Big Blaze at Spring Mills.

THE GRENOBLE STORE IN ASHES.—FIRE STARTS THREE TIMES WITHIN FIFTEEN HOURS.

On last Friday morning between 3 and 4 o'clock, the family of L.J. Grenoble, at Spring Mills, was awakened by a suffocating smoke in the house. An alarm was made, and fire was discovered in the wasteroom at the west side of the the wareroom at the west side of the store. The siding was torn open and flames at once flashed up. After a copious application of water the fire was put out, so supposed, but a watch was kept until daylight. The fire originated in same unknown manner among some rags. In the morning about 8 o'clock, however, the fire again broke out, in some part of the warehouse, in which were two oil tanks and a pile of rags. Rumor has it that the fire was in the rags. The fire was again put out and persons say effectually. The store was then locked up and no one permitted to enter, and to remain closed until insurmeyer has the exclusive sale of our ance appraisers could be called. No

About 4 o'clock in the afternoon fire has his headquarters with us, and is was again discovered and this time it given first choice of every bargain we made its appearance in so big a blaze receive. Our arrangement with this that any effort to put it out would have firm is that he obligates himself to sell been useless as the water was not convenient enough for the purpose. The store remained locked and no goods could be saved in consequence, and the building, with dwelling combined occupied by I. J. Grenoble, with all contents, except a piano and few other articles, was destroyed. The building was a large frame, used for store and residence, and owned by Maj. W. F. Reynolds, of Bellefonte. It was also occupied in the west end by the Reformed Sunday School, where they held services. An organ was all that was saved from their room. The store goods belonged to the Grenoble good work. Store Company, which meant Mrs. Grenoble, John Rossman, Adam Bart-ges and Henry Krumrine. I. J. Grenoble was manager of the concern.

Maj. Reynolds had $1,000 insurance in the Centre Hall company on building, and $3,200 in outside companies in addition. The store company had $2,000 insurance in the Centre Hall company, and $6,000 in outside companies, the lat-ter only obtained a few days before the fire, on 16th, as we are informed. This makes a total of $8,000 on goods.

Mrs. Grenoble has $673 insurance in the Centre Hall company on furniture. The total insurance on goods and from home returned on Saturday. building is, therefore. $12,873.
