"The Racket" is today the most popular store in Bellefonte among all classes of people. There is a reason for this. The crowds that visit us daily are increasing. Bargains in fine Dress Goods and Trimmings, Notions, Novelties, Fancy Goods, Shoes, etc., arrive daily and are carried away in great bundles by our customers. You may just as well have your share of the Kuriosities.

—Do not spare sulphur from the mixture when you salt your cattle. It will cool and purify their blood, and probably save you from having distemper or bloody murrain. Sulphur is the only remedy I have ever found, says W. W. Hobson, in one of our exchanges.
—Farmers say that the coming winter will be mild one, and their reason for the prediction is this: The hornets have built small nests and high up on the trees, higher even than they did last year. This the farmers say is an unfailing sign of a mild winter. Now let us see what the hornets know about the weather.
—One day last week while William From was coming through the gap near Colyer's sawmill, in company with three boys, in a wagon drawn by a mule, a team coming from the opposite direction caused the mule to shy and it backed the wagon and inmates and itself down over a bank, some ten feet, into the creek. A boy named Jones had his shoulder broken the rest escaping with bruises.
—It may not be generally known, but it is a fact that there is a statue still in effect in this State prohibiting the holding of fairs such as are now in progress. Every one of these fairs, and every fair that will be held during the winter in the parlors of a church, will be in violation of the State law, the wording of which is brief and sententious. It reads: "That no fair or fairs shall hereafter be held in any city, town or place in this State." The law is still on the statute books and has never been repealed. The date of its passage is January 27, 1797. The reasons for its enactment remain shrouded in the mists of antiquity. It ought to be wiped out.

Rev. Dr. Hamill Relieved of Active Pastoral Work.

At Pittsburg, last week, Rev. Robert Hamill, D.D., asked for a dissolution of the pastoral relation which has existed between himself and the Spring Creek church during the last forty five years, giving his reasons therefor. The church was heard through its commissioners, William Thompson and Prof. McKee, and after a full consideration of the request, Rev. Robert Hamill, D.D., was retired from the active duties of the pastorate and at the request of the church was continued as pastor emeritus.
In making the request Dr. Hamill made the following statement: "In pursuance of a purpose formed some six months ago I come to ask permission to surrender to the Presbytery the charge with which I was invited by this Presbytery nearly forty-five years ago. In doing so I have felt that it would not be improper to give you the following statement: In the month of October, 1845, I was induced by my venerated preceptor, Dr. Archibald Alexander, and by Dr. McKinney, one of my predecessors in my pastorate, to visit the churches of Sinking Creek and Spring Creek, then a united church. Spending ten days among the people, I preached my first sermon in Spring Creek church November 9, 1845. Subsequently I was unanimously called to become the pastor of these churches. Deciding to accept their call, I returned to the field some months after and was ordained and installed their pastor May 6, 1846. For twenty nine years I served these two churches. In April, 1875, I was called for my whole time by Sinking Creek. I have retained this relation for sixteen years. During pastorate on this field there have been admitted into the communion of the church over 1,000 members; 700 have been baptized; have attended 700 funerals have made 9,000 pastoral visits have traveled over 50,000 miles either on horseback or in a buggy; have preached 6,000 sermons. There has been contributed by my people for support and spread of the gospel over $100,000. Fifteen young men have gone into the ministry from my charge. Many and varied have been the experiences of these years; some sad, others joyous. The generation that greeted me when I first became their pastor has passed away. Only two of those who were then members remain. The present board of elders were all ordained during the time of my pastorate, and the present membership all received into the church save two. The church has always been loyal to their pastor. I am proposing the surrendering of many tender ties, but the path of duty to me is clear and the desire has been arrived at carefully and prayerfully.
A petition from sixty two persons living at State College, asking for the organization of a church at that place was presented which was granted and Dr. Hamill, Dr. Laurie and elder James Harris appointed to organize a church if the way is clear.
The committee appointed to bring in resolutions in reference to the retirement of Rev. Dr. Hamill, from the active duties of the pastorate, reported as follows which was adopted:
WHEREAS, The Rev. Robert Hamill, D.D., requested the dissolution of the pastoral relation existing between himself and the church of Sinking Spring and whereas, said church was unwilling to have the relation dissolved, but requested that their pastor should be relieved of the active duties of the pastoral office and be continued as their Pastor Emeritus to which Dr. Hamill having consented, to the request of the church was cordially granted.

Ward at His Home.

Ward's famous Brooklyn nine played a close and interesting game at Bellefonte on Monday afternoon against a strong combination nine, and defeated them by the score of 5 to 3. Despite the threatening weather, over two thousand people assembled to see the game. This is the first time Ward has ever played at his home since he began playing as a professional and the people were successful in their effort tender him a worthy ovation. John Mitchell, of the Minneapolis team, and a native of Centre county pitched a fine game for Bellefonte, and was supported by Cook, of Brooklyn. Sowers and Daly were the Brooklyn battery. Dave Orr umpired in an interesting manner.

Fell off the Train.

On Tuesday evening as the special train from the Delamater meeting at Bellefonte was nearing Linden Hall, Mr. Samuel Davis, of that place, fell from the platform of the car while the train was in motion and landed along side the track. He was seen in his descent and the train stopped and brought him to Linden Hall. He was severely bruised, but fortunately no bones were broken. It is supposed he sustained internal injuries. Mr. Davis is a man well up in years, and it is hoped he will survive the shock.

Death of Ex-Judge Linn.

Hon. Samuel Linn, a leading member of the bar of Williamsport, and judge of the Centre county district court a quarter of a century ago, died on Tuesday morning after a long illness. He was 70 years old.
The disease which caused the death of Judge Linn was diabetes, from which he suffered for years. For the past year he had been comparatively free from pain, and his last moments were passed peacefully and painlessly. His death was not unexpected, as his condition for the past two weeks was worse than usual. He died in the presence of his two daughters who did all in their power to make his last hours peaceful and quiet.
Judge Linn was the fourth son of James Linn, D.D., who was for more than half a century the pastor of the Presbyterian church of Bellefonte, and was born the 20th day of February 1820.
He commenced reading law with Bond Valentine in 1840, and after attending the law school of Judge Reed, at Carlisle, he returned to Bellefonte and pursued his course of reading with James T. Hale, and was admitted to the bar of Centre county in January, 1843. He opened an office in Bellefonte and in 1843 formed a partnership with James T. Hale, which was dissolved in 1851. In 1856 he associated with him W. P. Wilson, Esq., and continued practice until 1859, when he was elected president judge of the district composed of the counties of Centre, Clearfield and Clinton.
As a judge his charges to the jury were clear and explicit, his decisions were marked by general acquiescence and his sentences were just, but he was not satisfied with himself in the position and resigned in May, 1868, and resumed practice in copartnership with A. O. Frost, Esq., which continued until Judge Linn's removal to Williamsport in 1869.
Pattison at Centre Hall.
Gov. Pattison and his party, consisting of Lieut. Gov. Black, Edward Bigler, Myers, Ryan and Veile of Philadelphia, and others arrived at Centre Hall, on last Friday morning, at about 10 o'clock, in a special train. The stay of the party being limited to about 30 minutes no meeting was organized, to save time, and the governor was at once escorted to the Bartholemew store porch, followed by the crowd, and he at once proceeded to address a meeting of some 700 assembled before him. He spoke of the wrongs that rested upon the farming class on account of pernicious legislation and the unjust taxation they are subject to. After a 20 minutes talk, he concluded, when loud calls were made for Channey Black, who responded, and in a humorous vein made some fine hits, which were applauded by the crowd, when time was called, and the tourists boarded the train. A 3 minutes stop was made at Spring Mills and Coburn, where crowds had assembled and the Governor made a few remarks. Other stops were made at Millinburg and at the Union county fair, at Lewisburg. Gov. Pattison left a very favorable impression among our people and old Centre will give him a rousing majority.

Following is the list of marriage licenses issued during the past week from the Register's office, Bellefonte:

Alfred Jones and Eliza Harris, both of Phillipsburg.
Homer James and Annie Fleck, both of Blackbear.

X. Y. Z.

According to the Bellefonte X. Y. Z. organs, there must have been 3 million people at the Delamater funeral, Tuesday night—1/2 million from Coburn, 1 million from Spring Mills, 1 million from Centre Hall, and balance from other parts of the county—the crowd was in such a jam that there was not room enough for the expansion of lungs to get up a single cheer. Fiedler was not X. Y. Z. but B. O. O. Z. Y.

Literary Note.

Miss Julia Magruder, a daughter of the late General John B. Magruder, of Confederate army, who held the "Peninsula," against McClellan in the spring of 1862, begins in the New York Ledger of October 18 a serial entitled "Jephthah's Daughter." The story is an exquisite and artistic adaptation of the Biblical tale.

Matrimony Measured.
In 1888, thirteen per cent. of all the men married in Pennsylvania married women older than themselves. Eighty per cent. married them younger than themselves and the remaining seven per cent. took wives of their own ages. The average age of the men was twenty-seven years, and of the women twenty-three and more women at twenty one. This is the favorite time. A woman of fifty-nine married a man of thirty-one, and a girl of twenty three took an old man of seventy-four. The youngest couple who ventured into matrimony was a boy of seventeen and a girl of fifteen. One man of fifty-four married a girl of eighteen. His age was just three times hers; and a man of forty-eight took a girl of seventeen. Where the men are older, the difference in ages varies, but where the women are older, it rarely exceeds five years. Two boys of sixteen were married, and two gray beards of 80 tried the same thing, probably not for the first time. Of 14,726 women married, whose ages were given, 4,065, or 27.5 per cent. were less than twenty years old.
Figuratively Speaking.
Every time a cow moves her tail to switch a fly she exerts a force of three pounds. In the course of a summer a single cow wastes 5,000,000 pounds of energy. The cows of America throw away power enough to move every piece of machinery in the world. This is exclusive of kicking milkmaids off the stools.

The Golden Gate Tours of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Preparations for the inaugural series of personally-conducted tours to the Pacific Coast under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Railroad, are progressing, and a full line of their scope, routes, rates and conditions will be published at an early day. In the meantime sufficient headway has been made to indicate that the tours will surpass any similar pleasure trips heretofore enjoyed by the people of the Eastern States. The special trains of Pullman Vestibule, Sleeping, and Dining Cars will exemplify the latest and best work of the Pullman shops. They will run through to California on quick time, delivering their passengers at desirable points in the Golden State and picking them up at the appointed rendezvous for the return trip. Tourist Agents and Chaperons of wide experience will conduct the party and minister to their comfort in every possible way. Peculiarly favorable concessions will be granted them by the railroads of the Pacific Slope, so that their movement may be productive of the fullest pleasure at the lowest cost.
These tours are the most ambitious attempts yet projected by the Pennsylvania personally-escorted system to provide pleasure tours of the highest grade, and the traveling public may depend upon securing in them the most perfect service.
The first tour will leave the East late in January. It will be limited to one hundred persons, and those who anticipate an early spring outing to the shores of the Pacific should place themselves in correspondence at once with Mr. J. R. Wood, General Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Philadelphia.

Did you ever meet a college-bred girl who did not love her Alma Mater? And why should not she, as well as her brother, think her own "the dearest and noblest and best"? After reading the charmingly written and magnificently illustrated article on "Student Life at Wellesley College," in DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE for November, just received, we do not wonder at the enthusiasm of the Wellesley alumnae and students for the "Wellesley line."
Every woman, and every man, too, will be interested in the illustrated article about "The Fur Seal;" the women, because every blessed one of them loves a handsome sealskin garment; and the men, because they want to know what they pay their money for, for "sealskin is sealskin" now, and costs a pile of money.
Indeed, this number of the Magazine really opens up the world. Starting at Wellesley, by simply turning the leaves we are transported to "The Land of the Lapps," and the numerous illustrations and vivid descriptions make us quite familiar with these queer people; then the illustrated serial story carries us to China, and we complete the circuit by visiting the seals in Alaska and Greenland, taking a little diversion by the way in reading "Chat" about society doings, and enjoying in imagination so many good things told about in "Household," that we wish Thanksgiving were already come.
In fact, if you want to be amused with good stories, learn how to keep house and make it beautiful, how to keep well, or anything else that you want to know, take our advice and send your subscription (only $2 a year) to W. JENNINGS DEMOREST, 15 East Street, New York.

The Only One.
Again it affords us much pleasure to be able to record the fact that the Pittsburg Exposition opened its doors promptly as advertised. The many things to be seen are worthy of much of our space, but we will dwell only one of its kind at the great show. Well may we say it is worthy of comment. We refer with pride to the display of Max Klein, the wholesale liquor merchant. There you will find a complete distillery in full operation. His silver Age Rye stands on a pyramid high enough to overlook all other displays of the bibb, and comes show at once the extent of his trade, conveying the impression that no ships to all parts of the country. His Pennsylvania Rye Whiskies, his imported and domestic wines, brandies and cordials are prominent features. No other liquor house in the country would dare to compete with him in making a display and so compare in his line can or will sell goods as pure and at such reasonable prices. You can leave orders at his stand or apply to him direct for his complete catalogue and price list. Such a house should receive the custom of all who wish fair treatment and to Max Klein, 21 Federal st., Allegheny, Pa., we can recommend you.
