The Harpster-Moore Nups tials.

About fifty persone assembled yesterday morning, Wednesday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harpster, in this place, in response to invitations to witness the marriage ceremony of their daughter, Miss Kate, one of our representative young ladies, to Mr. J. Wilson

Moore, of Missouli, Montana. At about half past eleven o'clock, the bridal party descended into the rooms, being ushered by Charles Harpster, brother of the bride and Miss Gertrude Miller. The bride looked the very picture goods as $100 will old stock, come to of health and happiness and was tastily attired in Ashes of Rose Henrietta traveling dress, while the groom had on the conventional black suit. The ushers stepped to one side when they entered the room and allowed the couple to pass between and face the minister, the Rev. W. E. Fischer, who then proceded to tie the knot which would make them one.

The ceremony was brief and very ims pressive. Congratulations were then indulged in, and many and varied in the extreme were they. An elaborate dinner was then served to the guests to which all did themselves ample justice.

They received many pretty and valuable presents, being both of ornamentality and ptility, and showed well the appreciation of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore were driven to the depot and took the 3 20 train for the east. They will remain away for several days. after which on their return, they will leave for Mr. Moore's home in Montana where he has business interests and enjoys a large income, expecting to arrive there about June 1. May their married life be one of unalloyed happiness is the wish of their many friends in this section.
