WHO KILLED KOSEK?

The Widow of the "Hungarian King" Offers a Reward.

HIS SUSPICIOUS TAKING OFF.

The Theory of Accident Finds Less Favor-The Remarkable Career of the Deceased-He Had Many Enemies and Hests of Friends-Important Developments Expected.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 18.—The tragic death of John Kosek, called the "Hungarian King," on Tuesday last, the details of which have already been given in these dispatches, was not, it is now firmly believed by many intelligent citizens, the result of accident. The testimony of witnesses before the coroner tends to confirm the suspicion that he was foully murdered, his body placed in the buggy and the horse started on a wild run down the treacherous road, the obscurity of whose dark shadows, and the devious windings of which his supposed assassins no doubt believed would supply an accidental theory. This is now the generally aced belief, and the community, in equence, is naturally excited and is anding that the district attorney prosecute a rigid examination.

The Murder Theory. d what gives color to the suspicion Kosek was brutally assassinated, is several motives can be pointed out, one of which might be the inspiraof the bloody crime. He was a who core peculiar relations with langarian and Polander elements, ch, within the past few years, have ked into the coal regions to the the disturbance of organized labor, was a warm friend and a bitter ny. Born in Bohemia, and naturendowed with observing qualificaand quick intelligence, as a young he traveled ouite extensively, es ally in Hungary and among certain sian provinces. e early formed attachments for the onians and a distrust, amounting to ed of the Poles. He came to this ntry while still a young man, his capital being good habits, a live n and a powerful physique. He ted into the coal regions and found loyment in a tannery in this city owned and run by a man named Led-erer, the father of George Lederer, whose name has been handled about so freely of late in connection with an alleged matrinonial escapade in New York. He received 50 cents a day and boarded with the family. His Successful Career. Kosek was a man of great industry and of saving instincts. When he left Lederer he went into the huckstering business and peddled about the mines. He continued until he started a store on his own account. In the meantime his large figure, unshaven, honest face became familiar on the streets and in moneyed circles. He invested a good deal of cash in suburban properties which he lived to see greatly rentals was a decidedly handsome one. When circumstances brought the Hungarians into the coal fields it was John Kosek who stood ready to receive them. He used his large influence in getting employment for all who came. and took good care of those who were compelled to wait any length of time before work was offered.

His E emies. Kosek's animosity towards the Poles never ceased, and this made for him many enemies among that nationality. Last year he was the main instigator in the prosecution of Adam Volkavitch, who was subsequently hanged for the murder of a fellow countryman named Bioski. Certain Polanders then, it is said, vowed vengeance upon Kosek for his bitter antagonism against men of their race. There were others, who were not Poles, who imagined they had a grievance against him on the general ground of jealousy. But Kosek was as fearless of his enemies as he was gener-ous to his friends. Certain politicians in time found reason to applaud or denounce him, for the dead man became a powerful factor in local elections.

The Vatal Ride. There is evidence that upon the night of his death he started home in his buggy alive and well. A powerful man, driving a gentle family horse that had been over the road a thousand times, no one believes that the beast ran away with him. When found at the tree he was still on the seat in his buggy with his head against the scrub oak. There was blood in the tail of the vehicle, and that part of it was higher than where his feet rested. It could not have run down from the wounds in his head. spoke was gone from one of the wheels furthermost from the tree, and one of the shafts on that side was broken.

Many believe that the vehicle soon after it started was stopped by some-body who suddenly thrust the same iron bar that was found on Thursday last among the spokes, breaking one of them. It is surmised that the victim was then dealt a powerful blow on the head wish the bar, which was afterward tossed in the grass by the side of the road, where it was discovered subsequently. The horse was probably then started up and kosek rode unconsciously to the point where he was thrown against the tree.

The Widow Offers a Reward. Mrs. John Kosek, widow of the supposed murdered man, has offered a re-ward of $500 to any one who will furnish evidence that will lead to the conviction of the supposed murderer of her husband. It is said she suspects a Hungarian, who she believes is arranging to get out of the country. Detectives are watching the departing trains for him. Two arrests will probably be made soon, which, it is believed, will throw much light on the mystery of Kosek's awful death.

Suffering Among 'ine Miners, WILESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 17.—Interviews with leading coal operators in the Wyoning region disclose the fact that the region of sclose the fact that the region of collery industry for some time is anything but encouraging. There is at the present time in this city and vicinity more actual distress and suffering among the miners than have been known for many miners than have been known for many years, and it is due entirely to the unyears, and it is due entirely to the un-usually mild winter and the steady in-crease in the demand for soft coal by large concerns in and out of this state that have until recently always used difficultie. The operators generally say that the idleness at the mines, which has been the rule since last No-vember, will be continued indefinitely.

DUCKWORTH'S ENEMIES.

United States Marshals Agrest Seventeen Chizens of Sharon, Ga. AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 18.—Yesterday morning at 4 o'clock United States Deputy Marshal Corbett, of Macon, ap-peared at Sharon, Ga., and arrested during the day seventeen prominent citizens of the town and county charged with conspiracy and intimidation against E. L. Duckworth, the new appointed postmaster at Sharon, The marshals were armed Winchester rifles when they began making the arrests, but they met with no resistance, and later in the day Marshal Corbett in-structed his deputies to lay aside the

The entire party arrived in Augusta last night and were taken to the Arlington last night. They will have a hear-ing today before United States Commis-sioner Irwin Alexander. The warrants are based on testimony taken by post-office inspectors who have been at Sharon for several days investigating the case.

War on the Speak Easies. PITTSBURG, Feb. 18,—It is apparent that the informations made before Alderman Reilly against the fourteen speak easy proprietors are only the begin-ning of a general crusade against a class of citizens of which about 200 are tiable to be arrested for illegal liquor selling within the next few days. It may be said, too, that the warfare is not being made for political purposes. The dealers against whom informations have been made are men of Republican and Democratic faiths, and those yet to be prosecuted will be informed against without regard to politics. It was rewithout regard to politics It was reported in the First ward that County Detective Langhorst had a list of ninety-six names of illicit liquor sellers against whom informations would be

The supports of the bridge had been burned away during the night, supposedly by tramps. A posse is looking for the miscreants.

He Bested Karain. New Orleans, Feb. 18.-J. J. Cor-bett, teacher of the Olympian club, at San Francisco, bested Jake Kilrain in a six round contest for a purse of $3,500, at the Southern Athletic club rooms last night. Kilrain had agreed to knock Corbett out in six rounds, but was out fought at every point. Corbett is a great youngster, well edu-cated, ambitious and is regarded in the west as the coming world's champion. He has never been defeated.

A Great Strike of British Miners.
