MANHOOD How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure of Spermatorrhoea or incapacity induced by excessor early indiscretion.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' practice that the alarming consequences of early error may be radically cured pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

JOHNSTOWN JUSTICE

Strange Contrasts in the Distribution of Relief.

THE SYSTEM OF PERCENTAGES.

"To Him That Hath Shall Be Given," Seems to Be the Motto-A Plan Which Allows $10,000 to a Wealthy Merchant and but $1,200 to a Destitute Widow.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 14.—The payments to the widows, all in the first three classes, have been completed, the total amount disbursed in two payments being $107,083. To the orphans was awarded $65,000, most of which will be used in purchasing annuities.

The balance of the great relief fund will go to others not so needy. The Percentage Basis. A reporter called at the rooms of the board of inquiry and learned that their work in the other two classes is completed. He also learned, with great surprise, that the larger part of the money will go to the wealthy and well-to-do people. Those yet to be paid are classes four and five, in which are in-cluded the merchants, worth probably $1,000, who lost all, and the merchant, worth $4,000, who has probably as much left; also the workingman, who lost from $300 to $700, and the wealthier resideut, who lost probably $10,000 and has his real estate left. The calculation now is to pay them on a percentage, the basis being probably 30 per cent. According to this the wealthier men will get nearly all, and the poor, who have nothing, will be left to suffer. A maximum limit of $10,000 has been fixed, so that no one can get over that amount; but it contrasts strangely to allow a wealthy business man $10,000 and fix the outside limit for a poor widow at $1,200, as has been done.

An Example. How this will work is clearly illustrated by the cases of several of these who are now set down to receive $10,-000. One is that of a firm of merchants whose business and goods were destroyed. Their loss was such as to give them the highest amount. They still have remaining their business site, which would sell today for $20,000 cash, and each member of the firm has a lot on which he can build a home. One of them owns several good tenement houses that were not at all damaged and consequently very valuable, and the other, whose home was burned on the day of the flood, received his full loss from the insurance companies. They both have bonds, mertgages and railroad stocks drawing interest, and each is worth $30,-000 or $40,000.

The Poor Will Suffer. Another case is a man whose block was damaged badly, but he lost no goods in it. It is still worth, with the ground, $15,000. He also has a fine residence worth as much more. He owns stocks and mortgages and good paying investments in the west, and yet he gets $10,000 from the relief fund.

Since it has developed that the payments are to be made in this manner it has become clear that the influence of those who would be largely benefited has been used to bring about this end, in consequence of this the poor will have to suffer for what the rich will

His Haste Lost Him a Job. LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. i4.—Undertaker W. T. S. Gable was handed a note which stated that if he went to a certain lot he would find a body and asking him to bury it decently. He was almost breath-less when he reached the cemetery, and there he found Miss Victoria Brubaker, a beautiful young lady of 21 years. She was apparently dying, and an empty laudanum bottle lay by her side. Restoratives were successfully applied. The young woman is well connected. Disappointment in love caused her rash act, and she selected the grave of a favorite little nephew as a suitable spot for a deathbed.

A Minister Disciplined. PITTSBURG, Oct. 14 .- In the Methodist Episcopal conference Col. John A. Danks, the well known clergyman, was suspended from the ministry for one year and reprimanded by Bishop Foss. Col. Danks commanded the Sixty-third Pennsylvania volunteers during the late war. He was charged with conduct unbecoming a minister of the gospel. Thomas A. Blashford, an insurance agent and superintendent of the Sunday school of the Mt. Washington church, over which Danks presided, accused the latter of threatening his life.

No Dealings with Scalpers. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14 .- "The report appearing in some of the papers that the Pennsylvania railroad was manipulat-ing the return portion of tickets issued for the Knights Templar conclave at Washington and placing large blocks of such tickets in the hands or scalpers," said a prominent official of the Pennsaid a profitment official of the Pennsylvania railroad, "is untrue in every particular. The Pennsylvania Railroad company has never had any dealings with scalpers, has not now, nor ever will have."

Struck by Lightning Four Times. SHARON, Pa., Oct. 14.-For the fourth time in the last ten years Mrs. Archi-bald Rankin, wife of a farmer of this county, was struck by lightning, and with the exception of losing consciousness, sustained no injuries. Local physicians who are acquainted with the facts are puzzled to account for the wonder. Mrs. Rankin is an elderly lady of ordinary physique. She is very sensitive to the approach of storms.

Cashier Jessup Indicted. SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 11.—The grand jury returned indictments for embezzlement and larceny against Cashier Jessup, who wrecked the Scranton City bank by misappropriating $120,000 of its funds. It had been stated that Jessup would escape trial by reason of amicable

After killing his wife dead he put three bullets into his own head, all of which still remain there. The crime was planned with deliberation. He told an acquaintance that he had no work, no money, no home and nothing to live for. He also said that he would kill his wife, of whom he was insanely jealous. and then kill himself. Within a half Lour he put this threat into execution. It is said he also tried to kill his eldest son, William. Moss is 53 years old, and during the war was major of the Fourth Pennsylvania cavalry. For twelve years he was master mechanic at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western shops at Kingston.

A Miraculous Escape. incident of mining life occurred at the Brisbin shaft, on the outskirts of this At 9 o'clock in the morning Herman Trager found egress from his chamber cut off by a fall of coal. The fall closed in on him, but by striking his drills into the coal above his head he prevented it from descending on him. He finally became imprisoned to such an extent that he could not move and was held in a half sitting, half standing position. At midnight a reserving party succeeded in cutting through from another chamber and saved him. was very weak from cuts inflicted on him by the coal and from the scant sup-ply of air which he received, but he will recover.

A large number of the local Democratic clubs have arranged to keep open house while the out-of-town delegates are here.

Havoc Among the Children. GALLITZIN, Pa., Oct. 15.—Diphtheria in its worst form is playing havoc with the lives of our little ones in this place. During the past two weeks the average number of deaths was three or four per day and the doctors report at least fifty cases down with the disease in the town. Four families, with six or seven little ones each one month ago, now are childless from the sweeping fangs that fastened its death dealing substance upon their offspring. At the instance of a meeting of the borough council which was called by Burgess Tom Burns for the purpose, a committee was appointed to investigate all cellars and inspect drainage in order to prevent the ravage.

Some of the undertakers have refused to further endanger the lives of their families by handling the bodies of the dead. A Wild Night at Sea. CHATHAM, Mass., Oct. 15.-The terrific northeast gale continues with increasing force. The weather is very thick and the rain is descending heavily.
