabbed the animal by the ring in his nose and led him away. Mr. Gilliland's injuries are quite serious, having several ribs broken.

Jerry Miller flitted the barber shop to the second floor of the bank. Ready-made clothing of every description and quality at the Philad. Branch, Bellefonte. Mrs. William Bitner, of Tusseyville, was visiting friends in this place last week. Simon Loeb's new clothing store, opposite the Conrad house, is the place for bargains in men and boys' suits. About two hundred men are engaged at work on this side of the tunnel getting the railroad getting it into shape again. Commercial tourists are unusually scarce in this section at present, and our merchants are enjoying a respite which is needed. Robert and Ed. Wolf, students at Gettysburg College, arrived home on Sunday, via Williamsport and Bellefonte. The latest reports we have of Mrs. Sweeney, the aged lady of Pleasant Gap who was on the day express, is that she was drowned at Johnstown. Look out for the "Johnstown" tramp, who was drowned and lost all he had, and is willing to take all you have. He will be pretty numerous. Simon Loeb's new clothing and goods finishing store, opposite the Conrad house, is the busy place now. Bargains in what draws the people. Mr. Harry Rothrick, the principal of schools, was married on Wednesday, 12, to Miss Ella Frederick, at the home of the bride, in Boalsburg. Walnut Grove.

The roads that have been in a very bad condition since the heavy rain, are being repaired again. People going to Boalsburg had to take quite a round-about way, owing to the road at McFarlane being washed away.

Joe Markle, who has been in Nittany valley for several months was home over Sunday. W. H. Bohn and Miss Galla Noll were to Lauralton recently visiting the latter's friends.

On Thursday evening, there will be a temperance meeting in the school house. Misses Lizzie Slack and Grace Durnst of near Potters Mills were pleasant visitors in our vicinity last week. John Hope was to Millifinburg several days this week.

PILES! PILES! PILES!

Dr. William's Indian Pile Ointment is the only cure for Blind, Bleeding, or Itching Piles ever discovered. It never fails to cure old chronic cases of long standing.

Judge Coons, Maysville, Ky., says: "Dr. William's Indian Pile Ointment cured me after years of suffering."

Judge Coffinbury, Cleveland, O., says: "I have found by experience that Dr. William's Indian Pile Ointment gives immediate and permanent relief."

We have hundreds of such testimonials. Do not suffer an instant longer. Sold by druggists at 50c & $1 per box. ap2ly

Wm. L. Kurtz, recently of this place, now in Somerset county, was at Johnstown on Monday after the awful calamity. He writes: I was up at Johnstown yesterday; was in the town about 7 hours. One of the first men I saw was Gen. Hastings, who favored me with a permit to pass the guards. He is very busy directing some of the operations. In the afternoon I went back to the morgue again and found Dr. Groff, of Lewisburg. It is almost impossible to describe the wrock. The accounts in the papers do not begin to give an idea of the destruction. I saw a great many dead bodies taken out of the ruins, and at the morgue it was full; they were very busy putting them in coffins and burying them all day. The house where Dr. Ed. Miller had his office is gone and no one seems to be seen for squares around. That is the place where the river is now running having washed a new channel.

Murray's Vanilla—best—cheapest try it.

When in Bellefonte stop and see E. L. Powers $3.00 dress shoe.

If you want a good fly-net, light or heavy, cheap, go to Booser's saddlery.

U. D. Osman, on Saturday, returned from his western trip, looking none the worse for it, and all were glad to see him.

The teachers' examination held in this place for the boro and Potter twp. last Saturday, was largely attended and a number of certificates were issued.

The pike across the mountain to Pleasant Gap was in a terrible condition, but is somewhat repaired again. Deep gulches were washed in the road, and in some places it was impassable.

We have no farther news to print of the flood on Elk creek, having given a full and substantially correct account in our last week's issue.

The weather has been unsettled for the last ten days, with light showers at intervals. Tuesday, about noon, there was a heavy shower and Wednesday was wet.

Mr. Foust, whose family was drowned in the flood, near Coburn, was not drowned up at Westport, but has returned alive to find his entire family gone. How sad!

A dollar saved is a dollar earned which can be done by buying clothes from the Rochester Clothing House, Bellefonte, largest stock of spring suits in the county.

Dr. Ed. Miller was on one of the high places near Johnstown, seeing a patient when the flood came on. The house in which his family was, was carried away by the flood and fortunately drifted to a place where the family were able to make their escape.

What the Philad. Branch does not have in the line of ready-made clothing, I not worth having. The spring stock now on the counters is immense and goes ahead of anything you ever saw. Lewins is King for low prices.

Judge Furst is laid up from a carbuncle in his side. Rev. Fischer was laid up a day or so from a fall on a treacherous board walk; the editor was laid out nearly a week from a sprained ankle got on a Millheim board walk.

Get your boy a nice suit at Lewins and save a couple of dollars thereby. The largest and best assortment of spring suits, latest styles ever brot to Bellefonte. Lewins leads in ready-made clothing for men and boys.

Robert McFarlane's hardware store in Bellefonte is headquarters for the celebrated Link Fence Wire. Having bought a car load before the recent advance in price, he is able to sell at very low rates. The link wire has stood the test of several years in our county and has proven first class in all respects. It is so easy to handle and put up and weighs a little less to the rod than any other. Write for prices.

Millheim and Coburn are busy fixing up. The pike thro' the gap has been put in a reasonable condition again.

Our railroad track is restored as far as Paddy mountain, but the bridges are not yet in repair.

The relief sent to Millheim and Coburn does not near meet the damage suffered—there are many poor families who feel the disaster more keenly.

For a bargain in boots and shoes, let it be remembered, you never go amiss by calling at A. C. Mingle's boot and shoe store, Bellefonte. He keeps the most complete assortment in the town and the best goods in the market.

When you go to Bellefonte call at Mingle's.

The drill on J. C. Boal's farm, on Monday struck water at a depth of about 90 feet thro' solid rock. Had he kept on until getting a little nearer China no doubt a stream of excellent tea might have been struck. The supply struck seems to be a large one, and the water is very fresh; it rises about 50 feet in the well.

REYNOLD'S NEW BANK BUILDING, BELLEFONTE

Flood at Milton. Mrs. J. G. Kurtz writes the REPORTER: I never saw anything to equal it, and I hope I may never see it again; the water was in our house on the first floor 25 inches, we lived up stairs on old meat bread and buttered jam, and stale water, from Saturday afternoon until Sunday noon. Then we got to work and cleaned the house and got some dinner. I tell you we were happy when we could again have a cup of coffee and broiled steak. All the bridges are gone. The town looks dreadful. Our piano is ruined; all our outbuildings are upset, board walks washed away. A great many people are a great deal worse off than we are.
