EASTON'S CENTENARY

Celebrating the Anniversary of Its Municipal Birth.

AN IMPOSING CIVIC PARADE

Thirty Thousand Visitors, Including Many Distinguished Persons, Participate in the Jubilee—A Balloon Ascension, Memorial Meeting and a Feast Wind Up the Festivities.

Easton, Pa., May 6.—Easton's streets were thronged yesterday by eager and enthusiastic citizens and interested visitors from the surrounding country who came to assist in the hundredth anniversary of Easton's municipal existence.

So great was the rush that each of the railroads centering here sent out from two to four special trains. In Philadelphia, Belvidere and Washington, N. J., Bangor, Pa., Arroyo, For-land, Nazareth and South Easton all works were suspended for the day and the stores closed to enable the people to attend the celebration. A partial suspension of work and business also became necessary in Freemansburg, Bethlehem, South Bethlehem, Allentown and Coalinga. As the societies arrived each organization was escorted to the hall of its headquarters, lunched and assigned its place in line.

Every public building, store, hall, private residence and every along the line of march, besides those on the many other avenues, had handsomely decorated with flags, drapery and emblemata, giving the city a grand appearance and one long to be remembered.
 Hospitality seemed to be the motto on all sides, and this was liberally extended, especially to those who were unable to secure accommodations at the overcrowded hotels.

The day was ushered in by the firing of a salute of 100 guns at sunrise, the ringing of all the church and school bells and the blowing of all the locomotive whistles that could be gathered together on the various railroads. The foaming of the cannon and the noisy locomotives disturbed the slumbers of everybody and the streets were soon crowded with people.

The Big Parade.

The parade was formed at 11 o'clock in the following order, each division being placed in line according to seniority, except the military and veterans:

Chief Marshal—Gen. Frank Reeder.
 Twenty-seven aids.
 First division, Ninth regiment, Col. M. J.
 Keck, commanding; Companies B, D, H and C of the Fourth regiment, Maj. Rooney commanding; Bethlehem rifles.
 Second division, Henry A. Rothrock, marshal—Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic from Easton, South Easton, Bangor, Keipler, Allentown, Phillipsburg and Belvidere.
 Third division, Benjamin Dietrich, marshal—Easton fire department and fire companies from South Easton, Bethlehem, South Bethlehem, Allentown, Southampton, Phillipsburg, Belvidere, Washington, Somerville and Dover.
 Fourth division, Robert H. Lorch, marshal—Old Fellows of Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, South Easton, Williamsport, York, Reading, Easton, Phillipsburg and Washington, N. J.
 Fifth division, Daniel L. Chamblin, marshal—Councils of the Senior U. S. A. M. from Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Freemansburg, Portland, Quakertown, Scranton, Stroudsburg, Higgleville, Plainsfield and Jersey City.
 Sixth division, Ferd. W. Bell, marshal—Knights of Pythias, uniformed rank included, from Easton, South Bethlehem, Freemansburg, Allentown, Belvidere, Washington, Perth Amboy and Somerville.
 Seventh division, John Manning, marshal—Members from the Grand Army of the Republic, Quakertown, Allentown, Bethlehem, South Easton, Uhartown, Kintnersville, Weatherly, Washington, Phillipsburg, Hackettston, Fredontown, Flemington, Hampton Junction and Bloomsburg. The Jersey tribes formed a subdivision of the Seventh.
 Eighth division, Owen Ritter, marshal—Councils of the Junior U. S. A. M. from Easton, Phillipsburg and Washington, N. J.
 Ninth division, Horace Betler, marshal—Knights of the Golden Eagle, Knights of Friendship and Knights of Malta, from Philadelphia and New Brunswick, N. J.
 Tenth division, George E. Dull, marshal—Camps of the P. O. S. of A. from Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Catasauqua, Denver, Pa., Coplay, Phillipsburg, Belvidere, Dover, Morristown and Trenton.
 Eleventh division, S. C. Waldknecht, marshal—Butchers from Easton, Bethlehem, South Easton and Phillipsburg, on horseback and wearing long white gloves, red neckties and high hats, coats, an old time canoe, etc.

There were thirty bands, twenty-seven drum corps and 6,000 men in line, which, with floats, etc., required just two hours to pass a given point.
 The number of visitors in town is estimated at 30,000, and with the home people, made the number on the streets about 60,000.

Each organization was accompanied by a band or drum corps. The route, which was a short one, ended at Lafayette hall, on Front street, where each organization was banqueted at the expense of the citizens, most of them business men.

Distinguished Persons Present.

The city's distinguished guests, during the parade, occupied a large decorated stand in the public square. Among them were Governor Abbott and staff, of New Jersey; Governor Diggins of Delaware; Hon. G. W.
 Delamater, candidate for governor; Justice Green of the supreme court; Attorney General Kirkpatrick, Assistant Postmaster General Hazen, Congressman Mutchler, A. K. McClure, ex-Mayor Vaux, of Philadelphia; Gen.
 George B. Snowden, Gen. W. H. H.
 Davis, Gen. W. S. Strayer, of Trenton; Rev. Eugene Leiber, of Nazareth Hall; Dr. R. A. Lamberton, of the Lehigh University; Superintendent Goodwin, of the Lehigh Valley railroad; Mayor Pritchey, of Harrisburg; Collector of the Port Cooper, of Philadelphia; Mayor Merritt, of Reading, and Mayor Lehr, of Allentown.

Professor King made a balloon ascension in the afternoon and a memorial meeting was held in the Opera house.

A display of fireworks that cost $500 was made in the evening on the island in the Delaware, after which all the distinguished guests were banqueted in the Fomfret building.

The Forestry Association.
 DOYLESTOWN, Pa., May 3.—The spring meeting of the Pennsylvania Forestry Association was begun here. Professor J. T. Rothrock lectured on forestry in the new public school house.

An Exited Boodler Returns.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Henry Sayles, one of the indicted aldermen of the board of 1884, has returned to the city.
 It is understood that the indictment against him will not be pressed.

CONGRESSIONAL RESUME.

Labors of the National Legislators at Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The senate passed the land forfeiture bill without division. In the course of the debate Mr. Sherman gave notice that he would introduce a quorum bill and the vote did not disclose the fact he would insist upon the sensible rule that senators present and not voting be counted. Mr. McKinley's customs administration bill was taken up and sundry amendments agreed to.

The house discussed at length the bill to classify worsted cloths as woollens by a vote of 128 to 9—the speaker counting a quorum.
 The Democrats will carry the case to the supreme court. The Morrill service pension bill was passed by a vote of 129 to 79. It gives a pension of $8 a month to all veterans over 60 years old who served thirty days.

The senate discussed the customs administration bill.
 WASHINGTON, May 2.—The house passed the senate bill to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies.
 The international copyright bill was taken up and went over without action.

In the senate Mr. Vest, from the select committee on the late senator's report and accompanied it with a long speech.
 WASHINGTON, May 3.—The house set apart Saturday afternoon, June 4, for enticement on the late Senator Hamilton. After a lengthy debate the international copyright bill was defeated by a vote of 98 to 126.

The senate passed the customs administration bill.
 WASHINGTON, May 5.—The house passed the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill.
 Mr. McComas, of Maryland, reported his bill to prevent gerrymandering.

The senate passed a number of private and unimportant bills. A message announcing the death of Senator Beck was followed by immediate adjournment.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The senate passed resolutions in memory of the late Senator Beck and adjourned, after appointing Messrs. Blackburn, Harris, Vance, Keena, Dawes, Evans and Manderson a committee to represent the senate at the funeral.

The house adjourned without transacting business as a token of respect to the late Senator Beck.

Gov. Hill on Contested Elections.

ALBANY, May 6.—Governor Hill sent a message to the legislature suggesting that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the people of the state for the transfer from the legislature to the courts of the power of deciding contested election cases. He also recommended action to bring the subject before congress with a view to securing ultimately a similar amendment to the federal constitution. He declares that four out of every five contested election cases in legislatures and congress are decided on purely partisan grounds, greatly to the scandal of justice. He cites as a precedent the action of the British parliament in voluntarily renouncing in 1868 in favor of the courts its right to decide for three centuries of deciding such cases for itself.

Congressional Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—At a joint caucus of the Republican members of the senate and house last night, at which Senator Hoar presided, the following members of the Republican congressional campaign committee for 1896 were appointed: Colorado, Townsend; Delaware, Higgins (senator); Illinois, Rowell; Indiana, Chandler; Iowa, Gear; Kentucky, Wilson; Louisiana, Coleman; Maryland, McComas; Massachusetts, Walker; Michigan, Stockbridge; Mississippi, White; New Hampshire, Blair (senator); New Jersey, Buchanan; New York, Belden; Pennsylvania, Bingham; Tennessee, Houk; Virginia, Bowden; West Virginia, Atkinson; Wisconsin, Sawyer (senator); Wyoming, Carey; Idaho, Dubois. The other appointments will be made at another caucus.

The Tariff Debate.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—A caucus of Republican members of the house was held yesterday afternoon. It was agreed to postpone consideration of the river and harbor bill until the tariff bill has been disposed of. Several propositions concerning the time to be allowed for debate and voting on the tariff bill were put forward. It was decided finally to allow four days for general debate, beginning to-morrow, and eight days for consideration and voting on the amendments. This will bring the bill to a vote on May 20. Night sessions will be held on the four days of general debate.

Conscientious Congressmen.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Some of the members who argued on the floor of the house against voting money to reimburse themselves out of the government treasury for the money stolen by Sillcutt in debate and voting on the tariff bill were put forward. It was decided finally to allow four days for general debate, beginning to-morrow, and eight
 the amendments. This will bring the bill to a vote on May 20. Night sessions will be held on the four days of
 general debate.

Standing Room Only in Westminster.

LONDON, May 3.—The question of prohibiting further interments in Westminster Abbey has now assumed an aspect which promises the success of those of those who have long believed that the practice should cease. A commission has been appointed to consider the matter of selecting a special place for the actual burial of distinguished persons which shall be under the exclusive control of the abbey, and interment therein regarded as conferring the same degree of honor upon the memory of the dead as burial in the abbey has hitherto done.

Stanley's American Citizenship.

LONDON, May 3.—Lord Salisbury will give a magnificent reception to Mr.
 Stanley next week, on which occasion the explorer will be welcomed by a most distinguished gathering. The statement that Mr. Stanley intends to become a British subject is unfounded.
 It is undoubtedly true that he has thought of doing so, but he is advised that his naturalization would in all probability vitiate the American copyright of his latest and most important book and will not take the risk.

A Strike Averted.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The threatened general strike of the housemiths of New York and Brooklyn has been averted, the bosses having agreed to the proposed new scale as follows: For finishers, class 1, $1.50 per day; class A, $2.00 per day; derrick men, $1.75; helpers, $2.00.
 The result was announced at a mass meeting yesterday, over which General Master Workman Powderly presided.

An Exited Boodler Returns.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Henry Sayles,
 one of the indicted aldermen of the board of 1884, has returned to the city.
 It is understood that the indictment against him will not be pressed.
