THREATENED RACE WAR.

SOLDIERS SENT TO A MISSISSIPPI TOWN.

A COLORED EXCURSION TRAIN FIRED AT-SEVERAL PERSONS WOUNDED.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 1 .- A Grenada, Miss., special says: A telegram was received here this morning saying that negroes were massing near Shell Mound, Le Flore county, Miss., and that a conflict between the whites and blacks was expected. Help was called for, as the negroes outnumbered the whites six to one.

A volunteer company of about 40 men was raised here in an hour or two, and left on the 12.15 train for the scene of the trouble, under the command of the Hon. J. C. Longstreet. A. company of Cavalry will leave here tonight. A despatch received here from Longstreet and C. L. Townes asks for | ployed. all available men throughout the county at once. By order of the Governor the Winona Rifles accompanied by several citizens, left on a special train at 2 P. M. for Greenwood, from which place they will go to Shell Mound to aid in suppressing the

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 1 .- Between 2 and 3 o'clock an excursion cheese. All were made violently sick, train, composed entirely of colored people, arrived at the Gouldsboro depot recover. trom Baton Rouge. A large number of colored men and women were near the depot waiting for the train, which 65 years of age was murdered on the was due at 11 o'clock. As the train 1st. His wife, aged 45, who had freneared the depot one of the excursionists attempted to get off and fell to the ground. Some unknown person made of Oakland City, Indiana, was shot a personal remark, when the negro dead by Karn McKenna on the 1st. drew a pistol and fired four or five Dougherty was counsel for McKenna's shots in rapid succession, one of which struck a white man named William Miller, a brother of one of the Gretna police, in the nose, and lodged itself in the back of the neck. Then the shooting became general, some four or five hundred shots being fired in less than fifteen minutes. The above account of the trouble is from the police of Gretna. A terrib e panic occurred, women and children running in all directions, shouting and screaming, leaving dishes, baskets, hats, shoes, etc. Ed. Levy, a colored man, living in Algiers, was shot in the left arm, and a colored woman, named Fleming, was also fatally shot in the back.

Mr. John Rainy, the superintendent of the Algiers and Greina Horse Railroad, was about two squares away with two cars waiting for the excursion. He stated that the panic caused by the rapid discharge of firearms was dreadful. He did not know what caused the trouble, but the cars on their way down to Algiers were fired into. Mr. his drivers were in imminent danger of days ago.

About 4.30 o'clock this morning a large reflection was seen near the line tetween Algiers and Jefferson parish. Algiers fire department started to the mene, and found a large number of scen armed with muskets, etc., and a negro church on fire. There was no water at hand and the church was entirely consumed. Just after the fire at the colored church a colored man named Ren Watkins, aged 75. was shot in the breast and slightly wounded by some unknown parties.

Several negroes, who claimed to have formed part of the excursion party, being interviewed, state that when the train was nearing the Gouldsboro depot it was fired on by men who were secreted along the line of the railroad track, and when the shooting commenced the train was yet in motion, and as soon as it stopped a general stampede took place. The place where the shooting occurred is not thickly settled, and all those living in close proximity of the depot, when interviewed, said they heard the shots, but do not know who did the shooting or the origin of the trouble. It is very difficult to locate a single person who witnessed the beginning of the shooting outside of the police force at Gretna. JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 3 .- The Capital Light Guards returned here late race troubles in La Flore county. They tia by a large body of white men, who were mounted and armed with Winchester rifles.

Reports as to the number of killed, wounded and captured in the skirmish conflicting. One negro is known to sarily fatal." have been killed by his fellows for refusing to participate in the uprising. The officers of the Light Guards were informed that six dead negrees had been found where the skirmish took place, but other reports make the number of killed larger.

The troops captured forty negroes and turned them over to the Sheriff of La Flore county. It was reported af-ter the troops left that one of the negro leaders had been hanged. A member of the company stated it was impossible to get reliable information as to what really had occurred. It was certain, he said, that from three to four hundred negroes were armed and vowing vengeance against the whites Saturday night, and it was also certain that a large body of white men had dispersed them and captured some of as yet be obtained of the loss of human life. His personal opinion is that the number of killed and wounded will be found to be nearer sixty than six. The white people of Shell Mound deserted taken refuge in safer quarters.

-Both the east and west-bound mall stages were robbed of all registered matter near Ager, California, on the night of the 3d inst. A reward of $1000 has been offered for the apprehension of the thieves. -The town of Flacolula, in the State of Hidalgo, Mexico has been entirely destroyed by floods. Telegraphic communication throughout the State of Hidalgo is interrupted.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

-There was a collision on the Danville and New River Railroad, west of Martinsville, Virginia, on the after- within an area of 100 miles of that city. noon of the 2d, between a mixed train Telegraph poles between there and and a supply train. Both trains were badly wrecked. Adam Price, colored, was killed, and three other train hands sengers were severely hurt. Davain A. Henry, Superintendent of Construction for the East River Electric Light Company, at New York, was killed on the 2d at the company's works by receiving a shock from a 1000-volt current. Henry had gone to the switchboard and mounted a ladder to fix some wires that were out of order. He incautiously placed his hand on a live wire and fell to the ground dead. He was only 28 years of age.

-William H. Hoagland, aged 27 years, died of hydrophobia in Newark, New Jersey, on the morning of the 2d. Three weeks ago he was bitten by a strange dog, which he drove from a grocery store in which he was em-

-Samuel C. Showatler, aged 69 years, voluntarily submitted to an injection of the "elixir of life" at Dayton, Ohio, three weeks ago, to obtain relief from rheumatism. Bleed poisoning and gaugrene set in, and he died on the 2d after horrible suffering.

-Fifteen threshers were polsoned on the 2d near Tiffin, Ohio, by eating and it is feared some of them will not

-Samuel Holmes, a well-to-do farmer near Farmington, Minnesota, about quently threatened to kill him, was arrested. D. Dougherty, an attorney wife in a suit for divorce.

-Mrs. Jeannot, wife of a jeweler of Youngstown, Ohio, committed suicide on the morning of the 1st by cutting her throat with a razor. She had been in ill health for several months. Dr. F. W. Perrie, a prominent physician of Indianapolis, was found dead in his office on the 1st. Circumstances indicate that he was either foully dealt with or committed suicide.

-Labor Day was generally observed on the 2d. In most cities business was almost wholly suspended, and the labor organizations had parades and picnics. -"Tim" Dyer, one of the most notorious desperadoes in West Indian Territory, was shot and fatally wounded on the 1st at the mouth of Allen Bayou, by John McHenry. -A prairie fire in Minnesota is reported to be sweeping the bottom lands around Big Stone City and threatening that town. Hundreds of farmers have lost all their hay and stock. The fire Rainy stated that for a time he and was started by a party of hunters a few

A collision occurred on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, near Lindfield, Pa., on the morning of the 3d. A hand truck on which a number An alarm of fire was turned in. The of Italian laborers were proceeding to their work was struck by a locomotive of a freight train. Francesco di Domenico was killed and five others were badly bruised. The caboose of a tarin on the Virginia Midland Railroad left the track on the afternoon of the 3d and rolled down an embankment, near Accotink, Virginia. J. A. Rainey and Ashton Rainey, brothers and well-known cattle drovers, of Warrenton, were killed. Conductor Faulkner was badly injured.

> -Harvey Needham, aged 22 years, was found dead near Franklin Furnace, Pa., on the 2d. He left home on the 29th ult., to go hunting. It seems that he fell from a tree top, where he had climbed to get a squirrel he had and killed by a train on the Philadelkilled.

-The Coroner held an inquest in Bessemer, Michigan, on the 2d, on the body of Mr. Fleishbein, who was killed by Holzhay, the stage robber. The jury found a verdict in accordance with the evidence, and recommended that Holzhay be held for trial at the next term of court, which will be in October. John H. Malon was fatally stabbed by John Brophy at a picuic near Paterson, New Jersey, on the this afternoon from the scene of the evening of the 2d. Deputy Sheriff Jacobs was on the 3d shot and woundleft Winter City yesterday, and report ed at Franklin, Louisiana. It is assertthat an armed mob of 275 negroes was ed that he had been "troublesome at dispersed before the arrival of the mili- the polls," that neither the Commissioners nor bystanders knew he was a Deputy Sheriff, and that "when leaving the court he muttered threats and drew his pistol, making a murderous assault, and was shot down before he by which the negroes were dispered are | could fire." The wound "is not neces-

-Mr. George Coons died in Little Sandusky, Ohio, on the 3d, of what the doctors pronounce genuine Asiatic The people there are greatly excited, and many are leaving the village. A malignant type of typhoid fever has made its appearance in Connersville, Indiana. There are 17 cases at the Orr boarding house. Typhoid fever prevails at Dundee, Indiana. Several deaths have occurred. Smallpox is reported to be epidemic in Guatemala.

George W. Williams and James H. Clark have been arrested at Alexander Station, Kentucky, for dealing in and manufacturing counterfeit silver dollars. The post-office at Moline, Illi-nois, was robbed on the morning of the 3d of $2100 in postage stamps, cash their leaders, but no true account could and registered letters. Max Jacobson, a young man, Superintendent of the Fidelity and Casualty Company of Chicago, was arrested on the evening of the 3d, on complaint of W. M. Alexander, President of the company, on that bamlet Saturday night and have the charge of embezzling its funds. It appears that Jacobson lived in extravagant style, and was addicted to betting on horse races. The amount of his stealings is said to be "far in the thousands." An investigation shows that Jacobson came from Austria where his father is a count and a banker, and that he had been a criminal before, and that he had served a of the 3d by morphine given him by a four-year term in the Joliet peniten-druggist for quinine. He is 72 years nal before, and that he had served a tlary for forgery.

-Reports from North Dakota and portions of Minnesota have be received telling of a heavy storm on the evening of the 3d. Grand Forks says a terrific electrical and wind storm prevailed on the evening of the 3d Fargo were blown down and communication interrupted. The damage in the neighborhood is thought to be were badly injured. None of the pas- heavy. The weather is now wintry in nature, and it is feared considerable damage will result. -Professor Sylvester, while driving to his residence, north of Princeton, New Jersey, on the evening of the 3d, was run into by a runaway team going in the same direction. His vehicle was wrecked and the professor was thrown violently to the ground, sustaining serious internal injuries and terrible lacerations about the head and body.

-Frank Havens, 38 years of age, dropped dead in Council Bluffs, Iowa, on the evening of the 3d. A postmortem examination showed that his heart was on the right side, and his death was caused by a rupture of that organ. John and Edward Brocher and Charles Bluhme were drowned in Lake Michigan, on the 4th, while fishing. Two children of David Guy set fire to a barn at Blue Springs, Nebraska, on the 3d, and perished in the building. They were playing with matches. George Dilhof died in Cincinnati, on the evening of the 3d, while under the influence of chloroform, administered for the purpose of amputating an injured thumb. Two physiclans gave him a teaspoonful of the drug. Dilhof was a young married man. -A strange and fatal epizooty among hogs is reported from Clark county, Illinois. The symptons resemble those of typhoid fever in the human being, and the animals sometimes linger for many days, finally perishing of starvation as much as anything else, for they will eat nothing. No remedy can be found, and farmers are in despair. Epizooty has broken out among the mules in the Henry Colliery in Wilkesbarre, Pa., operated by the Lehigh raggled garments had been removed, Valley Coal Company, and work was consciousness had returned. suspended on the 4th in consequence.

-The Log College celebration in commemoration of the movements incident to the planting of the Presbyterian Church in this country took place on the 5th, near Hartsville, in Bucks county, Pa., and attracted to the site about twelve thousand people. President Harrison and his party left Postmaster prise awaited Tim. General Wanamaker's house at Jenkintown shortly after nine o'clock and drove to Hartsville, a distance of nine miles. Along the entire route flags and bunting were displayed, and at Abing- | me." ton and Hatboro especial demonstrations of welcome were mode. The exercises near the site of the Log pesides historical and other papers by prominent Presbyterian clergymen,

-A 25-pound can of dynamite which was being soldered by two men on a Government lighter at the mouth of the St. Johns river, Florida, exploded on the morning of the 5th, blowing the men to atoms. The victims were R. T. Moore, a son of the Captain of the lighter, and Grandison Powell, colored. Nothing of them, except one toe of Moore was found after the explosion Engineer Dunn, of the lighter, was badly injured in the side and arm, and Captain Moore was terribly shaken up. The shock of the explosion was felt for a considerable distance and created much alarm among the men at work on the jetty at the bar.

-William Bonnett and Miss Carrie Ernest, of Baltimore, were run over phia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad, near Perrymans, Maryland, on an electric light lineman in Buffalo, New York, caught hold of a live wire on the 5th while working on a pole. He fell to a cross bar and hung there in the wires, unable to save himself, and giving evidence of extreme suffer-Perry was alive when taken down, but speecheless. He died a few minutes after reaching the hospital. Horace A. Stratton, a member of a deer hunting party in Sullivan county, New York, was accidentally killed on the 5th by Henry Fountain, one of his companions. It is thought a twig caught the hammer of Fountain's gun. -James Cabeen was killed and Winfield Scott, it is feared, fatally injured by being knocked from the top of a train which was passing under a bridge near Chillicothe, Ohio, on the They were members of the Knights of Ivanhoe, of Athens, and were on their way with the other members of the company to Columbus, to give an exhibition on the Fair Grounds. A gravel train on the Mcheeport and Belle Vernon Railroad struck a cow near Webster station. Pa., on the 5th. Several cars were derailed and demolished. One man named Robert Carney was instantly killed. His two brothers, Charles and Samuel, were seriously injured, the latter thought to be fatally. The men were all miners, and were riding on the

-Sherman Caswell has been carrying on the farm of William Cutler, at Montpeller, Vermont, since the latter's death, living in the house with Cutler's daughter. On the 4th, the daughter married George Gould, and on the 5th Caswell in a fit of jealousy shot off Gould's lower jaw. William Smith a colored cook, shot and killed his wife in Pittaburg on the morning of the 5th, and then attempted suicide. He will recover. Jealousy was the cause of the act. G. Edward Johnson, who has been partially insane for several months, stabbed his wife to death in Chicago on the evening of the 5th.

-A. C. Staley, President of the Staley Woolen Mills in South Beng, Indiana, was poisoned on the evening of age, and all efforts to bring him out of the stupor produced by the drug have so far been unavailing.

What Life is.

Life is a silvery stream, Born in the soow-white arms; We on its banks (where they seem Almost to touch and to kiss) Long for the mermaiden's bliss And the sait sea's soothing charms.

With lips rose-red apart. And eyes bedimmed by tears, We feel this young world's heart Beating in time to our own. And yet are as one alone In a crowd of hopes and fears. Tossed by an unrest wild, Drawn by a hope unseen-A god in thought and a child. We wander on to the end, With dread as a bosom friend, And a mist comes down between.

JO, THE BOOTBLACK.

"I'll catch an awful cold if you washes me. Please don't, mum." And the rascal of humanity answering to the name of Tim MacDonald looked up with a frightened, imploring expression into the kind face bending over him. There had been an accident in the street. A runaway horse and vehicle had plunged madly—through the crowded thoroughfare, and ere strong "Poor little fellow! he breathes! I'll carry him right over to the hospital," unconscious form.

of the street.

"Ah! an' it's our Tim! he lives in brother, an' a tip-top bootblack too, sir," volunteered one of the street Arabs, who had rushed to the scene.

few rods distant, and by the time Tim | way. had been carried thither, and his be-

But what terrors assailed the small lad when he discovered that a bath was in prospect; he had never taken a bath; he was sure it would kill him. Very quietly the nurse soothed his

"Blazes! I be most as white as snow!" he exclaimed; "I always s'posed | Certainly it was baby Maggie's only ac-I was dirt color. I bet Jo won't know complishment, and she and others got

Just what injuries the little fellow Wanamaker and Governor Beaver, who had skipped about at a very lively in the ward. rate all his brief life, was content to lie, day after day, white and still his snowy cot.

Jo, the "tip-top bootblack," his only known relative, came, breathless and eager, but in very filthy garb, to call upon his injured brother, a few hours after the accident. It seemed cruel to send him away but no such dirty specimen had ever yet been allowed to enter the spotless wards of the hospital.

"You must go," said the nurse, "and tidy yourself up a bit, Couldn't you find a place to take a bath?"

Poor Jol his horror of a bath was quite equal to Tim's; in fact, he had a very imperpect conception of the meaning of the word, but see Tim he must. Jo had a very warm place in his heart for his little brother. He rushed to the nearest pump, and performed his the evening of the 5th. Hugh Perry, hasty ablutions, then hurried back again to tle hospital.

The nurse smiled at the queer looking little figure which stood cap in hand, eagerly begging for admission. Jo had managed to remove enough of the dirt to show that he, too, was white underneath, but his face was encircled by an outer rim of brown, and his hands were decidedly streaked, being a mixture of brown and white. But he was admitted this time. No mortal nurse could resist his eager, unspoken

With a look of unutterable awe overshadowing his shrewd boy face, Jo softly followed the nurse, passing cot began to feel a restraining influence after cot, until she stopped beside the little iron bed upon which Tim lay. Charging Jo to be very gentle and quiet, the nurse withdrew to a short distance, that the brothers might feel in a measure alone. Jo looked at Tim the white-robed brother in the chilwith incredulous surprise. This little 'whiterobed, sweet faced cherub! Was this Tim?

"Ha! ha! doesn't you know me, Jo?" cried Tim, with a faint chuckle of de-

Yes, this was Tim! Such a change as passed over Jo's face, his features worked convulsively, he choked and swallowed in a frantic effort to control himself, and then stooped suddenly and kissed Tim's pale face to hide the dis-

"Ah! Tim, me darlin'," he grasped, "be ye hurt much?"

"Not much," said Tim, bravely; "me head is a bit heavy, but"-admiringly-"isn't this a foine place to stay tlemin, an' I feast o' the fat o' the land."

The two brothers had an intimate and little Tim was charmed with the princely attention which he had receised since entering the hospital. "It's jist noice here," he added.

wish you could stay with me," It was nearly night when Jo left his | the twin of me brother, but he had remained long enough to assure himself that Tim was happy and content notwithstanding his weak back and his strange surroundings. Deep gratitude swelled Jo's manly little heart, and he longed to do something for the gentle white-capped nurse, who had so quickly won Tim's warm devotion. "Good-bye, Tim, my boy," he said to his brother; "keep up a brave heart." Then, stepping to the nurse, Thank yer kindly mum, for making Tim so comfortable. I've a stand, corner or Prince and Carl streets, an' if you'll come to me, I'll be proud to shine yer boots free of charge."

The nurse thanked the little fellow, and bowed him out of the ward with a smile and a tear, convinced that underneath his dirt and rags was a right royal spirit.

Days, weeks, and months passed, and Tim could scarcely be said to thrive, The doctors finally agreed that the injury was spinal, and that the case was hopeless; that it was merely a question of time. It was thought best to keep the truth from Joe, and he came and went from the hospital a very different looking boy from the dirty ragamuffin who had first presented himself hands could stay the frenzied animal, a there. Some one had given him an old small form lay motionless in the mire suit of clothes, and Tim's representations had induced him to try the efficacy of an occasional bath.

A strangely interesting place was said the good Samaritan, who lifted the that children's ward to others besides Jo. The children who occupied the cots were little waifs who had scanty our alley. sir. I'll tell Jo; he's his knowledge of anything like real home life. Near Tim was a precious infant who had been dreadfully burned. She didn't know how to talk, but she could Fortunately the hospital was only a wink in the most jolly and ludicrous

"When I gets low in me mind," patient Tim affirmed, "I jist say, 'Wink Maggie!' an' I'm fit to bust with laffin' directly."

Indeed, Maggie's grotesque wink became somewhat famous, so that convalescent patients who visited the ward were sure to stop by Maggie's bed and fears, and performed her not very to ask her to wink. Perhaps it was the agreeable task, and then another sur- contrast between her helpless maimed condition and the deliciousness of the wink, that made it so mirth-provoking, much comfort therefrom.

Tim had been a few times to a mishad sustained was an unsettled ques- sion Sunday-school, and had managed tion with the doctors. With the ex- to glean a few items of information, ception of a few bruises, the injuries which caused him to be somewhat whispered to Jo one day, pointing with a backward movement of his thumb to indicate the direction.

"The kid with the red hair?" in-

"the poor thing's a nawful h'athen, The nurse asked her last night if she knew a prayer." 'Oh, yes,' she said; 'I niver say a prayer at home, but I always says one when I goes to gran'ma's.' So the nurse axes her to say the prayer, forces of the Republic. and she says:

'Jack and Jill went up the bill, To draw a pail of water, Jack fell down and broke his crown And Jill come tumbling after.

"How's that for a prayer?" said Tim. with lofty scorn. "I says 'Now I lay me' every night," "That is a good boy!" said Jo, with a feeling of awe at Tim's goodness and cleverness. "Ah! the poor children that live in the streets, they've little chance to learn good things," said Tim, as he shook his head gravely; "some of the new children were asked, 'tother bunday, if they could sing a hymn, an' they began to sing 'Captain Jinks of the horse marines.""

A great change had come over Tim, and Jo puzzled over it in private, and found the problem too hard for him. Tim was always the same patient, sweet-tempered little fellow, bright and good, but he was growing so wise! Jo unlike anything he had ever known before, and without being aware of any conscious thought on the subject, he day lest he should be unworthy the litdren's ward of the hospital.

"He's not long for this world, poor

"There is good material in the boy," said one of the physicians in the hos-

once."

IT is never safe to admit that your appetite is good until you know where you are to dine.

Envy is the parent of scandal, and

MOURIS PARK, built at a cost of $1, 750,000, represents a large expenditure of money for the philauthropic purpose of improving the breed of horses, But, as large and expensive quarters have been provided for the book makers, one of the objects may be to improve the breed of men by giving them object lessons in the folly of gambling.

DAY by day the record of railtoad accidents grow more bulky. It is evident that many of these accidents could have been avoided, and the conclusion. must be reluctantly forced upon common people that inattention to orders and lack of painstaking have a share in the operating causes. In all such instances carelessness is a sort of crime.

FOOLISH Skipper Charles T. Rogers, who undertook to cross the broad Atlantic in an eighteen-foot boat, made a lucky escape with his life after thirtyeight days of privation and suffering. When it is considered that a man engaged in such an undertaking is practically in the position of a shipwrecked mariner who has escaped the general catastrophe in a ship's boat, the foolhardiness of the venture becomes man-

A DESIRE to save a conditional subscription by the city of Knoxvi le to the new East Tennessee Railroad was the primal cause of the recent disastrous accident at Flat Creek, on this newly constructed line of track. The railway company has saved Knoxville's subscription of $225,000, but in attaining that end the lives and limbs of valued citizens have been sacrificed. There should be searching investigation of this affair.

MARINE engineers and constructors on the Eastern coast would doubtless like to look at the machinery of the cruiser Charlestown, with which the Pacific coast mechanics have been pottering for several months with dubious results. Her latest trial trip was intermitted, after a two-hours run, by the slipping of an eccentric. It is costing the contractors a pretty sum to learn how to put together a marine engine; but if they should get another similar job from Uncle Sam they may be enabled to do better work by reason of their costly experience with the Charleston's machinery.

THE savings banks returns for New York State show that there were nearly by the President, Postmaster General were internal, and the small urchin, scandalized at occasional occurrences $24,000,000 more due depositors on the "You see that cholld over there," he the same date of 1888, and that the average amount due each depositor was $386. These figures, no doubt, may be taken as an illustration of what is being done in other States, and such a healthy increase of deposits is a cheer-"The same," said Tim, solemnly; ing sign. It has been said that no man who owns a foot of land is likely ever to become an Anarchist; and it is equally true that every man who has a dollar put away is prompted to array himself on the side of the conservative

> AN ANCIENT COIN FOUND .- Edward Kennedy, employed on the Samuels' farm, in Windsor, Conn., has unearthed in one of the fields an ancient silver coin bearing the colonial stamp of Massachusetts. It is bright and the date and inscription are as plain as ever. On one side is the name "Massachusetts," with a tree in the centre, and on the other "New England, 1652, VI" (shillings). "The coin is one of the rarest of the colonial pieces. At the time it was struck the colonists had but little coin, because they had to send their money to England to buy supplies. Trade was carried on by barter, wampum, Indian corn and even bullets being frequently the mediums of exchange. Finally, in 1652, the Massachusetts Legislature authorized the coining of Pine Tree shillings, like that found by Kennedy."

NEW YORK has started with a committee of Finance for the World's Fair of 1892 which is fully capable of carrying it on successfully, and as the members have accepted service with a shunned wrong words and deeds every hearty spirit, the success of the enterprise seemed almost assured. If the selection of the site can be made to the general satisfaction of the members of the Finance Committee and the public, little pet!" said the nurse one day; every other difficulty, including that of "and perhaps Jo ought to know; but it raising the necessary money, appears to was hard to make Jo understand. But be easily surmountable. There is a soon the Angel of Death came, and good deal of talk of erecting perma-Tim gently ceased to breathe; there nent buildings and maintaining a perwas another sweet spirit in heaven, but manent exhibition. It would simplify matters to abandon this idea at once. and it ought to be abandoned, for the experience of the Crystal Palace and of pital; "he has shown a man's devotion. the Philadelphia Permanent Exhibigraceful tears that would persist in fall- He shall come into my family if he tion sufficiently demonstrated that likes, and I'll do for him as if he were neither exhibitors nor the public care my own son." And often in his happy for a permanent or continuous exhibihome Jo has wondered if Tim knew, tion. The expense to exhibitors if they for he was sure Tim would be so glad. undertake to freshen up their displays To-day in the same city there is a from time to time is prohibitory, while, young physician, Dr. Joseph MacDon- if they neglect to do so, the exhibition in. Everybuddy treats me like a gen- aid, who is the warm friend and helper loses all charms for the public. Illusof the news-boys and boot-blacks. They trations in a small way may be found listen to his advice with marked atten- in the small attendance at permanent tion, for they say: "He knows the free museums, although the collections acquaintance with cold and hunger, ropes. He blacked boots for a living in these if brought together for a short season only would draw crowds to examine them. If the idea of permanence should be abandoned, there would be less trouble about choosing a site, and the estimates of cost