TERMS:—One year, $1.50, when paid in advance. Those in arrears subject to previous rates. $2 per year.

Advertisements 20 cents per line for 3 insertions and 5 cents for each subsequent insertion.

CENTRE HALL, PA., THURS., MAY 15.

To Our Old Customers in Penns and Brush Vallies:

When you come to Bellefonte, we would be pleased to have you look through "THE RACKET." You will find it an entirely different store from the one we had at Woodward or Spring Mills. Nearer to our ideal of what a store should be. We know how then, but couldn't. We know how now and can. No finer store in town now, and we are just commencing.

RACKET STORE Co. G. R. Spigelmyer. Shem Spigelmyer.

LOCAL ITEMS.

- Travel to the cave has begun.
- Wit McCormick was in Tyrone over Sunday.
- Miss Mame Meyer visited in Brush valley last week.
- The Reformed Classis meets in Bellefonte next week.
- Tramps have been rather numerous through this section lately.
- Gov. Beaver passed through here on Wednesday morning's train.
- An all wool suit for $6.00, every thing accordingly at the Union Clothing store.
- Landlord Bariges has recovered from his recent illness and is able to be about again.
- Linden Hall has been reduced to a flag station, which will not be pleasing to that pretty hamlet.
- Fieta Weaver, Alford Davis, and Maggie Spiece were taken to the western penitentiary on Monday.
- Dr. Gast, of Millburg, was in town this week. The Dr. is an enthusiastic bicyclist, and rides a safety.
- Jacob Shearer, we are pleased to note is slowly recovering from the fever which took him down several weeks ago.
- The Lord's supper will be administered in the Lutheran church, of this place, on Sabbath morning, 25 inst.
- $250 has been raised for the monument for Clara Price, the victim of Alfred Andrews, and bids are asked for the work to be done.
- Our townsman, Mr. John Emerick, is still digging for coal, on his farm, three miles below this place. The signs are quite encouraging.
- Mrs. Geo. Hoffer of Huntingdon, and her daughter, Mrs. Albert Mingle, of Bellefonte, were visiting friends in this place a few days ago.
- George Ocker will have the finest lawn in town when he gets through with it. He also intends remodeling the exterior of his house soon.
- D. J. Meyer and E. M. Huyett have about twenty-five men at work on their timber tract near Linden Hall, peeling bark and cutting timber.
- The following persons in Centre county have been granted an increase of pension: Aaron Smith, Philipsburg, and James Dolan, of Pleasant Gap.
- The Lewistown base ball club passed through here on the way to State College Saturday, to play that team. Score Lewistown, 4; State College, 14.
- John P. Condo, of Spring Mills announces in REPORTER his candidacy for sheriff. John is an active Democrat and has all the qualifications for the position.
- A peach orchard of 2,000 trees has been planted on the ground of D. W. Woods, near Lewistown, used a few years ago for the National Guard encampment.
- The street through town has become very bad, full of ruts, holes and large stones. The borough council should take the matter in hand and see that they are fixed up in a somewhat respectable condition.
- The United States War Department has established a recruiting station in Sunbury. Intelligent and unmarried country gentlemen are wanted for recruits. Capt. G. A. Dodd, of the 3rd Cavalry of the United States Army, is the examining officer.
- The new Beaver memorial church at Lewisburg is completed, and is one of the handsomest structures in the state. The dedication took place yesterday, and was largely attended, excursion tickets were sold on the railroad to Lewisburg, and many took advantage. The building is of stone and of handsome design.

The Census Takers.

Fifty thousand men will swoop down on the unsuspecting inhabitants of these United States on June 2 next. They will be the census enumerators, and they will ask all sorts of questions from "how old are you?" to "who was your grandfather?" Robert P. Porter will hold the reins over this team, and direct their movements from Washington. For convenience sake the country has been divided into 175 districts, and each one of these districts is under the immediate control of a supervisor, who acts as one of the superintendent's lieutenants. On an average each supervisor has charge of 285 enumerators. The superintendent receives a salary of $6,000 a year. The supervisors are merely paid for their labor with a few hundred dollars additional, and the enumerators will earn from $4 to $6 per day. This army must finish its work in one month. The names of the enumerators have not yet been made known in many places, and in Philadelphia, where there will be 821, they will not be published before the end of the present week. It will cost the government in the neighborhood of $7,000,000 to take the eleventh census. It is to be the most elaborate one ever made. It will comprise statistics upon all subjects ranging from the circulation of newspapers to the number of pigs on a man's farm. Neither age, sex, color, health, wealth, incomes, outlays, productions, things social, political, agricultural, educational, commercial, financial, that are, were and in some cases are expected to be, will be overlooked by this army of enumerators which is shortly to be let loose all over the land. Concerning each person twenty-five questions will be asked, and upon pain of paying $500 penalty for refusing, everything must be told about him, from the place of birth to the disease from which he expects to die. And the questions about a man's possessions cover the ground almost as thoroughly as he himself is covered. For each living person the enumerator receives 2 cents, unless the person be a soldier, sailor, or widow of one of these, then 5 cents; for each death, 2 cents; 20 cents for a factory or similar industrial establishment, and 15 cents for a farm.

Fieta Weaver Sentenced.

On Thursday morning of last week with other persons, Fieta Weaver was called before the court to receive her sentence and was asked if she had ought to say why sentence should not be pronounced on her according to law, she replied that she was innocent. The court then sentenced her to pay a fine of one dollar and to undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for the period of two years and three months. The Court said that if any circumstances arose in the future to justify same that he would interest himself in her behalf to secure for the prisoner a pardon.

Clinton County's Dead.

Some time since, Secretary Kremer of the State Flood Commission, wrote to Mayor Mason requesting that he forward to him a complete list of the persons who were drowned in the flood of last June, giving their full names and ages. The following is the list as furnished to the Flood Commission: Mackeyville—John Harter, aged 70; H. J. Rhine, 65; Rachael Rhine, 47; Allie Rhine, 15; Charles Rhine, 7. - Daniel Reittman, of Altoona, recently attempted to kill his wife by shooting her. He thought the wounds were fatal, so he turned the pistol to his temple and fired, dying instantly. The woman recovered, the man is buried, and an insurance on his life of $10,000, in favor of his wife, will serve to lighten her burdens in the future.
- The dam in the Juniata river, two miles west of this place, was destroyed by a dynamite explosion last Wednesday afternoon, at the instance of the Pennsylvania railroad company. Over 700 pounds of the giant explosive were used. About 200 feet of cribbing of the dam was demolished, the debris being thrown 500 feet into the air by the explosion. The removal of the dam is made necessary because of its menace to the road-bed of the company in diverting the flow of the river from its proper channel during high water and causing serious washout. The explosion killed a large number of fish.—Huntingdon Monitor.

BOGARDUS THE CRACK SHOT.

One of the Prominent Features of the 4-Paw "Wild West" Show.

It has been truly said that Capt. A. H. Bogardus is "a remarkable man with a remarkable history." The career of no other American plainsman offers a parallel to his romantic and stirring life. For years he roamed the western plains, hunting, trapping, trading with the Indians when friendly, and fighting them when on the war path. As chief of government scouts during a period of eight years, he rendered extraordinary service to the military commanders in Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. Bogardus skill as a marksman developed in his early youth. At eight years of age he was accounted a wizard with the rifle. The simple frontiersmen regarded him as one upon whom Nature had bestowed a charm, while the superstitiously inclined were certain that he was in league with the devil. It cannot be considered strange, then, that in after years the Indians looked upon him as an evil spirit, and were powerless in his presence, fully believing that powder and lead could not kill him. Bogardus made a tour of Europe a few months ago. There he defeated every crack shot in Great Britain and on the continent, and was accorded all manner of public ovations. His trip will long be remembered by his admiring countrymen. A few instances of his marvellous shooting may prove of interest—a lack of space prevents a detailed mention of his record. In less than three months, in the winter of '74, he shot and killed 5,000 buffalo, on a contract, in western Nebraska. In a contest with Brown, the California champion, in the year '88, Bogardus shot at 10,000 glass balls, missing but 25 out of the entire number, and breaking the last thousand. That he is the greatest living rifle, pistol, shot-gun and equestrian shot is a fact freely conceded by every sporting authority in the world. Bogardus and his 3 sons are the chief attractions of the great Forepaugh "Wild West" shows which appear in Bellefonte Sat. May 24. In addition to giving exhibitions of their amazing skill with firearms both afoot and on horseback, Bogardus impersonates the gallant Custer (and to the life, it is said) in the mimic representation of the Little Big Horn battle.

Minor Items.

- Geo. Emerick has one of the best span of horses hereabouts.

A Valuable Lot of Old Choice Wines.

Some time since we stopped at Passaic, N. J., and were really surprised to see the amount of Mr. Speer's stock of grape wine on hand; it is almost fabulous. Four storehouses are filled and tiers upon tiers of casks, up and down stairs, and in some cases huge vats, occupy every available spot, leaving only little alleys, through which to walk. It is a vast quantity of wine. None is sold until it has acquired the age of four years and the buildings, 1, 2, 3, and 4, are of the first, second, third, and fourth years vintage. Our Druggists have supplies of the oldest of the above wine direct from Mr. Speer.—Paterson Guardian
