Fearful Holocaust in an English Paupers' School.

THE VIOTIMS WERE ALL BOYS.

Those Killed Were in the Upper Stories, and Were Awakened from Sleep to Meet Death-All but Two Were Suffocated-A Boy Hero-The Girls' Department Escaped the Flames.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The boys' section of the paupers' school in the district of Forestgate, in connection with the White Chapel and Poplars unions, took fire while the inmates were asleep and was burned, with terrible results, twenty-six of the boys, who were in the upper stories, being suffocated before they could be rescued. Fifty-eight other boys were safely taken from the burning building amid terrible excitement. Two of the matrons of the institution escaped in safety by sliding down the water pipes. Several of the boys escaped in the same way. The superintendent of the school repeatedly rushed through the flames and brought out a number of the inmates. There were 600 persons in the institution.

The bedies of those who were suffocated were carried to the main hall of the building, which was still profusely decorated with Christmas greens.

The fire was caused by an overheated stove. The female department, in which were 250 girls, was not touched. The boys retired in the highest spirits, having been promised presents and a New Year's fete.

Their Cries Were Terrible.

Further reports of the fire show that it originated in a clothing room beneath the boys' dormitory. The smoke and flames issuing from the stove flue alarmed those sleeping on the top floor and they made their escape. The fire engines were promptly on the spot. The employes of an adjacent railway station rushed to the scene and rendered valuable assistance. The cries of the boys who were unable to escape were terrible. The ages of the dead range from 7 to 12 years.

A School of Incorrigibles.

A school of Incorrigibles.

The school was filled with boys who had been committed to its care because of their incorrigable habits, and altogether the inmates were of a character from which little discipline orlobedience might be expected in moments when both were imperatively demanded. As a rule, however, the boys yielded readily to the directions of their superiors, and to this fact is due the safety of scores who otherwise would have perished. Of the twenty-six who lost their lives only two were burned to death, the others having been suffocated in their beds. Many of the latter were aroused with the rest, but became stupified with the smoke and crawled back to their cots to die. A School of Incorrigibles. The Jackson Election.

The Jackson Election.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 7.—The municipal election passed off very quietly and without disturbance. Gen. Henry, Democrat, for mayor, and all the Democratic aldermen are elected. Only about fifteen or twenty negroes presented themselves and asked the privilege of voting, but on being told by men stationed near the polls to see that there was a peaceful election that their voting might cause trouble, they quickly withdrew, none of them insisting on voting. There were a great many strangers in town.

Sullivan Will Fight No More.

New York, Jan. 6.—John L. Sullivan has made up his mind to retire from the ring after one more battle. He has been considering this move since he came to this city three weeks ago and now he is determined to seek a new field. He says he will never fight with bare knuckles again, as he does not care to run the risk of violating law. If, however, the California Athletic club will offer sufficient inducements he will meet Jackson, the Australian, with gloves. Then he will quit the business.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 7.—An organization has been formed in this city, embracing in its membership all the labor and several of the German bodies.
