WHERE IS THE RACKET?

Is a question often asked by persons not acquainted in Bellefonte. Do you come via L. & I., B. E. V., or B. R. Railroads, go up High Street about 2 1/2 squares to the Diamond; turn to the left; pass 1st Nat. Bank, Montgomery's Clothing House, Erhard & Co., grocers, and next you find "The Racket," being the middle room of Crider's Exchange the largest and most noticeable building in the town. If you can't find it ask the first boy you come to, they are our especial friends, they say, "There is no flies on The Racket." And they know.

He found the case a very bad one, and he called Dr. H. N. Nipple, of Selingsrove, in consultation. When Dr. Nipple arrived at the home of the child, the other physician met him at the door and said the child was dead. Dr. Nipple took a little surgical knife and making an incision in the child's throat he inserted a silver tube. The child breathed at once and grew better so rapidly it was thought it would recover.

A Confidence Game Spoiled.

The particulars of a confidence swindle attempted upon Michael Grove a College township farmer, have been made public. A stranger called upon him at his home and represented himself as desirous of purchasing a farm. Mr. Grove hitched up a team and proceeded to drive the stranger in the vicinity of the State College to show him some of his farms. Near Shiloh Church, a seeming tramp stopped them and talked to them. He was shuffling cards and dealing the three card monte game. Finally he singled out a card and the stranger picked it out after they were thrown. After shuffling again the tramp bet $5000 the stranger could not do it again. The latter was successful and demanded his $5000, and to his apparent surprise received it.

Mr. Grove was then asked to bet. He at first refused, but finally consented to come to Bellefonte, where he secured a discounted note for $3000 with first-class endorsement. At the corner of Spring and Logan Streets the trio met again. The stranger offered generously to loan $2000 to make up the $5000. They all separated to meet again when the stranger should return from the hotel with the money. By this time Mr. Grove's eyes were opened, and he immediately went to the bank, lifted the note, had the endorser scratch off their names, took his own off and drove hurriedly away to his home. The stranger and his tramp confidant have not been seen about since.

Both Legs Broken.

One of the saddest accidents we have been called upon to report in a long time is that which befell Mrs. William Clark, which occurred on Saturday, whereby both her legs were broken, aside from being otherwise seriously injured. She was driving a fractious horse attached to a top-buggy down the lane leading from Schracktown to Elias Wolf's farm when the animal became unmanageable and ran off at break-neck speed. At a turn in the lane the buggy upset and Mrs. Clark was thrown violently to the ground where she lay bleeding and unconscious about half an hour. A dozen or more neighbors soon came to her assistance, and Drs. Goodman & Houtz sent for. The unfortunate woman was then raised onto a mattress and removed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Greeninger, and the wounds dressed and everything that was possible done to ease her suffering. Mrs. Clark is a very stout and fleshy woman, weighing 307 pounds, and the family is much alarmed lest she may not recover.—Sugar Valley Journal.

Trick Ponies.

Bro. Davis, of the Evangelical church, is the possessor of trick ponies, or, at least, two ponies that played a trick on him. One day last week he thought he would give his span a picnic by letting them loose to eat a little grass near the stable. Soon their heels were higher than their heads, and with a dash they went down the Brushvalley road, and when first heard from they were at Blueball, about four miles below this place, and the next information was that from there the jolly pair took to the mountain for a summering no doubt, and a grand time, a la humankind that resorts to the mountains for a picnic and a good time. The ponies were gone four or five days, without the precise locality of their whereabouts being known.

We trust Bro. Davis will again come in possession of his rollicking steeds, and that they will be found in excellent trim after a short rastication on the mountains. They were heard from later having been seen at Hecla, in Nittany valley.

The ponies were taken up at Brown's lumber camp, and Bro. Davis is happy.

The State College.

The baccalaureate address was delivered in the State College on Sunday, by the President, Dr. G. W. Atterton. The address was based upon the inquiry made to his disciples by Jesus, "Who do men say that the son of man is?" and was devoted to a consideration of the place occupied by Christ and Christianity in the history of civilization. It presented a rapid sketch of his early life and surroundings, his lowly origin, his lack of education and thus the inherent improbability that any great or permanent influence could spring from such a source. Following this came a brief review of his public teachings, the impression made by them upon his immediate followers and upon the people generally.

What is Blighting the Oats.

It is now said that the present blight upon the oats crop is due to a fungus growth eating away at the roots. The fungus grows with rapidity and draws from the root all the nourishment it contains, leaving but a cluster of dry and dead threads. After the death of the roots the top of the oats begins to turn yellow and red and in a short time the whole stalk is worthless. In some localities it is estimated that the oats crop will not be one-third its usual yield.

Newton's System of Dress Cutting.

This is a system of actual measurement, by which a correct result can be given, it is easily acquired, there being but two pieces, the square and curvatures. Each branch of the business taught thoroughly and practically. Ladies will do well to call and investigate the work. Mary E. Thompson, Centre Hall, Lizzie Fleming, Pleasant Gap. Agents and teachers.

—Ex-Sheriff Spangler, on Wednesday morning, went to the cornfield with two stone hammers and a hoe on his shoulder. We don't know what kind of a humor he was in, or whether he has a new idea of farming; maybe he wanted to knock the brains out of some Canada thistles.

—Muser's new shoe store, in the Brockerhoff House row, is now open and ready for the patronage of the public, which they flatter themselves they can suit as to prices, style and quality of goods, having unpacked the finest and best assortment of boots, shoes, gaiters, &c., ever seen in this county. Call and see them—buy or not.

—There are scarce any Canada thistles noticeable through Buffalo valley, while in these parts large spots are common on many farms. Are not Penns valley farmers themselves to blame for this, in neglecting to exterminate this cursed weed? Let the war against the Canada thistle be carried on with vigor and unceasingly, until the course disappears. Supervisors should consider it a part of their duty to keep this weed down along the road sides.

—A Mr. Ramsey was unfortunate on last Thursday forenoon, while repairing the overshoot of his barn near Pleasant Gap, falling through an opening to the ground, striking with the side of his head and shoulders, sustaining severe bruises, and rendering him unconscious for several hours until Dr. Emerick could be called. Archy, of Pine Grove Mills, Centre county, who was struck by an engine at Alleghen and his skull fractured, some days ago, and was subsequently admitted to the hospital for treatment, died at that institution of his injuries at noon Monday, aged 41 years. He was a widower, leaving one son, who lives at Pine Grove Mills. He had been a member of the Masonic fraternity, having joined the lodge of Masons at Centre Hall.

—Maj. Charles H. Shriner, of Chicago, formerly of Millinburg, was in Bellefonte on Tuesday on his way to his former home. "Charley Shriner," as he was familiarly known to all in this valley as far back as 40 years, will be remembered by many of our readers yet. He was a noted Democratic stump speaker, and a pleasant gentleman. We had an hours agreeable talk with him going over old times and by-gone political campaigns. He seems in good health and retains his old-time vim and vitality.

The Swedish cure for Drunkenness.

The habitual drunkard in Norway or Sweden renders himself liable to imprisonment for his love of strong drink, and during his incarceration he is required to submit to a plan of treatment for the cure of his falling which is said to produce marvelous results. The plan consists in making the delinquent subsist entirely on bread and wine. The bread is steeped in a bowl of wine for an hour or more before the meal is served. The first day the habitual toper takes his food in this shape without repugnance; the second day he finds it less agreeable to his palate; finally he positively loathes the sight of it. Experience shows that a period of from eight to ten days of this regimen is generally more than sufficient to make a man evince the greatest aversion to anything in the shape of wine. Many men after their incarceration become total abstainers.

A train of 160 freight cars arrived at Renova from Kane Tuesday evening. It is said to be the longest train ever transported over the Middle division. Dick Reed, one of the brakemen, declares he never saw the locomotive from the time the train left Kane until they arrived at Renova. In the early days of railroading twenty-five to thirty cars were considered a big train; for the last ten years the number increased from 80 to 100 cars. Now, by the powerful aid of hog locomotives, trains consisting of 130 to 160 freight cars are successfully hauled.

—The Pennsylvania railroad has quite a number of steam shovels at work along its line now. They prove an immense saving. One of them, one hundred and fifty men. The engine is thirty-two horse power. The shovel take up and a half yards of earth at a scoop and loads a car with eight or nine shovels full. As many as eighty-two cars were loaded in a single day at Longfellow with one shovel.

—Judge Furst has set aside the verdict in the turpentine case and placed the costs upon the county. Well, that gives the taxpayer a sigh of relief.

Uses for Coffee.

It is asserted by men of high professional ability that when the system needs a stimulant, nothing equals a cup of fresh coffee. Those who desire to rescue the drunkard from his cups will find no better substitute for spirits than strong new-made coffee, without milk or sugar. Two ounces of coffee, or one-eighth of a pound, to one pint of boiling water makes a first class beverage, but the water must be boiling, not merely hot. Bitterness comes from boiling too long. If the coffee required for breakfast be put in a grautized kettle overnight, and a pint of cold water poured over it, it can be heated to just the boiling point, and then set back to prevent further ebullition, when it will be found that while the strength is extracted, its delicate aroma is preserved. As our country consumes nearly ten pounds of coffee per capita, it is a pity not to have it made in the best manner. It is asserted by those who have tried it that malaria and epidemics are avoided by those who drink a cup of hot coffee before venturing into the morning air. Burned on hot coals it is a disinfectant for a sick room. By some of our best physicians it is considered a specific in typhoid fever.—The Epicure.

Food Adulteration.

The question of Food Adulteration is now occupying public attention more than every before, and organizations are being formed in almost every state to prevent the sale of adulterated food or drink. The following letter voluntarily given, speaks volumes for the purity of Speer's Port Grape Wine:

N. Y., June 3, 1884.
MR. ALFRED SPEER, Passaic N. J.

Dear Sir:—The result of my investigations of your Wines convinces me that they are perfectly pure and free from foreign or deleterious substances. The best I have ever tasted, and is all that can be desired in a pure Port Wine. The Unfermented is especially nourishing, and where the action of alcohol is not required it is well adapted for invalids. I speak as a physician. Your Pedro Brandy fills a want long felt in the profession for pure brandy can only be obtained with great difficulty.

A. S. COZNER, M. D.
Analytic Chemist of Food and Drink.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Prospects for Harvest.

Despite the fact of there having been too much rain throughout the country, the present outlook for crops is equal to that of any previous year, and when freed from severe frosts and fatigue, the farmer returns to the shady trees, longs for a cool drink of water. He forgets that his life is in danger from the sudden cooling of the system. In the good old times the apple jack and pure old rye were awaiting the return home and why not now? Because you fear the impurities. Let us here say to you that you can get as ever and at reasonable prices, by the quart or gallon at from $1.50 to $4.00 per gallon, neatly packed and shipped by express.
