WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS DO AND KNOW.

Gleanings of Importance from All Fields of News, Picked Up Here and There Through the State. Political, Military and All Other Departments.

Mt. Carmel colliery began operations during the war and still continues, with over seventeen miles of gangway.

Monday was the last of the naturalization court, the exact number of naturalization papers granted being 755. Of this number 580 were Republicans.

Since the marriage license law went into effect, 732 papers have been taken out in Cambria county. Of this num-ber 551 are credited to 1889 and 659 to this year.

Johnstown since the flood took place last week. One property brought $13,-100 and sold for $11,000 in May, 1888, or $558 per foot frontage.

John Ringleben and Mrs. Schneider were thrown from a carriage near Quakake through the horses running away. Both sustained severe injuries, which will probably prove fatal.

Safe robbers were discovered at work in the office of E. K. Becker & Son, in Girardville. They were engaged in drill-ing a hole in the safe, but escaped before assistance could be summoned.

John Driscoll, of Mahanoy City, was killed by a fall of coal at Primrose colliery. His legs were broken and his body badly crushed. He was a prominent member of the volunteer fire department.

Defaulter William J. Slingluff, who was arrested about three weeks ago in Norristown on a charge of embezzlement preferred by the Pennsylvania Car Wheel company, will not be prosecuted Superintendent of public schools W. H. Slatter is arranging for the annual teachers' institute, to be held in the court house, Doylestown, on Oct. 21, 22, 23 and 24. Three sessions will be held daily.

At Scranton, in the breach of promise ase of Annie Husaboe against Rev. Peter Roberts, pastor of Plymouth congregational church, found a verdict for $3,000 for the plaintiff after five minutes' deliberations.

Two Italian tramps were walking along the Lehigh Valley railroad track at Hazleton when an excursion train rounded a sharp curve at a high rate of speed and struck them, in-streets. The railroad company has no use for the property at present, but the directors decided to buy it as a pre-cautionary measure. In the future the company may want to use it as a wharf for its floats, and it will be valuable in the event of the construction of a belt The thirty-ninth annual Schuylkill county fair closed after a very successful week, notwithstanding that rain fell on the two last days. A serious accident occurred to Jeremiah Smith, an elderly man, who attempted to cross the race course as a trotting horse came along. He was knocked down, and the wheels passed over him. Blood oozed from both his ears, and it was found that he had sustained concussion of the brain. His injuries will probably prove fatal.

A party of New York capitalists have been in Wilkesbarre for some days past. Their intention is to get control of all the street car lines in that city. So far as can be learned from trustworthy sources, they have secured options on a majority of the stock in the Suburban Electric railway. The design is to com-bine them under one corporation and management, and erect an electric plant which will supply the motive power for the entire system. It is said the parties represent half a million capital.

Fleming Brothers, extensive manufacturers and dealers in proprietary medicines at Pittsburg, made an assign-The grocery store and dwelling of Edward Barrett, at Mill Creek, were completely destroyed by fire. Loss in all creditors are amply protected. It is all creditors are amply protected. It is expected that their affairs will be adsitating the suspension.

The coal trade is now very active, and it is probable that the activity will con-tinue for some time. The demand is now ahead of the production, and some of the companies have booked orders which will consume their output for some time to come. The retail dealers are busy and orders are pouring in upon them. The statement that the recent advance in prices was made for effect is not correct, as it was warranted by the demand for coal. Another advance in the near future is said to be contemplated, but this is hardly regarded as likely.

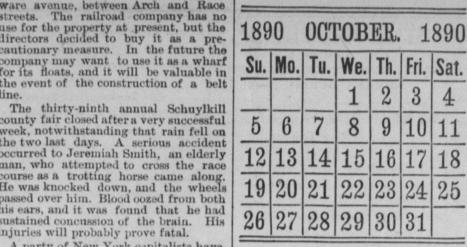

DELAMATER'S DENIAL

He Reaffirms His Innocence of Senator Emery's Charges.

INDIANA, Pa.. Oct. 7 .- Candidate Delamater spoke in the court house here vesterday and created quite a sensation by the following reference to the charges made against him by Emery and Hensel: Now, fellow citizens, before I am done I want to say a word or two personally. I had not thought of doing it, because I have said enough. But one of your citizens came to me this morning and said: "We want to hear just one word from your own lips on that subject. There have been grave charges made against the Republican candidate in this campaign." I announced publicly in Chambersburg over seven weeks ago a denial as unequivocally and as positively and as boldly as I knew how to word it. I here reiterate that denial and say that every one of these charges that have been made are not only false, but maliciously false. Some say, "Why don't you arrest your defamer and compel him to pay the

THE CASE AGAINST LINGO.

Prosecutor Jenkins Expects to Indict and Convict the Negro.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 7.—Prosecutor Jenkins is now ready to proceed against Lingo, and he will be indicted without delay. The trial will follow as soon as possible without using any undue haste. The inquest has been fixed for next Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock. Prosecutor Jenkins expresses him-self convinced of Lingo's guilt. "As for the alibi which Lingo has attempted to make out," he says, "I am now in possession of evi-dence which will blood stains on Lingo's clothing. That such stains were there I have hinted at all along. It is known that Lingo's hand was pretty badly cut when he was arrested. Who is to say whether the blood on his overalls came from the value of Mrs. Willow or his come? veins of Mrs. Miller or his own? You can't hang a man in New Jersey be-cause he has blood stains on his cloth-ing. Possibly, though, Dr. Formad can swear as to the character of the blood

At Johnsonburg fire started by natural gas destroyed Hagan's general store. Younger's millinery store, Johnston's grocery and dry goods store and a num-ber of wooden buildings. Loss, $40,000; insurance, about $20,000.

A new industry promises to take hold among Tioga county farmers. Simeon Davis, a Blossburg gardener, raised several large bunches of peanuts the past season and intends to go into the business extensively next year.

Frank Kemerer, a Renova youth, trolled the Susquehanna river with a black cricket at the end of his hook, and a black bass twenty inches long took hold. He had to drag it up the bank, and old experienced Renova fishermen say it beats the record.

Amos Bills and George Boots, colored, each about 18 years old, living on the Welsh Mountains.in this county, became involved in a dispute over some chest nuts, and Bills stabbed Boots, killing him almost instantly. The murderer es caped to the hills, but was captured.

Four female school teachers walked from Rerova to Lock Haven, a distance of twenty-eight miles, between sunrise and sunset on Saturday. They carried their dinner with them and rested an hour while eating it. They walked upon the railway ties most of the way.

At Pittsburg, as a treight train was moving from the Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston railroad on to the Pan Handle Railroad, one of the cars jumped the track and fell to Carson street, about 50 feet. Brakeman Atterbury, who was on the car, was fatally injured

The new coal storage chutes of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad com-pany at Landingville have been com-pleted today. Already 150,000 tons of coal of small sizes have been unloaded to be stored here until next spring, and thousands of tons more will be dumped before cold weather sets in.

Weather signs conflict this year with the usual regularity. A covey of ficers. outshed and the prophets predict a cold winter on the strength of the visitation. A swarm of bees have celled up a home near the top of a Sunbury oak tree and the prophets predict a mild winter.

Andrew Hunter, a farmer living five miles out from Reynoldsville, Jefferson county, has just turned the century mile post in life and hundreds assisted in celebrating the event. This patriarch took up his home in the Beechwood's settlement fifty years ago and he does a day's labor with the young men of the farm just as he always did.

George R. Green, a noted colored out-law of the Welsh Mountain, was cap-tured Monday night by officers Wittick and Barnholt. Green had been a fugitive from justice for a year, being wanted on the charge of horse stealing. When ar-rested he made strong resistance, but was finally overpowered and placed in the county jail in Lancaster.

Danie Greiner, living on the Ephrata mountain, died from poison received in drinking waters several weeks ago. He attended a woods meeting in the vicinity and while there drank water into which poison had been placed in some mysterious manner. He was immedi-ately taken sick, and lingered with terrible suffering until yesterday. He was married and had a family. The coroner penalty for his malicious scandal and libel?" In the first place, fellow citizens, did you ever know of a libel suit brought in a politi-cal campaign to result in a satisfactory conclusion? It is very easy to delay the progress of such a suit, and to press it in the midst of a hot partisan discussion to a just conclusion almost impossible.

Besides that, having as an attorney some knowledge of the law, I know that, although my accuser is morally, and, in fact, infamously guilty of lying with the purpose of destroying not only the political but the per-sonal character of the Republican eandidate, yet he is not legally guilty of criminal libel. His attack is therefore the more infamous be-cause, as he has carefully publicly ancause, as he has carefully publicly an-nounced he has only acted upon the advice of his attorneys—in a word, he has in his at-tacks upon a public officer made what is known in law as a privileged communica-tion, and no matter how false and malicious his utterances may have been, he cannot be convicted of technical likel merided he can convicted of technical libel, provided he can show that some one has given him his information upon which to base his communica-

Persecuting the Pastor.

Bower's STATION, Pa., Oct. :.-Rev. D. K. Humbert, of this place, pastor of the Lutheran congregations at Lobachsville and Hill church, Berks county, is at present a victim of what some consider persecution. Recently both con-gregations voted him out and elected Key. Warmkessel, a young preacher, in his place. The synod, however, sus-tained Humbert, and Sunday he pro-ceeded to Hill church to hold services. It was runnored that the church doors would be locked against him and he would not be permitted to enter. He obtained entrance without opposition and preached, but his audience did not number over thirty persons, while more than 100 people were outside and would not enter. Among the latter were the deacons and other church of-

No Danger of a Failure.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7.-The Harrisburg Car company issued a circular to its creditors asking for an extension of time for the payment of its indebtedness. The circular states that the failure of the Iron company of New York has thrown upon its hands notes represent-ing considerable money which it had discounted, but the Harrisburg company is fully able to take care of its interests, and its assets are three times greater than its liabilities. The works will not shut down, and there is no danger of a failure.

Rushing Grain Across the Border.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.-In view of the McKinley bill, shippers have been straining every nerve to get grain over the boundary, and vast quantities of Canadian grain have been dumped into the states so as to escape the new imposi tion. The carrying capacity of the Grand Trunk has been tested to its utmost. Every possible means of conveyance has been pressed into the ser-vice, and ordinary traffic has been very largely congested at nearly every point.

Survived 1,500 Volts.

WALTHAM, Mass., Oct. 4 .- Charles Skerrye, the night engineer at the electric light works, received the whole current of the dynamo, 1,500 volts, while making some changes at the switchboard. He was doubled up and thrown to the floor, when the assistant knocked the plug from his hand. His hands were badly burned, but he is out again, although suffering from the shock, but is not seriously injured.
