BISMARCK RETIRES. The Kaiser Accepts the Chancellor's Resignation.

THE STRIKING ENGLISH MINERS.

The Number Out Reduced to 150,000 by Concessions of the Masters-The Military Called Out at Liverpool. Work of the Labor Conference-Lisbon

LONDON, March 18 .- The concessions granted to their employes by the smaller mine owners have had the effect to greatly weaken the position of those remaining out by reducing the aggre-gate number of strikers and consequently detracting from the enormous importance of the movement. Nevertheless the estimates made by the employers themselves show that upwards of 150,000 men constitute the fighting force confronting them, and the fact that this formidable body is well supplied with funds and deter-mined and able leaders is also taken into consideration as evidence that the struggle must end in a compromise or victory for the men after a bitter fight and perhaps bloodshed.

That this view is taken by the masters is abundantly shown by their willingness to send a committee to meet a committee of the men on Thursday, despite their refusal to agree to a compromise at the meeting of the owners yesterday. The employment of non-union colliers in Lancashire is causing trouble that may spread to other localities. The miners are firm and the masters are equally so. As yet there has been no violence to speak of, but the bitter feel-ing is increasing and the police authorities fearing disorder have reinforced the constabulary wherever quarrels have arisen that promise to develop into active hostilities.

Both Bismarcks Resign.

BERLIN, March 18 .- It is stated that both Prince Bismarck and Count Herbert Bismarck have resigned and that the emperor has accepted the resignation of the chancellor.

LONDON, March 18 .- The Daily News' correspondent at Berlin telegraphs at midnight that all telegrams in regard to Prince Bismarck's resignation beyond the fact that there are rumors that he that Prince Bismarck has resigned, sava that something must have occurred in connection with the labor conference to have caused his unexpected action.

In says: The officials decline to forward my message.

The Labor Conference. BERLIN, March 18.—The labor confer-ence has appointed three committees on work. Of these, the committee on mines will be presided over by Dr. Hauchecorne, director of the Berlin Academy of Mines; the committee on Sun-day labor by Bishop Kofp, with the Danish delegate Tietgen as vice president, and the committee on the labor
