MR. BLAINE SPEAKS.

The Apostle of Reciprocity Explains His Creed.

PROGRESSIVE PROTECTIVE TARIFF.

The Secretary of State Addresses a Mass Meeting at Waterville, Me. Extension of Trade Better Than Territorial Acquisition.

WATERVILLE, Me., Aug. 30.—About 2,500 people assembled at a mass meeting here last night to listen to an address by Secretary James G. Blaine. After some remarks by Governor Bur-leigh, President Small, of Colby university, introduced Mr. Blaine as the leader of the Republican party and a famous advocate of an interesting and progressive protective tariff."

Mr. Blaine said he was glad to speak in Waterville, since it was there he was first nominated for congress and he well remembered the gratification with which he learned that the nomination was unanimous. Referring to state affairs, he said the affairs of no other state in the Union had been more justly, more wisely and more economically admin-

In regard to the national question, I wish to declare the opinion that the United States has reached a point where one of its highest duties is to enlarge the area of its foreign trade. Under the beneficent policy of protection we have developed a volume of manufactures which, in many departments, over-runs the demands of the home market.

In the field of agriculture, with the immense propulsion given it by agricultral imelements, we can do far more than produce breadstuffs and provisions for our own people, nor would it be an ambitious destiny for so great a country as ours to manufacture only what we can consume or to produce only what we can eat. There are already in many fabrics and in many products far beyond that, and our great demand is expansion of trade with countries where we can find profitable exchanges.

We are not seeking annexation of territory Certainly we do not desire it unless it should come by the volition of a people who might ask the priceless boon of a price under the protection of the flag of the Union. I feel sure that for a long time to come the people of the United States will be wisely content with our present area and not launch upon any scheme of annexation.

Happily the great majority of our people, without stack regard to party lines, believe that the results to the American people from the protective policy has been incalculably beneficent, aggregating in a quarter of a century national and individual wealth beyond anything ever dreamed of before in the history of the world. I do not mention protection, because I intend to speak in reference thereto before this audience.

I merely wish to proclaim its victories. Without protection the United States would have been poor indeed after the ravages of the war from 1861 to 1865. With protection every section has flourished and prospered, grown and gained. Even where revenue duties have been laid with no expectation of developing industries there have in many in-

The beavy duty on silk was levied primarlly not for protection, but simply to secure a large revenue from one of the luxuries of the rich, but as a consequence of the duty the silk industry has increased so rapidly that it season. constitutes one of the leading fabrics of New Jersey, one of the largest manufacturing states of the Union. I could readily advance other illustrations to the same effect.

As I have already intimated, I am here to speak of the expansion of our foreign trade, not by any novel process; not with shock to disturb home industries; not by any mode that will invite our people to rash experi-ments, or that will launch us in doubtful and dangerous experiments. What I mean to speak of briefly is a system of reciprocity not in conflict with a protective tariff but supple-mentary thereto and representing a ficial of and energy of the American people.

We shall find it instructive and valuable to examine into the sources of our imports, the destination of our exports, and to strike a balance between the two. Take last year's —1839. In that year our whole exports to all the countries in the three continents of Chicago, last Wednesday afternoon, is dead, the countries in the three continents of Chicago, last Wednesday afternoon, is dead. Europe, Asia and Africa and to Australia, Canada and Hawaii amounted in round numbers to $658,00,000, and our imports from all these countries in round numbers to $127,000,000, showing that from that vast trade we had a balance of $129,000,-000 in our favor, equivalent to that amount of gold among our people.

But when all the accounts were closed, instead of having $129,000,000 in our favor, we had a balance of $13,000,000 against us from our foreign trade. We must therefore have lest $132,000,00 in our commerce with the countries outside of those to which I have referred. Where could we have found such a Mrge adverse balance? Let me ten you. We lost $41,000,00 in Cuba, from which our imports were $ 2,000,000 and to which our exprise were $ 2,000,000 and to which our expression were only $11,00,000. Our imports from Brazil were $60,000,000. Our imports from Brazil were $60,000,000; our exports to Brazil were running a free shop and the Knights of were $9,000,000. In Mexico we fost $10,000,000. Labor ordered the men out.

Imports from Mexico were $21,001,000; our exports to Mexico were $11,000,000.

To sum it all up,our imports from countries south of us both insular and continental on this hemisphere were $216,000,000, our exports to them were $74,000,000. The balance against us in our trade with them, therefore, is $142,-00,000, exceeding our gains from all the rest of the world by $1,300,000.

By no figure of speech can we flatter our-selves into the belief that our trade with our American neighbors is in a prosperous condition. How can this state of affairs be remedied? You have heard a great deal said within the past ten years by our Democratic friends about the iniquity of the Republican party keeping up the war tariff. As a matter of fact, the war tariff has not been kept up, but has been amended over and over again until the revision of 1883 left scarcely a trace of the actual tariff that was in operation at

We were not then studying the philosophy of trade relations but how to save the life of the nation. Money was the primal necessity and we seized it wherever we could reach it lawfully, but during the last eighteen years a great change has been made.

The inevitable tendency is, I think, towards an increase of the free list. Our great mistake was made when we began to repeal the war duties on so larg: an amount of im-

Any duty repealed was a favor and an advantage to the exporting country and we have asked nothing in return.

Instead of this course, which I must say was one of careless and wastefulness by both political parties, every repeal of duty should have been preceded by a most thorough investigation; and whenever it was found practicable to export anything from the United States and thus establish recursories of trades. States and thus establish reciprocity of trade it should have been done.

We encounter opposition to this policy from those who declare that if we enter into reciprocity of trade with one country we must do so with all countries, and thus indirectly bring about complete free trade. I do not see the logic of this, and I am sure the fact will not prove what is predicted.
We may enter into reciprocity with one nation because we find an advantage in it.
We may decline to enter reciprocity with another nation because we see no advantage

Reciprocity is simply a policy of circumstance to be determined favorably or adversely according as its operations may make
