FOUND DEAD IN THE RIVER.

Miss Sadie Haines, formerly of Centre Hall, Meets an Untimely Death at Ligonier, Ind.

The following is from the Ligonier, Ind., Leader, of April 9th:
The community was startled on Sunday, April 5, by the announcement that the body of a woman had been found in the river just east of town. Investigation proved it to be the body of Miss Sadie Haines, the daughter of Simon Haines. The body was conveyed to the home of her parents on Martin street and the coroner notified, who came and held an inquest on Monday. The body was discovered by some boys who were going up the river in a boat, and when found was secured by the clothing being fast to a stake at the edge of the water, having evidently floated to that point. From the mother of the girl it was learned that she left home on Wednesday night, but the condition of the body showed pretty conclusively that it had not been in the water more than twelve hours. There were conflicting stories about the girl's disappearance, and some are of the belief that possibly it was not suicide.

Miss Sadie Haines, the young lady mentioned in the above, is well known to the residents of this place, having resided in Centre Hall for many years with her uncle, Mr. D. F. Luse, and only left this place a few years ago to rejoin her parents, who in former years were also residents of our town, and the sad intelligence of her death will be heard with regret. She was aged only about seventeen years at the time of her death.

From a private letter of a citizen of Ligonier to her uncle in this place, giving further particulars in regard to the sad death of Sadie, we have been enabled to glean the following: The coroner's inquest is through with, and the result of the investigation made known, according to the public in general, the public in general think that there was foul play; not only a few but most everyone does; they think the body was placed in the river after death, the surroundings and everything point that way. I saw the body myself one-half hour after it was found; her mouth and eyes were closed, every limb in its proper place, and there was no water in the body. Again I say everything points to a different death than from drowning; it is a very mysterious case.

Presbytery of Huntingdon.

The sessions of the stated spring meeting of the Presbytery of Huntingdon, were opened in the Presbyterian church at Phillipsburg, Pa., April 14, at 11 a. m. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. E. H. Mateer, from Psalm 48: 12, 13, 14. Rev. R. A. McKinley, Ph. D., was elected moderator; Rev. F. T. Wheeler was elected recording clerk; Professor John Hamilton, reading clerk, and Rev. R. F. Wilson stated clerk pro tem. Thirty-six ministers and twenty-nine elders were present at the opening.

The organization of a church at State College was reported and the church enrolled, making the number of churches in the presbytery seventy-three.

The following standing committees were appointed: Bills and overtures, Revs. E. H. Mateer, J. J. Coale, D. K. Freeman; elders, A. T. Findley and L. Bird; judicial, Rev. William Lawrie, A. W. Spooner, George Elliot. Elders, Albert Thompson and Isaac Hagerty; minutes of synod, Rev. A. W. Spooner, C. W. Herron, I. B. Henderson, Elders, Miles Read, J. L. Peace; narrative, Rev. E. F. Johnston; leave of absence, Rev. H. H. Henry, J. J. Rankin, John Gourley, Elders James Smith and Wm. Thompson.

Mr. Charles Patton, a student of Lawrenceville, was received under the care of the presbytery as a candidate for the gospel ministry.

Quite a Raise,

The note raiser is not dead yet. We learn that a paper which should stand for the modest figures of $500, has turned up revolved into $2500. The raised note, it appears, belongs to a recent "Napoleonic finance," in whose sinkhole a baker's dozen of honest creditors have seen their hard earnings disappear. Who will be the real sufferers in this case, we do not know, but if those who furnished the original party with a sham appearance of credit would get into the soup it would be right, as innocent parties have already suffered, misled by a sham credit.

Death at Centre Hill.

On Saturday morning, 11th inst. Mrs. James McClintick breathed her last at her home at Centre Hill. Mrs. McClintick had been ill for some time previous to her death, but not of a serious nature, until only a few days ago she became a victim of lagrippe, which with other complications hastened her demise. Mrs. McClintick was highly respected in her neighborhood being a consistent member of the Methodist church. She was the mother of several children, of whom three sons and a daughter and her husband survive her. The funeral took place on the following Tuesday, interment being made in the cemetery at Sproutown. She was aged nearly seventy years.

Bone Broken.

John McClenshan, of Potters Mills, was unfortunate enough to have a bone in his leg broken this week, while working on a lumber job near that place. He is not confined to the house, but is able to get around on crutches.

Sudden Death of Henry Geistwhite.

Henry Geistwhite, an old citizen of near this place, died suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Theodore Steele, on Cottage Avenue, Tyrone, on Thursday last at about eleven o'clock.

The Sunday previous Mr. Geistwhite was taken ill with the grip, at Tyrone, where he had been visiting for a few weeks, but his illness was not considered serious at the time. He was not confined to the house. On Wednesday he was out in Tyrone, when he was taken ill upon the streets and was carried to the house of his daughter, but recovered sufficiently to enable him to walk out on Thursday morning, when he was taken ill again and in about fifteen minutes was a corpse, the disease had attacked his heart and he suddenly expired.

Deceased was born in Union county, Jan. 9, 1820, and was aged over 71 years. He was the father of twelve children, eight of whom, with his aged wife, survive him. The children are: Samuel Geistwhite, Mrs. J. M. Lieb and Miss Fannie Geistwhite, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Theodore Steele, of Tyrone; Mrs. James Worrel, Mrs. Mary Lyons and Miss Amelia Geistwhite, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. Roland Gingrich, of Spruce Creek.

The body was brought to this place on Friday, by rail, from Tyrone, the funeral taking place Saturday, from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. James Worrel, interment being made in the cemetery at this place, Rev. Fischer officiating.

A Silver Lining.

The Bariges Brothers, owning the Wm Bariges farm near Logan Mills in Sugar Valley, will in the near future begin to dig for silver on their farm, observes the Millheim Journal. Mr. Adam Bariges of near Aaronsburg, one of the owners, tells us that his brother David, who lives on the farm, recently met an old Indian at Centre Hall, who had come in from the territories, and in conversation with him found that the red man was in possession of some important facts relative to a rich silver mine which he claimed underlies the surface of the Bariges farm. Mr. Bariges prevailed on the Indian to accompany him to his home in Sugar Valley. Upon arriving there the Indian proceeded to point out the exact spot where the vein is to be located and claimed that his people, among them his father, a man of 112 years of age, used to make ornaments from silver obtained from that spot. The information furnished seemed so direct and creditable that the Messrs. Bariges intend to investigate the matter, and if there is any silver in it, it is to come out. We hope they will not be doomed to disappointment.

Wire Fence Building.

Farmers should bear in mind that the spring and fall season of the year, is the time to build barbed wire fence; for the reason that the wire during extreme warm weather expands very materially the contraction of which in extreme cold weather causes it to break or snap. If the fence shall have been built in extreme cold weather the wire will expand and sag during the warmer seasons; therefore the best time to build a fence is in moderate, cool weather. The wire fence recently built on the line of the Bald Eagle Valley Railroad, demonstrates that the link barbed wire made of steel is the best wire made for fencing purposes. The link wire is sold by McCalmont & Co., of Bellefonte, at lower prices than this wire has ever been sold heretofore.

Farmers will promote their own interests by examining the fences built of the different makes of wire and consulting McCalmont & Co., concerning the prices of the same.

The Cleary Trial

It is learned from the Lock Haven Express that preparations for the second trial of Charles Cleary are going forward, and the witnesses on both sides are being summoned. The trial begins on Monday, April 27th, and arrangements are being made to secure the services of another attorney to assist District Attorney Brungard in the prosecution. It is now pretty certain that there will be no plea of guilty of murder in the second degree entered, and the trial will take regular course. There is much interest manifested in the case and much speculation as to the result. Judge Orvis, of Bellefonte, will assist on the part of the commonwealth.

To Resume.

The defunct Centre Iron Company's plant at Bellefonte, will soon resume operations again, and a large force of men are now at work there. The company has been reorganized under the name of Valentine Iron Company. Bonds to the amount of $75,000 have been issued by the company, over one half of them have been taken by the capitalists of that town.

The Collins' works, which were closed about two months ago will also resume operations in the near future. These works resuming again will be a cause for general rejoicing among the business men of that thriving town on the hills.

Death of Wm. C. Duncan.

Wm. C. Duncan, a native of Aaronsburg and many years a merchant at Millheim, died at Lewisburg, on Wednesday, 8. where he has resided for over 25 years. The Chronicle gives the following particulars:

Saturday, feeling symptoms of grip, he consented to have a physician called. The proper medical attendance was given, and he seemed to be doing very well, and was well satisfied that he would pass through the apparently slight trouble safely. His physician, however, asked him to be very careful, and avoid any exposure. In the beginning of the week, his lungs were attacked, but still nothing serious was feared by himself. But the trouble in the lungs failed to yield to medical treatment, and he grew regularly worse until congestion took place, terminating his life at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Mr. Duncan was born in Aaronsburg, Sept. 20 1820. He resided in that section of Centre Co. until Sept., 1863, when he with his family moved to Lewisburg. He was a member of the Legislature from his native county in 1860 and 1861, and was first Republican member of the Legislature ever sent from that county. He became actively engaged in business being one of the principal stockholders of the Central Foundry in its early, successful days. He was chosen President of the Union National Bank in June, 1878, and has held that position ever since. He was President of the Water Company, and was a man who was generally consulted on business, educational and kindred matters, being a sound reasoner and pleasant adviser. He was an ardent member and supporter of the Presbyterian church and Sunday School and served as Superintendent of the latter for a number of years.

To Breakfast in Bellefonte

The newspaper correspondents who were sent to Johnstown at the time of the great flood in 1889 endured many hard ships, which in one or two cases resulted fatally. To commemorate that troublous period the Johnstown Correspondent association, composed only of those who were actually engaged in newspaper work at Johnstown, and made up principally of New York and Philadelphia newspaper men, was organized last year. This year it will observe the anniversary of the flood with a dinner in this city on the evening of May 30, to be followed by a visit to Johnstown the next day, the correspondents breakfasting with General Hastings, at Bellefonte, en route. Members of the association wear a handsome medal of blue and enamel, bearing the figure of a reporter writing on a barrel, while above his head can be seen the telegraph wires that flashed the news of the disaster all over the civilized world.—Philadelphia Record.

The Shepp Cox Jury Served Seventeen Weeks.

The jury in the Shepp-Coxe ejectment case, at Pottsville, rendered a sealed verdict, April 3, in favor of the defendant. The trial of the case occupied seventeen weeks. The land in dispute comprises about 195 acres in East Union township, three miles east of Brandonville, and is said to be worth only about $10,000, while the case has cost in the neighborhood of $30,000. The question of the ownership of the land has been disputed since 1874. At that time Daniel Shepp, of Tamaqua, and several others, acting partners, claimed the land and placed one Daniel Butler in possession. Mr. Cox brought suit, and in 1882 a decision in his favor ejecting Butler was rendered. Mr. Shepp then brought suit and to-day the case was again decided in favor of Mr. Cox.

This is the case in which Judge Orvis, of our county, was one of the attorneys; his talk to the jury lasted two and a half days.

A Large Load.

A week or more ago George Emerick with four horses, hauled two loads of stone from the Harper farm, about two miles east of town, for Wm. Runkle's new house at the station. The stones were placed in the wall by the masons and when measured was found that he had hauled six perches of stone with the two loads or three perches in a load. This is a heavy load for four horses and many doubt the correctness of same, but we have the statement from the mason, Chas. Garis, who says George did such big hauling.

Don't Violate the Law.

As the season for marketing veal calves is at hand, says an exchange, a word to farmers and others, who have heretofore been in the habit of carting calves and sheep with the animals' legs tied together may not be out of place. A law of the state provides that animals shall not be treated in such manner, but shall be crated or otherwise humanely handled, and the offender is liable to a heavy penalty for disregarding the provisions of said law.
