QUAY FOR GOVERNOR

The Senator Said to Prefer the Executive Office.

MAYOR FITLER FOR THE SENATE

Quay's Return from Florida Awaited with Interest by Pennsylvania Politicians—The National Chairman Said to Be Weary of Washington Life. Mayor Fitler for the Succession.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—Senator Quay, according to late advices, will be in the city of Washington tomorrow, and from what was heard today he will not be in the capital many hours before he will be in conference with some of his faithful lieutenants. With the senator back to his public duties, matters are likely to become interesting in the state, for the dead and alive son of a contest that has been going on for the Republican gubernatorial nomination may now in a few days assume a decidedly lively turn.

Leading Republicans all agree that State Senator Delamater can carry off the honors at the state convention, and some go so far as to declare he will be practically without opposition when the delegates come together. In this city, as matters stand, it is said the Crawford county gentleman will secure a solid defeat, or that it will be nearly a unit that the votes against him can be counted upon one hand.

Anxious to Start the Campaign. The senator's lieutenants have been anxiously awaiting his return to lead just exactly what he desires at their hands. If he wants Delamater nominated, then there will be no doubt about carrying off the honors at the state convention. Quay's close friends have been saying quietly all along that he had not, up to his leaving Washington for Florida, declared for anybody for the standard bearer in the campaign of next fall and that while they felt they knew his party, they have not been authorized to say so. Hence their anxiety for his return. His lieutenants want to get down to work and they want to know for whom they are to set up and elect delegates.

For some days there have been whisperings among politicians that Col. Quay may himself be the candidate for governor. It is said by them that the gentleman has become weary of senatorial duties and that the senate has no attractions for him, for the reason that they do not agree with his tastes, and that in addition, he is not possessed of sufficient means to keep up with those of his colleagues who are fond of society and hence are constantly having dinners, receptions and balls at their residences.

Washington Does Not Suit Him. Washington society, it is stated, does not suit Quay, junior as senator. His tastes run in a different direction and he does not obtain enjoyment in that way. According to the class of politicians who are venturing predictions and who think they see by certain signs the future movements of Col. Quay, the latter would be perfectly willing to accept the Republican nomination for governor.

A point is made of the fact that he has not declared for any candidate, and that after a while it need occasion no surprise if the announcement he has been making on the state shouting his name for the place and declaring him as the man for the honor. The gubernatorial chair, it is held, would suit him vastly better than a seat in the senate, and he would still be the leader in the state without any of the annoyances he has been enduring at the national capital.

Fitter for Senator. The whispering is that in the event of Quay becoming the chief executive of the commonwealth the honor of serving out his term in the United States senate would be transferred to Mayor Fitler, who, it is said, would be glad to have a seat in that body. The mayor and the senator, according to the quiet talk that is going on, are in hearty accord upon political matters, and the former, it is stated, is disposed to assist the latter in the furtherance of any of his plans.

By the aid of the mayor, as the story goes, the senator and his friends could secure control of the local offices, and in return his honor would be rewarded by the latter pulling the strings for the unexpired term in the senate.

Cannot Construct the Bridge. HARRISBURG, April 1.—Judge Sinton granted a preliminary injunction to restrain the Philadelphia and Reading and Harrisburg Terminal Railroad companies from erecting or constructing a pier on the western edge of the water of the Pennsylvania canal, in the second ward. The complainant is the Pennsylvania Canal company, which sets forth in the bill that the canal is about to be obstructed by the defendants at a point where the width is only forty-seven feet, which is hardly sufficient for the ordinary traffic of the canal, and that the pier proposed to be constructed will reduce the waterway seven feet and be an irreparable injury and permanent unlawful obstruction to the navigation of said canal. Thursday, April 3, was fixed for the hearing.

Buying Valley Forge. HARRISBURG, Pa., March 31.—The state camp of the Patriotic Sons of America concluded negotiations for the purchase of another slice of the historic ground at Valley Forge, occupied by Washington's encampment. The tract purchased includes the original Washington Springs, located in the rear of the headquarters house, already owned by the state, and consists of three acres. The price paid was $1,500.

The Lehigh Valley's Extension. PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—The Lehigh Valley engineers are engaged in surveying several lines between this city and Bethlehem for the projected Philadelphia extension. One corps of engineers is at work in Montgomery county and another is locating a line through Bucks county, passing through Danbrough and the eastern limits of Doylestown.

An Opera House Burned. NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 31.—Early Sunday morning the opera house and three other buildings were destroyed by fire. Loss $50,000, partly covered by insurance. A high wind was blowing at the time of the fire and for a time threatened the destruction of the city. It is believed that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Another Flood Victim Found. JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 31.—The body of a female flood victim was found at Conemaugh Furnace. It is unknown.

AN ALARMIN' SITUATION.

A Large Territory Doomed—2,000 People Rooting on House-tops.

ST. LOUIS, March 31.—Mr. J. J. Hogan, of The Memphis Commercial, arrived here yesterday direct from the flooded district along the Mississippi river. He says the situation is alarming, and that in his opinion the flood has not reached the highest notch.

In the Laconia circle, which is situated in Dushka county, Ark., and comprises 20,000 acres, the scene is a heartrending one. This strip of country is now inundated to a depth of five to twenty feet, and the inhabitants, numbering 2,000 to 3,000 people, whites and negroes, women and children, are perched on house-tops and haystacks and in the trees. Live stock not already drowned are maintaining a precarious existence with their owners in some instances on the roof of the residences and elsewhere on improvised platforms of wreckage. Starvation is telling on the cattle, while the human victims are in scarcely less deplorable condition as to food.

From Helena the entire Mississippi delta country, reaching from Vicksburg west to Shreveport and down to New Orleans, seems doomed to destruction. Mr. Hogan reports that all the people in the wide district threatened who realize the true situation are fleeing for their lives.

The City of Paris in Peril. LONDON, March 31.—The passengers from the steamer City of Paris have arrived here safely via Dublin and Holyhead.

When about 30 miles from Queenstown last Tuesday an explosion in the engine room of the City of Paris caused a leak. Her stern sank five feet deeper in the water and hundreds of tons of water poured into and filled her after at tight compartments. The engines were totally disabled and the greatest steamship afloat rolled helplessly in the heavy sea. Life preservers were kept within reach of all hands and the small boats were in readiness. There were enough of these to save all on board.

On Thursday the White Star liner Adriatic bound westward, and the little freight boat Aldergate were sighted. The Aldergate manfully undertook to tow the great Inman boat into Queenstown harbor and successfully accomplished the task.

Pilgrims to Friedrichsruhe. BERLIN, April 2.—Prince Bismarck was visited at Friedrichsruhe by 3,000 residents of Hamburg. The ex-chancellor in receiving them was attired in full military uniform. Last evening 1,100 persons bearing torches and accompanied by bands of music playing national airs marched around the lake in the grounds of the castle. Preparations of unprecedented extent and magnificence are making for the celebration of the ex-chancellor's birthday today.

The New Tariff. WASHINGTON, April 2.—Mr. McKinley and his colleagues got their bill before the full committee. The treasury estimates put the reduction of the bill at $60,000,000, but this does not take into consideration reductions that will occur from increased duties. Mr. LaFollette, of the committee, says the other reductions by prohibitory duties and increased duties will put the knife in deep. On wool, he thinks, the revenues will be reduced $10,000,000 by increased duties.

Flack Goes to Jail. NEW YORK, April 1.—Judge Barrett sentenced the Flack conspirators as follows: James A. Flack, two months' imprisonment in the Tombs and $500 fine; William L. Flack, four months' imprisonment in the penitentiary and $500 fine; Joseph Meeks, one month's imprisonment in the Tombs and $500 fine; Dilworth Choate, the eavesdropping reporter, one month's imprisonment in Ludlow Street jail and $250 fine.

Defalcation of $127,000. ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 31.—The joint committee appointed by the legislature to examine the accounts of Treasurer Archer visited Baltimore and opened the box kept by Mr. Archer in the Safe Deposit company, containing the state's securities. The committee's examination showed a deficit of $127,000, not including coupons on some of the bonds not accounted for.

Bishop Eber Stands Firm. PORTLAND, Ind., April 1.—Bishop Eber, who has been presiding over the state Evangelical conference here, says he will pay no heed to his recent deposition, but will continue his labors. He outlined several candidates for the ministry. A serious question as to their standing will arise if the general conference upholds the bishop's deposition. Bishop Eber will preside over the Michigan conference on Thursday.

Chosen to Kill the Czar. LONDON, April 1.—The Telegraph's correspondent at St. Petersburg says a man committed suicide there leaving a letter confessing that he had been chosen by ballot to kill the czar, but had found himself unequal to committing the deed. His confession contained the names of his accomplices and several of them have already been arrested.
