HIGH WATER AT PITTSBURG.

The Floods in Western Pennsylvania Believed to Be Subsiding.
PITTSBURG, March 24.—Twenty-four feet was the stage of water shown on the marks in the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers last evening, 2 1/2 feet at Davis Island dam and almost at a stand. This was the highest point reached. River men do not now anticipate a higher stage and water reports from up river points indicating that the water will soon begin subsiding.
In this city and Allegheny many cellars and first floors of business houses and residences along the river fronts are more or less flooded, but no serious damage to property or loss of life has been reported. The new grounds of the Players League ball club in Exposition park are several feet under water and will no doubt be the worse for the flooding.
Traffic on the Pittsburg and Western railway between Pittsburg and Sharpsburg is temporarily suspended. Pittsburg and Western trains, however, arrive and depart regularly from the Allegheny depot of the West Pennsylvania railway.

BISHOP ESHER GUILTY.

The Trial Committee So Determines. Suspension Recommended.
READING, Pa., March 23.—The trial committee of the Evangelical church, which has been in session here, finds Bishop Escher guilty of all the specifications in all the charges, falsehood, slander and reviling of other ministers for the purpose of creating dissensions in the church.
The committee was unanimous on nearly every point and they recommended that Bishop Escher be suspended from the bishopric and from the Evangelical association until the general conference of 1891. The matter will, no doubt, be carried into the civil court. All three of the bishops of the Evangelical church, Revs. Dubs, Bowman and Escher, have now been tried and found guilty and the general conference in 1891 will finally dispose of the matter. The trial and the verdict are to be printed in pamphlet form.

LANCASTER'S BALL CLUB.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 24.—The Active club of this city has been admitted to the Interstate League. Mr. Goodhart has signed the following players: Catchers, Hill and Myers; pitchers, Heagerty (last year of the Lebanon team), Davis (last year with the Chester and Norris-town teams), a swift left-hand pitcher, Snyder and Traub; of Manheim; first base, Klein; second base, Mishler; third base, Klein; shortstop, J. Goodhart; left field, Hostetter; center field, Shindle. One of the extra pitchers will play right field. One more strong catcher will be secured.

WALKED A MILE IN THEIR NIGHT CLOTHES.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 24.—The residence of A. H. Patterson, in Morris township, in this county, was destroyed by fire. The sleeping family was awakened by the flames, which had cut off all means of escape to the floor below. All escaped safely by jumping from the second story window, except Mrs. Patterson, who was dangerously hurt. Cold only in their night clothes, the homeless family walked a mile through snow to a neighbor's house, where they obtained shelter.

FOOD FOR THE HUNGRY.

SCRANTON, Pa., March 25.—One thousand needy miners in Scranton and the adjoining settlements have so far been assisted by the relief committee. Two weeks ago the committee opened a large store on Washington avenue, where contributions of provisions and money were received and from which food was delivered to the needy by wagons belonging to the merchants. As many as 200 applicants appeared at the store in a day at first.

JACOBS' LIFE IMPRISONMENT.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 25.—Governor Beaver has approved the recommendation of the board of pardons that the death sentence of James H. Jacobs, convicted of the murder of R. E. Quigley be commuted to imprisonment for life on the ground of insanity, and Sheriff Burkholder receive the commitment to the Eastern penitentiary. Jacobs will be taken to Philadelphia in a few days.

BONIFACE BOLD AT BETHLEHEM.

PHILADELPHIA, March 24.—Boniface George C. Boldt, of the Stratford and Bellevue hostesses, and the Bullitt Building restaurants, has added another to his list of hotels. He has acquired the Fountain Hill hotel, of South Bethlehem, and on June 1 will open the new caravansary to the public of the great iron town.

A MOTHER'S DESIRE.

NORTHUMBERLAND, Pa., March 25.—Miss Jessie Boush, of Northumberland, died Feb. 23, and the funeral was for three days later. The cheeks continued red, however, and at the close of the sermon the mother refused to allow the internment to proceed. The body has just been buried, having been kept in the house ever since.

KING'S TRIAL POSTPONED.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—The trial of Harry W. King, late prefect of the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the blind, charged in two bills of indictment with a crime in which, which was to have come up in Judge Arnold's court yesterday, was again postponed, this time indefinitely.

MONEY IN THE MUD.

JOHNSON, Pa., March 25.—The river banks are lined with hundreds of people stirring in the sand and mud, looking for valuable mud relics which were thrown up by the high water. Among the things found were a $30 gold piece by one young man and a little girl picked up $6 in gold and silver.

TRAMP, TRAMP, THE BOYS ARE MARCHING.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., March 24.—There is a general cleaning out in progress to-day at the Chester county home. It is the rule with this institution that on the first Monday after March 20 all tramps are started from the home if they are physically able to travel.

ASOLDIER'S FUNERAL

Last Sad Rites in Memory of Gen. Crook.

MANY DISTINGUISHED MOURNERS

Over 5,000 People View the Remains.
A Long Procession Follows the Body to the Railroad Station—Conveyed by Train to Oakland, Md., and There Interred.

CHICAGO, March 24.—The closing chapter of the record of Maj. Gen. George Crook's connection with the war was written yesterday when relatives and friends, comrades and acquaintances, gathered from far and near around his bier in the city and Grand Pacific to breathe a final farewell to that is mortal of the great Indian fighter and then to escort the remains on the first stage of the journey to the grave on Maryland soil.
Of over 5,000, the casket was guarded by a detail of the officers from western posts who had been summoned by the late general to serve upon the Steel court martial.
At 6 o'clock the help in all departments of the hotel, with whom Gen. Crook had been very popular, paid their last tribute of respect to his memory and shortly afterwards the doors were opened to the public. From this time on to 1 o'clock a steady stream of people of both sexes, white and colored, millionaire and laborer, and to a total of over 5,000, filed past the casket, which was surrounded with a large number of floral tributes.
The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. McPherson, Presbyterian, Rev. Dr. Clinton Locke, Episcopalian, Professor Swing and Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas.

Distinguished Mourners.

Ex-President Hayes and Judge W. Q. Gresham, representing the Loyal Legion, occupied seats at the foot of the casket with Gen. H. F. Devoles, of Kansas City, who succeeded Gen. Crook in the Thirty-sixth Ohio during the war, on their right. Facing the head of the casket were some 300 members of the Loyal Legion from this city: Milwaukee, Omaha, St. Paul and Cincinnati, together with the personal staff of the late general, the official and personal friends of the deceased being gathered in the communicating parlors. Mrs. Crook, who bore up bravely during the exercises, was escorted by Webb C. Hayes and Mrs. Reed, her sister, by Lieut. Kenna.

Dr. McPherson opened the services with a short supplication and after the audience had joined in repeated the Lord's prayer, the hymns "Rest for the Weary" and "Something for These" were touchingly rendered by the choir of the Second Presbyterian church.
Tributes to the Dead.
Eloquent tributes to the dead general's memory were then paid by Professor Swing and Dr. McPherson, who dwelt upon his faithfulness, self denial and self sacrifice; his devotion to his country and his many noble attributes of a man. The addresses were very affecting and many of the veterans were unable to repress their emotion.
The pronouncing of the benediction by Dr. Locke brought the services to a close and the remains were escorted to the Baltimore and Ohio depot at 3 o'clock, four regiments of the national guard, the Loyal Legion and the Grand Army of the Republic.

Interred at Oakland.

OAKLAND, Md., March 24.—The remains of the late Maj. Gen. Crook, accompanied by his widow, the military escort and the distinguished pal bearers arrived here in the Baltimore and Ohio train from Chicago at 2 o'clock this afternoon. They were interred in the cemetery immediately thereafter with simple ceremonies.

Gen. Crook's Career.

The first name that the Apache learned to dread was that of George Crook. Born in Ohio, near Dayton, Sept. 8, 1828, Cadet Crook graduated from the military academy at West Point in the class of '52. He was immediately assigned as second lieutenant to the Fourth infantry, then stationed on the Pacific coast. Here he had the advantage of active frontier service till the outbreak of the civil war in 1861.
He had attained his captaincy when he returned east to take command of the Thirty-sixth Ohio volunteers. His first service was in West Virginia where he distinguished himself by his activity in that broken and difficult country. Thence he was transferred to Maryland and Virginia, attracting attention by his vigor and energy, which led to his appointment to the command of the Second cavalry division in the Army of the Tennessee, July, 1863.
He quickly gained the confidence of his commanders, and, after defeating Wheeler's Confederate cavalry in the west, he returned to West Virginia to harass the confederacy with raids. Thence he joined Sheridan in the final campaign of the war and all that series of brilliant cavalry operations Sheridan had no more efficient lieutenant than Gen. Crook.
After holding quieter commands Gen. Crook was dispatched in 1872 to Arizona to settle the Apache question which had been the chief problem of Pacific department commanders since 1848. He settled it and settled it to-day. Probably no exploit stands at the credit of the United States cavalry so arduous as Gen. Crook's mountain campaign against the Apaches. At its end both horses and men were worn out, but the Apache was worn out for good.
Later, in 1875, the Sioux troubles presented themselves for settlement, and the selection of a commander to settle them fell naturally on Gen. Crook. He inflicted severe blows on the Indians at Powder and Tongue rivers. The savages withdrew to make their unsuccessful attack on the gallant General. Crook received reinforcements and pursued them so vigorously that by May, 1877, he brought them submission. Trouble in Arizona called Gen. Crook thither again in 1880. On this occasion he captured the whole band or tribe of Chiricahua. He next reduced the tribe of the Gila and within three years had them and neighboring bands self supporting.

Dishonest Milkmen Fined.

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 24.—The state milk inspectors have caused the arrest within the past few days of a number of milkmen within villages and cities along the Hudson on the charge of adulterating milk. Fines of $25 were paid in each case.

The Offut Crevasse.

GREENVILLE, Miss., March 26.—The water from Offut crevasse continues to rise and it is feared that trains on the Louisville, New Orleans and Texas railroad will have to be suspended.

Ich Causes Agitation.

LAUREL, Del., March 24.—Seven-year old child has broken out in the grammar school here and has caused considerable agitation. Several scholars have been suspended.

SMITH IN CLOVER.

Our Minister to Russia Entertained by the Famous Club.
PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—The jolly Clover club was in its jolliest humor at dinner last night because the feast was given in honor of one of its oldest members, Charles Emory Smith, the new minister to Russia. There was an unusual number of guests and a very full attendance of members, who took up the spirit of the occasion with a zest that even surpassed the sprightliness of the celebrated four leafed clover.

CHARLES EMORY SMITH.
The guests of the occasion were: Chief Justice E. M. Paxson, William V. McKean, Clayton McMichael, James S. Elverson, Gen. Felix Agnus, Calvin Wells, George Alfred Townsend, Capt. R. J. Cook and two score more. Letters of regret were read from Congressman Hill, ex-Governor Curtin and others.

THE DEATH OF GEN. SCHENCK.

His Distinguished Career as Soldier, Congressman and Diplomat.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Gen. Robert C. Schenck died at his home at 5:45 last evening of pneumonia, after an illness of but five days.
Gen. Schenck was in the 81st year of his age, and a soldier, congressman and diplomat was a remarkably long and useful life. He was born in Franklin, O., Oct. 4, 1809. He was first elected to congress in 1843 and served four terms and until 1851, when he was sent for as minister in 1874. Gen. Schenck returned to Washington, where he has since resided.

When the civil war broke out he promptly offered his services and was one of the first brigades appointed by President Lincoln in the army of the Potomac. He served with distinction as brigade and division commander until November, 1863, when he resigned to again take his seat in the house of representatives. Gen. Schenck was re-elected in 1864, 1866 and 1868, and during his last four terms in congress filled a number of important positions in the house and served as chairman of the committee on judiciary affairs and of the ways and means committee. In 1879 he was appointed minister to England by President Grant. Resigning his post as minister in 1876, Gen. Schenck returned to Washington, where he has since resided.

A SOUTHERN TORNADO.

Lives Lost and Houses Blown Down in South Carolina.
CHARLESTON, S. C., March 25.—A violent storm, approximating the force of a tornado in some places, swept over the northern and western portions of this state Saturday afternoon. Many telegraph wires are still down and satisfactory reports are not yet received.
The loss of life was small. Several negroes in one county were killed and a white man in another county was killed by a falling house. A railroad bridge over Broad river, near Spartanburg, was blown clear from its piers, five minutes after a train had passed. Many dwellings and stores lost roofs and in places the Baptist church in Sumter was blown down. Buildings were unroofed, fences leveled, trees uprooted and a Presbyterian church destroyed in Chester county.
There was a severe blow with damage to buildings in Florence, Spartanburg, Newbury and Charleston counties.

The Flacks Found Guilty.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The jury in the Flack conspiracy case returned a verdict of guilty with recommendation to mercy against all the defendants—Sheriff James A. Flack, William L. Flack and Joseph Meeks. The penalty for each was a year imprisonment and $5,000 fine. The defendants were probably let off with a fine. There was a sensation in the jury room when Dilworth (choate), a World reporter, was found concealed behind the curtains taking notes. He was hauled up before the court and released.

An Eight Club League.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The result of the confab of the National League magnates here was the withdrawal of the Indianapolis and Washington clubs, leaving the League with an eight club circuit. New York will get the pick of Indianapolis star players and thus the League presents a strong front where Brotherhood opposition is most powerful. According to the new schedule there are but seven or eight dates where the organizations do not conflict in towns where both have clubs.

High Water at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, March 25.—The stage of the river at 11 o'clock last night was fifty-eight feet two inches and rising. Four barges of coal, belonging to the steamer John A. Wood, are being driven and drifted down the river, striking one of the piers of the Newport bridge and sinking all of them. The loss will be about $8,000.

Mrs. Harrison at Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 25.—Mrs. Harrison and party arrived here and were met by a committee of citizens headed by Mayor Glenn. The party were entertained at Ex-Governor Bullock's home and last evening a reception was tendered them at the Capital City club. Today they go to Chattanooga to visit the battle field.

The Mississippi Still Rising.

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark., March 25.—The river is still rising and is nineteen inches above the high water mark of 1882. The trees at Chicago City, above here, has broken. The town will probably be entirely inundated. Many people have left and others are preparing to go.

John F. Plummer Falls.

NEW YORK, March 20.—John F. Plummer, Albert F. Plummer and W. S. Darling, dealers in dry goods at 345 Broadway, made an assignment to Jeremiah F. Murphy. Mr. John F. Plummer also made an individual assignment to Mr. Murphy.

Gen. Alger's Charity.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., March 22.—Gen. Alger, who is here attending the Grand Army encampment, will personally investigate the institution among the settlers and stands ready to contribute largely for their relief.

Two Arbor Days This Year.

HARRISBURG, March 22.—Governor Beaver fixed the 11th and 25th of April as arbor days. Two days have been fixed in the hope that it will lead to the planting of more trees than heretofore.

THE CARLISLE CONFERENCE.

The Proposition to Increase Laity Representation Debated.
CARLISLE, Pa., March 22.—Bishop Foster, of Boston, opened the third day's session of the central Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal conference in Booser Memorial hall, Dickinson college. The attendance was quite large. Very little business was transacted. Maps of the noted Cumberland valley were distributed to the ministers on the part of the Cumberland Valley railroad. Dr. Kynnet made a statement in reference to church extension.

Quite a discussion took place lasting about two hours on the proposed change of laity representation at the general conference. Stirring speeches were made by Revs. Gray, Ferguson, Biddle, Lloyd, Houck, Evans, Swallow and Monroe. The roll was called and a vote taken on the question, which resulted as follows: For the change, 31 against, 144. Nominations were made in open conference for delegates to the ecclesiastical convention.
The Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal conference opened its session with devotional services, led by Bishop Fisher. The report of the board of stewards was read and adopted.
Speeches were made by Revs. Wallow, Biddle, and others, on the resolution in reference to missionary collection. The resolutions not adopted. The question of the time and place for the meeting of the next conference, Sunbury, Mt. Carmel and York were named, and after several speeches in advocacy of the different cities, Sunbury was selected as the place, and March next as the time. The thanks of the conference were tendered the places where the conference had been invited to sit.
Dr. Leonard spoke in the interest of missionary work, and Dr. Van Meter, who represented the women's college of Baltimore, spoke of the work of that institution. Rev. Dr. Evans, of Carlisle, delivered an address in the interest of Dickinson college and especially the new Methodist church now in course of erection, and asked the ministers to help them. About $1,800 was subscribed.

Wilkesbarre Wants No Help.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 25.—Mayor C. B. Sutton, of this city, is in receipt of innumerable letters from the cities of this state, New York, New Jersey and other states asking if any help is needed in relieving the distress of the mining population. Some of the generous offers of assistance have been received, but to all he answers that no such aid is needed. Wilkesbarre is an exceptionally rich city, and her people are very generous in all such cases, so she is able to care for all her own poor. The mayor is not pleased that any idea to the contrary should get abroad, but highly appreciates the benevolent spirit which prompts the kind offers.

Brewers' No Protests.

HARRISBURG, March 22.—The brewers of the state are generally resisting the tax on their capital stock, because as manufacturing corporations or firms, they cannot be constitutionally taxed in other manufacturing concerns are exempt from this species of taxation. Twelve appeals were filed in the probatory's office in this city from as many brewing companies from the settlements made against them by the auditor general. The capital stock of all complaining companies reaches about $5,000,000, and the tax aggregates about $15,000.

Joyful News for the Miners.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 25.—The Susquehanna Coal company posted notices that from April 1 the company's mines at Nanticoke will work full time during the whole season. The 5,000 miners who have been on the verge of starvation for months are nearly wild with joy, and every humble home in Nanticoke is a place of thankfulness and happiness. The notice states that canal navigation will open about the time named, and unless some catastrophe like last May's flood occurs there will be full work during the spring and summer.

They Want a Foreman Discharged.

PITTSBURG, March 25.—The employees of the Pennsylvania Tube works, 500 men in all, struck last night. The men wanted Night Foreman George Graham discharged because he dismissed several workmen for getting drunk on duty. The superintendent of the works refused to discharge Graham and the men quit work. A conference between the men and the firm will be held today, when the matter may be settled by arbitration.

Accident in a Colliery.

SHELDON, Pa., March 25.—The rope of the coal plane at the Indian Ridge colliery broke and a loaded car was liberated dashed from the top to the bottom of the plane and killed Michael Murtikan, a Polish laborer. A young man named Robert Tempel was severely injured. Several men barely escaped with their lives.

Asphyxiated by Coal Gas.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 22.—The family of Samuel Watson, a farmer of Cole-run township, were asphyxiated by coal gas which escaped from the kitchen stove. The wife and child were resuscitated, but Watson was beyond hope of recovery.

Only Three Applicants Refused.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 22.—The liquor license question is settled for another year. Of the thirty-one applicants only three were refused, two because the houses were not necessary and the other for the violation of the law.

A Judge's Liquor License Revoked.

HARRISBURG, March 22.—Judge Barne, of the Perry county court, has revoked the liquor license of Associate Judge Woods, which was granted in the absence of the president judge by the two associates.

The Judges Disagree.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 22.—The judges in Huntingdon county do not agree on the liquor question and the president judge proposes to issue licenses despite the protests of his associates.

Two Arbor Days This Year.

HARRISBURG, March 22.—Governor Beaver fixed the 11th and 25th of April as arbor days. Two days have been fixed in the hope that it will lead to the planting of more trees than heretofore.

The Philad. TIMES

This Morning?

The Times

Is the most extensively circulated and widely read newspaper published in Pennsylvania. Its discussion of public men and public measures, its interest in public integrity, honest government and prosperous industry, and its knowledge of no party or personal allegiance in treating public questions, are its broadest and best sense a family and general newspaper.

The News of the World.

The Times has all the facilities of advanced journalism for gathering news from all the quarters of the globe. In addition to the Associated Press, now covering the whole world in its scope, making it the perfection of a newspaper, with everything carefully edited to occupy the smallest space.

The Sunday Edition

Is not only a complete newspaper, but a Magazine of Popular Literature. In sixteen large pages, clearly printed and attractively illustrated, contains as much good literature, by the foremost writers of the world, as any of the popular monthlies. Some of the newspapers in New York, Boston and Chicago print a greater number of pages upon Sunday, but these are for the most part occupied with advertisements. The merchants in those cities concentrate near by all their advertising in the Sunday papers, while in Philadelphia they have found it more advantageous to advertise on week days as well as on Sunday.

Contributors

To the Sunday edition of The Times include many of the foremost names in contemporary literature both American and European. Its contents cover the whole field of human interest with all that is freshest and best in

THE WEEKLY PRESS.

PHILADELPHIA.

One Year for One Dollar.

The Weekly Press

For 1891 will be as much better than The Week Press as the sun is better than the moon. With every issue during the new year it will be
An Eighty Column Paper
Each of the fifty-two numbers will contain ten pages, or eighty columns, with a total for the year of 520 pages, or 4160 columns. Thus, it will be "as big as a book," as the saying is.

A Paper of Quality.

Not only will it be as big as a book, but it will be a paper of quality as well as of quantity. It will contain the pick of everything good.

A Paper of Variety.

The idea is that The Weekly Press shall be both close and wide awake. It will discuss all subjects of public interest and importance. The writers on its list include Julia Ward Howe, E. Lynn Linton, Prof. N. S. Shaler, Louis Pasteur, William Black, Edmund Gosse, Edgar W. Nye, Ope P. Read, and, indeed, almost every popular writer of note in this country and a number of distinguished writers abroad. In fiction, an attraction of the year will be "The Faithful," by H. Rider Haggard; another serial story already engaged, will be "Come Forth," by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps.

A Farmer's Paper.

The best conducted agricultural page in America. Illustrations.

A Woman's Paper.

The "Women's page" of The Weekly Press is alone worth the subscription price. Its illustrations are attracting attention everywhere.

A Children's Paper.
