CENTRE HALL, PA., THURS. OCT. 31.

Woman Suffrage Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—The nineteenth annual convention of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage association began its practical business in the lecture hall of the Young Men's Christian association. Miss Mary Grew presided, and in the absence of the regular secretary Mrs. Pierce read a number of letters from sympathizers with the movement. Among these was a long and interesting letter describing the progress of woman suffrage in Kennett Square, West Chester and Downingtown from Mrs. D. A. Fennock. Anna C. H. Ogden wrote encouragingly from Swarthmore and Mary D. Price from Lansdowne.

Tried to Open a Bomb.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 27.—A terrible accident occurred on the Galloway farm near here last evening. A party of school boys found a bomb loaded with giant powder, which they attempted to open, when it exploded. Ten of the boys were terribly hurt. John Fitzgerald's arm was blown off and his body horribly mutilated. He will die. Four others, named Patterson, O'Connor, Rogers and Hudson, are in a very precarious condition. The others will recover.

Bartholomew Attempts Suicide.

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 27.—William H. Bartholomew, the murderer of Aaron W. Dillard, attempted suicide in his cell by hanging. He tied two towels to the bars of the iron door, then slipped his head in the loop and was strangling when the knot slipped and he fell to the floor. The night watchman heard the noise and when he reached the cell found Bartholomew frothing at the mouth, the tears rolling down his cheeks and breathing hard.

A Fatal Game of Cards.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 29.—While playing cards under a freight car and siding at Irwins, thirty miles east of here on the Pennsylvania railroad, an engine backed up against the train of cars, crushing to death James Thompson, Thomas Thompson, Robert Robinson and S. Emmons, and fatally injuring Benjamin Stubbs. Thomas Thompson was aged 40 and leaves a widow. The others are single and about 30 years of age.

A Hunter Shoots Himself.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 29.—Ernest Anglehoffer went hunting near Jersey Shore. He chased a rabbit into a hollow log and lay down to look after it. Upon seeing the rabbit he seized his gun by the muzzle and drew it towards him. The piece was discharged, the lead of shot taking effect in Anglehoffer's cheek and eye. The injuries are not fatal.

Facts for all.

In spite of all competition the Philad Branch clothing store, remains headquarters for actual bargains in ready made clothing, for men and boys. Lewins introduced cheap clothing in Centre county, and has kept it at that all the time; he kept honest goods, no trash, and, as a rule, always sold from 25 to 30 per cent. below any other clothing store in this part of the state.

Huntingdon and Broad Top Road.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Oct. 29.—The shipments of coal over the Huntingdon and Broad Top railroad during the week ending Saturday amounted 29,802 tons, an increase of 5,661 tons. The total amount shipped this year was 990,164 tons, an increase of 4,229 tons.

Flint Glass Works Burned.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 27.—Fire was discovered in the extensive buildings of the Co-operative Flint Glass association, and inside of an hour the whole establishment was a mass of ruins. Loss between $60,000 and $70,000; insurance, $32,000. Origin unknown.

Swept Over the Falls and Drowned.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 29.—William Kennedy, of Catawauque, 25 years old, while attempting to cross the Lehigh river in a boat to his work at the Thomas Iron company's iron establishment, was, with the boat, swept over the dam and drowned.

Johnstown Has a Little Flood Now.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 29.—The prospects of Johnstown being again under water are very good. Rain has been falling almost continuously for thirty-six hours, and a great many of the streets are already almost impassable to pedestrians.

Inhaled Coal Gas.

HANOVER, Pa., Oct. 27.—George Anthony and wife made a narrow escape from death by inhaling coal gas. It required several hours' hard work to restore consciousness. Mrs. Anthony may die.

Hunting for Bear.

CORNWALL, Pa., Oct. 29.—A large black bear is roaming about the Cornwall hills and sportsmen are in daily pursuit. Game of all kinds is unusually scarce in this locality.

Crushed to Death.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 29.—John Kearney, of Dunmore, driver in Pennsylvania Coal company's shaft, fell in front of a trip of cars in the gangway and was crushed to death.

Prison Inspectors Reappointed.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—Governor Beaver has reappointed John M. Maris, C. Stewart Patterson and Richard Vaux inspectors of the eastern penitentiary.

Death of a State Clerk.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—Maj. J. B. Story, clerk in the auditor general department, died here from heart failure.

Eight Stores Burned.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 29.—Fire at Dunmore, a suburb, destroyed eight stores and one dwelling. Loss, $40,000.

—Lewins beats the state for large assortment of men and boy's clothing—and he beats the world and all clothing stores in it for low prices. There's where you save from $3 to $8 on a suit of clothes.

THE WILDSEA WAVES

Make Life Miserable for the Sad Sea Dogs.

TALES OF PERIL ON THE DEEP.

The Dangerous Flight of the Schooner Morrisette Off Delaware Bay—Two Men Washed Overboard—The Captain and Two Sick Sailors Remain—Robert Grant Survives Four Days in the Rigging of the George T. Simmons.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Old Dominion steamship Wyanoke reached port from Norfolk, Va. She had a very stormy trip. When off the Delaware cape, she fell in with the schooner Morrisette, of Bath, Me., with lumber. She was in a sad plight. Her captain reported that two seamen had been washed overboard and lost during a terrific gale and that the mate had died from exposure.

The captain and two sick sailors were all that remained to work the ship. The captain, too, was in a bad way physically. He, however, declined to be taken in tow, being afraid of the salvage claim, but asked for two men and some provisions to help him into harbor.

The Wyanoke had no men to spare—at least her commander says so. A lifeboat was lowered from the Wyanoke and filled with provisions. It was manned by seven sturdy mariners, and they started for the schooner, which was a half mile to leeward. The sea was running fearfully high at the time, and the lifeboat crew put forth their best effort to reach the Morrisette, but failed, and were forced to return to the steamer without furnishing the food that was so badly needed.

The Wyanoke, when she found that she could not render necessary assistance, proceeded on her voyage. There were two Italian barks in the neighborhood of the Morrisette at the time, and they signaled the Wyanoke for bearings and were answered.

ONE SAVED OUT OF FIVE.

Four Days and Three Nights He Clung to the Rigging of His Vessel.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 29.—The picked life saving crew from stations Nos. 4, 5 and 6 succeeded in rescuing the only surviving member of the crew of the schooner George T. Simmons, of Camden, N. J., wrecked last Wednesday night near False Cape.

Of the five members of the crew who lashed themselves in the rigging when the vessel went into the breakers, Robert Lee Grant was the only one who had endurance to hold out during four nights and three days and most of the time under a terrific storm and tremendous breakers.

One by one his four comrades became exhausted and dropped into the sea. When relief came Grant was almost ready to follow his fellow seamen, for he was worn out from his long and terrible struggle for life. After he was taken ashore Grant recovered rapidly and is well.

He Stuck to the Ship.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The steamer Benefactor, of the Clyde line, which arrived here, reports passing the schooner William H. Bailey, of New York, in a disabled condition off Body Island. She was full of water and her anchor was down. Her skipper declined to be taken off, but wanted to be towed in. It was too rough for this, so the skipper concluded to remain where he was and take his chances.

Ships Report Severe Gales at Sea.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The British steamship Lisbonese, from Ceara and Para; the Italian bark Gaeta, from Bat cum, with licorice; the Norwegian bark Carle Blanche, from Pedang, and the brig Daisy, from Montevideo, met a continuation of gales during the passage, and the sailing vessels were damaged.

For Talmage's New Tabernacle.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 20.—Rev. Dr. Talmage turned the first shovelful of earth for the foundation of the new tabernacle at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A large crowd of people were present. The reverend doctor pronounced benediction over the upturned soil and then delivered an address. He was followed by Rev. Lyman Abbott, of Plymouth church, and other clergymen and their was singing by the tabernacle choir.

The Reichstag's Tame Opening.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The opening of the Reichstag was an unusually tame affair, little interest being manifested in the proceedings by those present. The emperor's speech received but faint applause and the references to the fair prospects for peace was allowed to pass in grim silence. At the conclusion of the speech, no quorum being present, the body adjourned.

In Memory of Mrs. Hayes.

CHARLESTON, 28.—Memorial services were held last night in the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church in honor of the late Mrs. R. B. Hayes, who was prominent in the work of establishing women's missions among the colored people in the south. The congregations of all the other colored Methodist Episcopal churches joined in the services.

—In spite of all competition Lewins continues to take the lead in ready made clothing, low prices as well as quality of goods. He gets ahead of all, sells more than all, pleases all, and fits and suits all.

Secretary Halford Feels Better.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—It is expected that Private Secretary Halford will leave Old Point Comfort for Washington tonight. He is much improved in health.

Seven Days' Racing at Birmingham.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 29.—The Birmingham Racing association announce a seven days' running meeting beginning Nov. 16.

Dug Through a Stone Wall.

PORTLAND, Oreg., Oct. 29.—Five prisoners escaped from the county jail by digging through a stone wall.

—What the Philad. Branch does not have in the line of ready-made clothing, is not worth having. The spring stock now on the counters is immense and goes ahead of anything you ever saw Lewins is King for low prices.
