Alleged Abduction of a Child.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 24 .-- Considerable excitement was created about Owl Hill, Warwick township, by the alleged abduction of a 2-year-old child by its father. Mrs. Jacob Warner, of Farmersville, left her husband some time ago because of ill health and went to live with her father, Henry Buch, of Owl Hill, taking her 2-year-old daughter with her. She died last week, asking that her parents keep the child in their charge, which they agreed to do. Warner drove up to the Buch residence and upon entoring asked to be per and upon entering asked to be per-mitted to see the child. When it was brought into the room, it is alleged, he seized it, and running from the house jumped into his wagon and drove away. No steps have yet been taken by Buch to recover the child.

HO FOR HARRISBURG Gathering of the Keystone Republican Clans. THE CITY FILLED WITH DELECATES.

Evidence of Unusual Interest in the Contest-Confidence of the Delamater Men-Hastings and Stone on Hand-Schoonmaker for Lieutenant Governor-Quay's Attendance Doubtful.

HARRISBURG, June 24.—The city is filling up with strangers. All the hotels are turning people away, because the rooms have been taken weeks ago. On every side there are evidences that more than usual interest is being taken by the Republican politicians in the gabernatorial contest.

Crowds are to be seen at every street corner, while men are promenading the thoroughfares wearing the badges bearing the names and pictures of their favorite candidates. It is safe to say there are more people now in the city than there were a year ago at the convention to nominate a candidate for state treasurer. State Senator Delamater's apartments have been crowded all day and every incoming train adds to the number.

The Crawford Candidate Confident. The Crawford county candidate is as confident as ever, betraying not the slightest anxiety as to the result on Wednesday. His supporters are not only sanguine, but are also enthusiastic. Not a man who favors his nomination entertains a doubt about his favorite's success. All the talk heard is of one character—that Delamater will lead at the start, his opponents only claiming possible success after a succession of ballots in which the field is united against

It is generally believed that a combi-nation to defeat the aspirations of the Crawford county candidate is impossi-ble, for the reason that delegates instructed to support candidates of their localities will run to Delamater at the first favorable opportunity. Shrewd politicians say the latter has the call, and appearances certainly justify their statements.

Hastings and Stone on Hand.

Adjt. Gen. Hastings and Secretary of the Commonwealth Stone have their headquarters at the Lochiel hotel, within sight of those of their formidable opponents. Both have been busy all day receiving friends, but the apartments of neither have been so crowded throughout the day as those of the young sen-ator from Crawford county. Chairman Andrews, with Secretary Frank Willing Leach and Clerk John J. Morrison, of the state committee, have established headquarters at the Lochiel hotel. All three gentlemen are up to their eyes with business. The former predicts a crowd greater than has been seen here for years attending any state convention.

There will be a number of clubs on the ground, nearly all from the interior of the state, but two coming from Phil-adelphia. Crawford county men say that Meadville, the home of Delamater, will send 200 men, while enthusiastic Schuylkill county people say that as many more with banners and music will reach here to shout for the candidate above named.

Montooth Keeping Quiet.

As yet little or nothing has been heard about Montooth, but the Alleghenian's followers will, it is said, be here in force. The lieutenant governorship has been entirely lost sight of.

Nothing has been heard about E. K. Martin of Lancaster, or Senator Waters, of Lackawanna, the friends of both for the time being concerned in the nom-ination of a candidate for governor with no thought about anything else. There is nothing yet to justify any idea that the convention will not get through its work on Wednesday, but through its work on Wednesday, but there is everything at present to war-rant the prediction that the Republican ticket for Pennsylvania will be named before the sun goes down on that day. A good deal of speculation is being in-dulged in as to Senator Quay's inten-tions. No one knows whether he will be here or not. He has rooms engaged at the Lochiel, but friends say he is un-decided whether he will favor this city.

MAGEE WILL FIGHT.

Belief that He Will Not Acquiesce in

Delamater's Nomination. PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—The rank and file of the Philadelphia delegation departed for Harrisburg by the 11;40 train this morning. A few, who were not prevented by business from making not prevented by business from making an early departure, went away yester-day morning with Collector Martin. Although deeply interested in the can-didacy of Gen. Hastings, Mayor Fitler will not attend, deeming it inconsistent with the dignity of his office to take an active part in politics.

When Senator Quay had his confer-ence in Pittsburg with the leading poli-ticians of Allegheny county, it was prac-tically decided that the Quay candidate for lieutenant-governor should be Col. J. N. Schoonmaker, of Pittsburg, the millionaire and exceeds constants

J. N. Schoonmaker, of Pittsburg, the millionaire, and ex-coke operator. Magee and Montooth evidently made the journey to New York to evade Sen-ator Quay, and it is firmly believed by those who are in his confidence that Magee's opposition to Delamater will continue of the thete of continue after the latter's nomination. The Allegheny county boss has declared that there can be no compromise with him that keeps Delamater in the first place, and that, come what will, he shall use his newspaper and his personal influence to defeat Delamater at the rolls polls. This must be taken to indicate that Delamater's candidacy means a breach between Cameron and Quay, for Magee has the ear of the senior senator, is known to be his first lieutenant in Penn-sylvania politics, and his offensive atti-tude towards the national chairman can only be construed as reflecting Cameron's own views.
