One member stated that the counsellors had grievances which were not generally known to the congregation, and he made a motion which was carried, that they should make individual statements, before the meeting, and as a consequence, some very unpleasant facts were brought forth. Rev. Holloway, after tendering his resignation, concluded his remarks by asking the question: "Have Angela been here?" Rev. Holloway is a native of Aronburg, son of John B. Holloway, dec'd, formerly of that town.

The Phillipsburg Murder.

Further particulars we clip from the Journal:
For sometime past a kind of cat and dog life has been lived by the murderer, W. Seeley Hopkins, and his wife, Maggie, and when in liquor fights have frequently ensued. He was under arrest for assault and battery, and waiving a hearing was committed to Bellefonte, hoping to be able to get bail, and for that purpose he was allowed out of custody in order to procure it but failed. On several occasions he had expressed his intention of shooting his wife and others, and as late as Thursday last he stated to Dr. Pierce his determination to commit the foul deed; the latter doing his utmost to allay the awful state of mind he was in.
It is evident that his visit to Houtzdale did not in any way allay his anger while there he wrote the following which we have permission to print from the prisoner himself:
HOUTZDALE, Sept. 21, '89.
"I have written many statements on what I am going to do; but most of the people in Phillipsburg say I have been hoodwinked to get me out of the way." He then refers to persons whom he implicates as the cause of all the trouble, and then says, "they can't have their own way," and further charges them with criminality, further stating, "I love her to idolatry." I will die first, I want this distinctly understood I want my body sent to Bert Hopkins, 27 Stone street, Rochester, N. Y." "I hope we shall both reach heaven."
On Saturday, at Osceola and Houtzdale, he writes the following letters respectively:
SATURDAY, Sept. 21, '89.
I am in Osceola now, am on my way, whoever comes in my way when I meet Maggie and interferes will go down with her.
W. S. H.
HOUTZDALE, Sat. Sept. 21, '89.
To-night is my time. If everything is all right, I mind my words I want my body sent home just as I fall.
The next letter was written and dated, HOME.
"I wish you all good bye," and then in a postscript he refers to member- of his family and says, "they are the cause of his wife doing what she does. I hate to do a crime like this, but they have hounded me around until I am stirred to it."
His statement to us is that he left Houtzdale between ten and eleven o'clock on Saturday night reaching Phillipsburg as near as he could tell about one a. m. He then made for the house situated on Second street, forcing his way through the cellar window to await his opportunity. He stated that he had procured a pint of whiskey at one of the hotels at Houtzdale before leaving and being under the effects of the liquor, possibly slept until the morning. His wife had been in the cellar during the morning, but did not see him hiding there.
About ten o'clock as the peaceable citizens were on their way to their respective places of worship, he came out of his hiding place in the cellar to the kitchen where his wife was busily engaged washing the dishes used at the breakfast meal. Mrs. Hopkins was at first alarmed at his appearance in that way, but when he went to her, placing "his arms around her, she reproached him in anything but polite language and told him to "get out of this." He immediately drew the revolver, which is known as an "English bulldog," and fired. The shot, however, missed her and he fired a second, which penetrated her skull, causing death in a few minutes. On hearing some one upstairs he rushed through the sitting room and on seeing his mother-in-law fired the revolver, the shot striking her under the chin and went through her head. She rushed back into a room and fell to the floor, Hopkins pursuing her and fired another shot through her head, killing her almost instantly. He then ran out of the house and made for Andy Allport's livery stable, in front of which he shot himself twice in the head falling to the ground, but still remaining conscious.

Church Dedication.

The new church of the Evangelical Association at Spring Mills, was dedicated to the worship of God on Sunday, Sept. 20.
Rev. F. S. Vought, of Centre Hall, preached on Saturday evening; Rev. S. L. West, of Harrisburg, on Sunday morning, and Rev. A. E. Gobble, president of Central Penna. College, located at New Berlin, in the evening.
The building is a plain structure, 50x36 feet, pulpit recess. Belfry 10x12 feet with spire 79 feet high. The audience room is seated with chairs, and the walls are beautifully frescoed, presenting throughout a very neat appearance. Much credit is due to those who have so nobly assisted in bringing this much-needed church to completion. Special mention should be made of Messrs. Joseph Alters, James Cain and D. Luce, the carpenters, for the tasteful manner in which they executed their work.
The cost of building and furniture was $1831.93, of which amount $491.01 remained to be secured at the time appointed for dedication, and after a long pull, and the help of friends present, they were able to consecrate the church free of debt. One thing is yet needed, that is a good bell, and it is to be hoped in the near future this may be had.

The Profits.

Some one who claims to be posted, thinks the picnic cleared about $1,000. There were 200 State tents which rented for an average of perhaps $3, would make a total rental of $600. Then the income from boarding and ice cream privileges and exhibitors may amount to perhaps $600 more. The expenses scarcely ran over $200. The freight on tents is said to have been $30. The labor on the ground perhaps another $100. We suppose the state charges for the use of its tents, as it would not likely allow them to be used for private profit without compensation, either here or at Williams Grove, neither would the fair-minded gentlemen at the head of these gatherings expect it. Whatever is paid the state for the use of the tents, would have to be deducted from the proceeds, and cut down the net profits to perhaps $800.
All the boarding and other stands no doubt came out with considerably more than expenses.
Our informant alleges the flying jenny only took in about $370, 5 per cent. of which, went to the picnic management; this would not have been very fat—we think the concern took in more nickels than that. A son of Col. Thomas is said to be a half owner in the flying jenny.

A Great Trip at a Low Rate Via P. R. R.

No unformed body of men present such a gorgeous spectacle as does the Knights Templar. It is only once in every year that they assemble in a body in one of the principal cities of America and as they have selected Washington to be the theatre of their triennial convalesce this year, the double opportunity to witness the brilliant gathering and to visit the beautiful Capital City on the Potomac will be offered from every station on the various lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad at one fare for the round trip. The convalesce will continue from October 8th to 11, 1889, and tickets will be sold October 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th, valid for return trip until October 31st, 1889. Returning a stop-off within the limit will be allowed at Baltimore, Harrisburg, Williamsport, Trenton, Emporium, and Corry, as the route of the excursionist may suggest. The occasion will be one of the most enjoyable seasons of the year to visit Washington. Specific rate will be furnished by agents on application.

Train Wrecked.

The evening passenger train west on this road, in charge of Conductor Reamer and engineer Cherry, while rounding a sharp curve about two miles from Bellefonte on Friday evening, struck a cow and was thrown from the track. It ran a short distance on the ties and then the engine plunged down an embankment carrying the baggage car with it. Two persons were severely hurt and nearly all those on the train were bruised and badly shaken up. The accident occurred just this side of Humes' mill. The wreck train from Sunbury arrived shortly after and cleared up the wreck, not delaying travel. Engineer Cherry stuck to his engine all through and went down with it, but escaped injuries. The tender was upset and the locomotive badly damaged.

Accident at Hubbersburg.

Mr. Lester Markie, a well known citizen of Hubbersburg, was engaged in subduing a vicious horse, having with him in the buggy a friend named Fisher, on last Saturday. He was thrown from the buggy and received fatal injuries, from which he died at 7 o'clock on the following Sunday evening. Mr. Markie was a son of Joseph Markie, and leaves a wife and three children.
He was returning from the village of Hubbersburg with Mr. Fisher. The horse was going at a fearful rate of speed and as the turn was made to drive from the public road to Markie's home the buggy was upset and the two men were thrown out. Fisher escaped without injury, but Markie was killed. Examination by physicians showed that his horse was broken. The unfortunate accident cast a gloom over the entire community in which the young man lived.

Facts for all.

In spite of all competition the Philad Branch clothing store, remains headquarter for actual bargains in ready made clothing, for men and boys. Lewins introduced cheap clothing in Centre county, and has kept it at that all the time; he kept honest goods, no trash, and, as a rule, always sold from 25 to 30 per cent. below any other clothing store in this part of the state.
—C. P. Long, the popular merchant at Spring Mills, has gone to the city for a new stock of goods, and when it arrives he will astonish the natives for bargains.

THE PITTSBURG EXPOSITION.

We wish to call attention to that great enterprise, where one can see so much for so little money. We advise our readers to take advantage of the cheap transportation, and see the great exposition, and while visiting the sister cities do not fail to look for number 82 Federal Street, Allegheny, where one of the finest and most complete liquor stores can be seen in this country. You will convince yourself at a glance, that when you give your patronage to such a house you are sure to be well treated and get value for your money. The proprietor of said house can not afford to hypochondriac his reputation and do otherwise. He continues to sell six year old pure rye whiskey at $1.00 per quart, or six quarts for $5.00. His Silver Age has no equal, which he sells at $1.50 per full quart. All kinds of wines from $2.00 upwards, and no extra charge for packing or shipping to any place. Send for his price list and catalogue and oblige.
