-Mrs. Kauffman, of near Zion, died at the residence of her father, Mr. Musser, near Penn Hall on Saturday last. The lady had cancer on the breast and an operation performed some time ago in Philadelphia, after which there seemed to be hopes of her recovery, but it was a vain hope, the disease made her its victim. Her funeral took place Monday foreneous last

—It is said there is some cleaning up and ridding up about the public buildings. Then the report of the grand jury had its good effect. Things should look decent about the jail and court house. The idea, too, may be to get things in trim so the next grand jury will report all in order, which the twisters then would make out to mean that the recent grad inquest had not told the truth. Well, no matter, anyhow let things be cleaned up.

Did Dietrich do it?

The Selinsgrove Tribune of Wednes tay last contained the following particulars concerning the arrest of Martin Dietrich for the murder of Charles Haue:

The excitement created at Shamokin Dam by the brutal murder of Charles a short time. Hane, was on Monday morning given a new impetus by the arrest of Martin Eong's. Dietrich, a young man of that place who was an intimate friend of the murdered man and has been under suspicion from the start. The scene at Dietrich's home was a sad one, when he was taken there by the detective to exchange hats. When they came out his sister and the other females residing there followed them to the gate wringing their hands and crying in a heart-rending manner. His only sister was almost distracted with grief and cried after the detective, "Oh, bring back poor Martie, God knows my poor brother is innocent."

As the detective drove away with his prisoner these was an unuttered expression of relief escaped from the assembled crowd. All felt as though the first step had been taken to solve the mysterious murder.

Jacob Martin Dietrich, the accused, is 20 years of age. The following are the circumstances far as we have been able to learn which caused suspicion to fall upon Martin and led to his asrest.

He was intimate with Charles Hane; he had bought ve cartridges of the same caliber that the shooting had been done with, on the Tuesday previous to the murder; he was known to have had a private conversation with the murdered man on the evening of the from Centre Hall to Potters Mills. tragedy: he was away from the Dam from Friday to Saturday after the murder; he was known to have been out of C. P. Long. money, having tried to borrow a small sum a short time before the murder; at the dance on the night of the murder he asked the bar tender at the Ferry House for drink on tick, which was refused, whereupon he said to the bar-tender, "maybe you think I hav no money, I have some but I don't want to get it broke," he then reached into his cities and bought the largest stock of vest pocket and produced a twentydollar gold piece.

The above was testified to by different witnesses before the Coroner's Jury. The following is the way that the accused disposes of the above testimony as sworn to by himself: He admits having bought five car-tridges says he bought them to shoot a burg, visited her son Arb. in this place. dog, that he shot one cartridges at the day.

Dr. Gale On Diseases Of The Kidneys.

Dr. Gale observes in his treatise on disease that the great use of wine in France is supposed to have abated the prevalence of the gravel.

In some parts of this country where Speer's port Grape Wine is principally used, not only the gout, but the gravel is scarcely known.

Dr. La Pota relates as an extraordinary instance of the effects of Speer's Port Wine on count the grave of Dr. Daveran Wine on gout the cure of Dr. Daveran, who was attacked with it at the age of twenty five, and had it severely till he was upwards of fifty, with chalk stones in the joints of bis hands and feet, but for four years preceding the time when his case had been given to Dr. La Pota to lay season. One evening last week, as a Mr. Kline, a hired man living at Andrew Swartz's, had his horse and buggy hitched at Pleasant Gap, a valuable robe on the buggy disappeared. A few days thereafter it was ascertained that the thief had heim, where the owner found and identified his property. A warrant was then sworn out against two med of near Tusseyville, who, it seems committed the theft on that evening while passing Pleasant Gap on their way home. The parties that got themselves into this mistake, we are informed, are John Taylor and Wm. Ruble.

Ex-Senator Hall Dead.

The Markets.

The markets are anything but encouraging for our farmers; western grain rules prices and with low freight rates come in damaging competition with grain raised in the east. Wheat in the eastern markets ranges from 79 to 82 and 84.

Corn is 401/2, Oats, 26 to 28. Potatoes, choice select varieties, are offered from the west, delivered anywhere east, at 59.

The crops in the west have been good. so that there is no hope for better prices. Home wheat accordingly brings only from 72 to 75. Corn, 40, for old, while new may run down to 33 and 35. Home pats is worth only 23 to 25 if Potatoes are selling at 40, 45 and 50. Pork, live weight is selling at 4%.
