

PATTISON ELECTED

Great Victory for the Democracy!

DELAMATER DEFEATED BY 20,000 MAJORITY ON TUESDAY!

THE COUNTY TICKET ELECTED BY A LARGELY INCREASED MAJORITY. DEMOCRATS HAVE LARGE GAINS ALL OVER.

Democracy wins!

Tuesday's election decided the fate of Boss Quay and his Standard Oil Company appointment for Governor, Delamater. The state of Pennsylvania is not large but on Tuesday it was a little too big for one man to take charge of the Republican voters and elect Delamater governor.

Elections were held in all the states and the returns so far indicate a largely increased vote for the Democracy. The next congress will have a majority of over sixty for the Democrats.

Pattison is elected Governor by a majority of near 20,000. He had large Democratic gains all over the state, particularly in Republican strongholds, where heavy gains and majorities were made. The Republicans were tired of Bossism and will endure it no longer.

The Democracy stood together and voted to a man. It was a complete victory.

1778 Majority for Pattison.

All honor to the Republicans who aided to swell the Democratic majorities in state and county!

We promise you better things under Democratic rule!

If the Democrats don't do better than the Republicans, turn 'em out, next time.

Pattison will give you a pure administration.

The REPORTER predicted 1600 to 1800 Democratic majority in old Centre. The returns show it was not far wrong. The REPORTER is generally accurate in its estimate of the county.

A decent man will fill the sheriff's office, after next January.

The Augean stable of the commissioners office has had the river of popular discontent run thro it and there will now be a cleaning out.

Good-bye $3 per day loafers.

COUNTY TICKET.

All the Ticket Elected by Big Majorities.

Centre county elected her ticket to a man, and rolled up the largest majority for years.

Every man on the Democratic ticket was elected and the county again goes into reliable hands. There was little scratching and cutting done by the Democrats and they voted straight.

The people of Centre have enough of Republican rule in this county with the present board of officials and turned out on Tuesday to turn them out.

The Democracy had out every vote and a large one was polled. Centre no longer stands among the doubtful, but stands high in Democratic majority. It was a complete victory, which even surprised the Democrats themselves.

New York.

New York state elects twenty Democratic congressmen and fourteen Republicans; a Democratic gain of five. The latest returns show Democratic gains in the assembly. The last house was 57 Democrats, 71 Republicans. Returns at midnight indicate the election of 67 Republicans and 61 Democrats. New York City has given Mayor Grant 22,000 plurality, and the other candidates of the Tammany Hall ticket pluralities from 13,000 to 23,000. It is estimated that the new ballot law kept at least 10,000 voters away from the polls, while 5,000 more failed to get their ballots prepared within the required ten minutes and were disfranchised.

The farming districts in the state did finely for Pattison, but it seems the large cities and towns showed a still greater opposition to Bossism.

The Democrats have every thing on the bill of fare from soup and fish down to chocolate and vanilla ice cream, and the honest Republicans are seated around the table with us.

807 Majority for Wm. Ishler.

They Have Gone.

The boat containing the Centre county contingent of Delamater shriekers left early on Wednesday morning; the passengers were very much down in the mouth and tears stood in their eyes.

The boat was labelled "Quay Boomer," and was rickety looking, and likely to sink with the unimportant crew.

The stock of provisions was very scant and of the poorest grade, on account of the McKinley high prices, and it is inevitable that life will be miserable up there with the poor fellows. Some wished they were in China, some in Patagonia, while others regret they didn't follow good advice and vote the Pattison ticket, which would have assured them a pleasant life down in old Centre among the glorious Democrats.

Nothing of interest occurred in the rotten craft until it approached the Karthouse bridge, when Henderson and his butty Gallagher, got on deck to have a last look at the fraud upon the taxpayers, when ker-thump one of the girders of the bridge came in contact with Henderson's mush bowl, where his brain should have been, and he went head-over-monkey into the raging canal. Gallagher seeing the danger of his companion in boogie, sprang into the stream to rescue his partner in the Karthouse bridge job, but both were drowned.

There was mighty little lamentation and wailing on board when the accident became known. Some consoled themselves by saying that Henderson's mislucky management of the commissioners office, ruined the Republican party in Centre county; others allowed, with a serious air, that as Henderson had raised the valuations he might now try and raise himself, and a vote being taken it was unanimously agreed to hold no collection for a headstone for him and Gallagher.

Tobacco and grog were scarce, which seemed to set hard on the crew, especially as to the latter, as they had just gone thro a "spirited" campaign and now the Wolfe was at the door.

There was much annoyance from one passenger, named Fiedler, who, swearing day and night the boat was full of snakes—nearly all were wishing he'd go to see Gallagher, and end the snake seeing on the boat. A sorry set were a little squad on board, known as the Gazette's favorite "Democrats", who supply that sheet with false clap-trap stories and get a few puffs for their dirty work. The decent part of the Republicans didn't associate with the Gazette "Democrats", and they had to eat at the second table, and no one would set up a "trade" with them.

Wolfe acted as tho he had taken the seven year's itch, while Tyson said he felt as tho he had fifty sicknesses at one time running thro his treasury system.

A down coming steamer filled with jolly Democrats, passed the "Quay Boomer," when Fiedler hailed it and asked to have some matter mailed. The captain wanted to know what it was, and when Jimmy told it was for the Gazette, the captain said "no, that is obscene literature; can't be mailed; Wanamaker ruled it out."

In order to kill off misery a little, it was agreed that the poets in the crew try their hands at poetry. L. L. Brown led off by producing the following ditty:

Here we are in misery run,
The down boat's got all the fun,
I done my best for a big hoo-ray,
But got all busted on Matt Quay.

A leather medal was voted Lawrence on that production.

Next came Wanamaker's professor of "obscene literature," who ground out the following Bar-ic:

I'm for Patter-mater,
Don't care an Irish 'tater,
What direction's on my tag,
Only so I get the swag,
And up at head of sail water,
I can't be skinned by the barn REPORTER.

Next came our friend Decker, with semi lament,

My time is up, I'm gone home,
Been crowded off by Ingreda Strohman;
I made Jim commissioners' clerk,
Then betrippen me up—what dirty work!

The turn at the helm now fell to Fiedler, soon the boat was found to go zig-zag, a la Sanbury. The crew became alarmed and began to swear and wanted to know what the deal he was runned her over and over for, when Jim explained, "why don'tcher know I tryen to get clear of them snakes that's tryin to run in on us." Here our notes had to close in order to reach the REPORTER in time for this week's issue.

Maryland.

The Democrats make a clean sweep in Baltimore, turning up the largest majority given since the war. Returns from all over the state show large Democratic gains. Congressional delegation is elected, making a clean gain of three.

New Jersey.

The Democrats have elected state senators in Essex, Monmouth, Union, Somerset and Warren counties, which give them control of the senate. The Democrats will also have an increased majority in the house.

ILLINOIS.

The indications are that the election will be very close in this state. However the Republican state central committee chairman claims that all the Republican congressmen in the state are re-elected.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

No choice for governor by the people. The Democrats gain 18 members of the legislature in 73 towns, and McKinney Democrat, is elected to congress in the First District.

OHIO.

Early returns from nearly every section in the state indicate a Republican victory by a majority ranging from 5,000 to 20,000.

MICHIGAN.

The Democrats claim the election of the governor and also congressmen in the First, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Tenth districts.

ALABAMA.

Alabama rolls up her usual Democratic majority. Every Democratic nominee was elected.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Democrats carry the state and elect 8 out of 9 congressmen.

Lieing and falsehood don't count, does it Fiedler? Abusing Democrats by the Gazette is not sanctioned by Democrats or decent Republicans.

See the rebuke in Centre county's magnificent majority. Thanks to the decent element in the Republican ranks for their patriotism on Tuesday in voting for clean politics.

Delamater did not run for governor—he only got appointed for nomination by Quay.

One named Pattison ran for governor.

The people of Centre county won't dance to a tipsy fiedler,

Kunes have taken to their holes.

The Wolfe didn't break into the county barn yard—the Democratic watch-dogs were there.

Republicans are cussing Fiedler's Gazette, like last year they say it has ruined the party—no party can survive such an organ.

Falsehood, trading and abuse did not defeat Ishler worth a cent.

He got there magnificently.

Gramley got there too, in good order.

The Rash township Republican county ticket got left.

The more extra copies of the Gazette were handed out, the worse things got for its party. Neither Republicans nor anybody believes any thing printed in that sheet.

"I want to own a governor once," said Matt Quay.

Not this time, boss.

This is Wolfe on the home stretch—left behind.

Black and Barclay Defeated.

The late despatches this morning announce the probable defeat of Black, for Lieutenant Governor, and Barclay, for Secretary of Interior, and the election of Watres and Stewart, the Republican candidates. Watres and Stewart are no doubt elected, as both ran far ahead of Delamater in nearly every county, Philadelphia county alone gave Watres a majority of 11,279 greater than that for Delamater, and Stewart 11,907 greater. In Allegheny and the other counties Watres and Stewart received an increase vote about in proportion to that of Philadelphia.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Col. John F. Glenn, one of the Republican workers of Philadelphia, on an affidavit made by Francis Bannan, the Democratic Judge of Election in the Thirty-fifth division of the Fifteenth ward, charging him with bribery. Bannan swears that Glenn met him on Thursday and offered him $50 if he would give Delamater 25 Democratic votes in the returns and would give the Republicans of the division no more trouble than could be avoided and that Glenn paid him $25 on Friday night and $25 more last night.

What is a Nuisance?

Judge Yerkes, of Philadelphia, thus defines the force and bearing of the word nuisance in the meaning of the law: A nuisance is whatever worketh annoyance or hurt to another. Only a public nuisance for a man to get frequently and publicly drunk, so that the public may hear him, and by so doing interfere with the public. It is a nuisance to have property and have men and people gather before it and obstruct the passers-by. This is an offense which ought to be dealt with according to the full penalty of the law. The Supreme Court says that the public has a right to have the use of the public highway without obstruction from crowds and where loafers congregate upon the pavements in towns it becomes an indictable offense. And when men and boys stand on the street corners gibing passers-by, making it inconvenient for them to walk on the pavement, it is a nuisance. Keepers of stores and cigar shops or whatever may be their business or occupation, who tolerate crowds gathering before their place of business to the inconvenience of the public, may be indicted.

A dispatch from Kansas City says: There is considerable excitement to-day among Kansas City stock men relating to advices received from Mexico to the effect that that country has placed a duty of $500 per car on American cattle. This practically ruins all live stock trade between this country and Mexico. The act of the Mexican Government is purely a retaliatory one, and was precipitated by the fear the Mexicans have of the McKinley bill.

It is a poor game that two can't play at. Centre county O. K! No more Cooking about the jail! No more Henderson! No more Gallagher and bridge jobs. No more raising of valuations. No more squandering of the county funds!

Centre Hall Democrats had a big bonfire on Tuesday night, and with drums, firing of anvils and pistols, and cheering, the great Democratic victory was celebrated in lively style by the crowd.

The traders came out at the little end of the horn—Ishler is the name of the new sheriff.

Bohemian Oats Swindle in Union County.

It appears the Bohemian oats swindle came up, like Bancho's ghost, in the late election in Union county, as the letter below shows:

THE AWKWARD POSITION IN WHICH MR. RITTER IS PLACED.

Mr. James R. Ritter, Republican candidate for the Legislature, stand up and answer—

If, as you state in last week's Saturday News, you were not interested in the Bohemian Oats swindle on our hard working Republican farmers in 1885, why did you hail me on the streets of Lewisburg before you were nominated and since your nomination at the court house, there and without any solicitation on my part, say to me after following me up the Court House steps: "See here, Stahl, I am very sorry that I ever had anything to do with the Bohemian Oats swindle," that your wife, when she was out collecting those notes from our farmers, had had luck; that you lost a horse by the transaction and dirty work, and that I should not be angry at you for collecting the one hundred and seven dollars for the 10 bushels of oats I had received, worth $3.50, (a clean steal from me by somebody of $103.50.)

Now then, tell the readers of our family newspapers, who got the $103.50 I was robbed of and paid your wife. If as you say, you had nothing to do with the rascally transaction, hurry up and tell the people through the newspapers who received this $103.50. When we Republicans send men to the Legislature we generally see to it that honest men go there from our county, and don't you forget it. Calling me names on the streets, don't explain who got the $103.50. Then, were you or were you not at John Reed's in Buffalo township, 500, trying to induce him to buy Bohemian Oats in the year 1885?

Well, then, tell me whether you or your wife collected the Bohemian Oats swindle note you held against John Reed, of Kelly township, and by whom or how was this note settled? Then tell me who Ammon E. Reedy and Oscar Creveling, both farmers of Buffalotownship, paid their Bohemian Oats swindle notes to? Now, then, if you know, who did Oscar Creveling, of Manassas, Jacob Kaiser, Adam Grove and Harry Blifer, of Kelly township, and Benben Moyer, of Buffalo Cross Roads, pay their Bohemian Oats swindle notes to? I would like to know all about this oats swindle business. Now hurry up, Jim, and tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. We don't want to send a man to the Pennsylvania Legislature in this year of our Lord 1890, who has had his long fingers in any Bohemian Oats soup. It requires honest men to make good laws for our Union county Republicans. We don't want to send Bohemian Oats swindle note shavers there. So arise and explain—do it quick—no time to lose.

JACOB K. STAHL.

The REPORTER has some statements in reference to the B. O. swindle in Centre county, from responsible parties, which will be printed when occasion calls for it.

"But all this cannot be accomplished by the policy which leads to retaliation. The McKinley bill is said to have produced great havoc in Europe, and its friends in this country boast of the foreign protests and threats which its enactment has provoked. But what if Europe should retaliate by checking her imports of breadstuffs and of cotton, and oil and provisions from the United States? What would become of us? We sent abroad last year $742,000,000 worth of goods and three-fourths of them were agricultural products. Suppose, as a result of this Republican policy of prohibition, Europe should be forced to draw largely on Canada and Russia and India and Asia for the products, what would become of the American farmers? What could recompense the country for the loss of this vast market? What could alleviate the distress among all classes of our people?"

"A distinguished statesman has truly said that our exports preserve us from bankruptcy." Talk about reciprocity—this is retaliation, embargo, prohibition. Well might Blaine complain that the McKinley bill won't open a new market for a single bushel of wheat or a barrel of pork. We ought to feel mighty grateful if it does not deprive us of what markets we have."
