SOME DOCTORS

honestly admit that they can't cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Others say they can but—don't. Ath-lopho-ros says nothing but—cures. That's the secret of its success. Years of trial have proved it to be a quick, safe, sure cure.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 2, 1887
In my own family Athlophores was used as a last resort, the user having suffered from rheumatism for years and having been treated for the disease by different physicians in this State and Massachusetts without even temporary relief. Upon my recommendation scores of people have used this remedy with the same results claimed for it.

CHICAGO DETECTIVES

Wiser Than Serpents and Harmless as Doves.

THEIR BRILLIANT GAME OF BLUFF.

The Sleuth Hounds Who Are Running Down Cronin's Murderers Now Allege That They Didn't Want Moroney or McDonald at All, but Burke, of Winnipeg. Is the Man They Are After.

CHICAGO, June 18.-Interest in the Cronin murder is centered upon Winnia peg, where the suspect Burke is under arrest. Up to yesterday the authorities of the state's attorney and police departments were confident that in Moroney and McDonald they had two of the principals to the crime. No sooner, how-euer, had the United Press dispatches chronicled the fact that the Chicago witnesses had failed to identify the suspects and that the court had ordered their unconditional release than the lyre of the departments began upon another tune.

A Big, Bold Bluff. It was boldly stated that the authorities had been playing a bluff game with the New Yorkers; that the picture iden-tified by the real estate agent, expressman and others, was not that of either of the New York prisoners, but of Burke, the Winnipeg suspect; that in short the extradition of Moroney and McDonald had been demanded and the witnesses sent on to identify, all as a part of a bluff game, a detective being all the time on the track of Burke, and the fact that he was the mysterious Williams being all the time patent to those in charge of the case.

In the effort to justify this position it was stated with equal gravity that the steps referred to had been taken simply to satisfy Luke Dillon and the Pinker-tons, both of whom, according to this igenious theory, were just as satisfied that Moroney and McDonald were the men wanted as the regular police officials, according to their present position, were satisfied that they were not.

Burke Is the Man. Outside of those now in New York every witness that positively identified Maroney's picture as that of Frank Williams has recognized the photograph of Burke as that of the "only original." But in one of the cells of the Central station a man named McCahey is under ock and key, and it is reported among a section of police that this man, too, is the one sought for. As to the grounds upon which his arrest is based no information is forthcoming. The appearances indicate, however, that the authorities are utterly at sea, and that as in the Tascott case they are willing to send de tectives to the farthest end of the continent upon the suggestion that a probable clew may be developed.

Woodruff's Mania for Confessions. Woodruff, alias Black, is said to have made two more confessions, and to be hard at work upon a third. The state's attorney office is inclined to pin its faith to everything he says. The police, on the contrary, regard him as an unmitigated liar. He has full access to the newspapers and is allowed to talk with newspapers and is allowed to talk with whoever he pleases. Hence the fact that in every new confession be brings in names that he had never mentioned before. Experienced detectives say that had New York methods been adopted.

While playing in a Baltimore gutter an S-year-old boy, Raphael F. Ferrandini, was swept into the sewer and drowned by a stream caused by the rain. His body was recovered.

He Looks Like a Bad Customer and Will Resist Extradition.

WINNEPEG, Man., June 18.-Martin Burke, the man arrested here for comphoity in the Cronin murder was seen in his cell by a representative of the United Press. He is an athletic young fellow and has a scar on the front part

Chicago and on his way to the old country. On its being pointed out to him that this was not the way to the old country Burke seemed confused, and after some hesitation sald he was just taking a look around before going. He further stated he had left Ireland four years ago, proceeding straight to Chicago, where he was employed by the corpora-tion. He knew Cronin to see him, but tion. He knew Cronin to see him, but Saale narrowly escaped being run down was not personally acquainted with him. by an iceberg on her way to New York

Not a Member of Clan-na-Gael. Burke further stated that he was not a member of the Clan-na-Gael, and would claim British protection and refuse to go back with the Chicago officer.

more, poured kerosene on her fire and the can exploded. She was burned to a crisp with her eight months' old baby. Burke, in purchasing a ticket to Liverpool, gave his name as W. J. Cooper. He does not look like an innocent man who was outraged over his arrest, but takes it as a matter of course. He arrived here on Saturday night and put up at a second class hotel. He did not register.

Believed to Possess Cronin's Hat. In his valise was found a felt hat supposed to have belonged to Dr. Cronin. The name inside of the hat appeared to be blotted out with the aid of chemicals. The chief of police sought to restore the letters, and characters to correspond with Cronin's name were clearly distinguished. The prisoner admitted that If you are in need of good paying position and he has a brother in Chicago, so that there is now little doubt but that he is one of the famous Williams brothers. Burke's pay good commission or salary and expenses to a solicitor, in response to a question, said good man. The position we offer is a permanent the intention was to resist to the bitter end any effort to extradite the prisoner.
The Chicago officer is expected to arrive at 2 o'clock this afternoon.
