PREPARING FOR A FIGHT.

British Settlers in South Africa Will Resist Portuguese Aggressions.

LONDON, April 21.-Advices from Port Natal are to the effect that Portuguese authorities there are having recourse to high handed measures in Mashonaland. Their hostility to the British in that district has at last assumed such shape as to threaten further and serious tension in the already strained relations be-tween Great Britain and Portugal.

Recently the Portugese officials seized the mails which were being carried to the British colonists in Mashonaland by way of Beira, and refused to permit their being forwarded to their destination. Beira is a Portugese settlement. The greatest indignation has been aroused among the English settlers by this latest instance of Portugese aggres

Advices from Capetown confirm the statement that the British settlers in Manioaland and Mashonaland are every-Manualand and Mashonaland are every-where preparing for a fight with the Portuguese. Gungunhama has seni word repudiating allegiance to Portugal and asking to be taken under the protec-tion of the British. The chief is said to be deeply enraged at the abduction by said: the Portuguese of two of his sons and one daughter as hostages. The sons were taken to Portugal to be educated, and the daughter is detained at Mozambique. Gungunhama was frightened into submission at first, but a British trader has informed him that the Portuguese would not dare to injure the chil-dren, and now he wants to fight. The young chief Umbati, of Gungunhama's kraal, to whom the daughter was to have been married shortly, has already started with a band of warriors to fight the Portuguese. Everything points to a serious rupture between the British and Portuguese authorities in South Africa.

The Sixth Again Visits Baltimore. BALTIMORE, April 20.-The Worcester Light Infantry, the lineal descendant of the old Massachusetts regiment which will be forever famous as the first armed and equipped regiment that marched to the relief of the national capital, arrived here yesterday at the same hour and over the same route traversed in 1861. On April 19, thirty years ago, the Sixth Massachusetts infantry, commanded by Col. Edward F. Jones, was attacked by a mob while passing through the city, and four were killed and many wounded. The observance of the anniversary was arranged for some time ago, and the reception accorded the Massachusetts regiment will certainly destroy the last feeling of resentment over the deplorable event of 1861.

Will Imperiali Be Recalled! PARIS, April 21.-Baron Fava, late minister of Italy to the United States, has arrived in this city en route to Rome. The Soleil asserts that Baron Fava is much exercised over the action of the United States in connection with the New Orleans incident. The paper adds that while on board the steamship La Gascogne Baron Fava assured a number of his fellow voyagers that Marquis Imperiali, Italian charge d'affaires at Washington, would also be recalled. The baron is also reported to have added that Italy would continue to be unrep-resented diplomatically at Washington until such times as the New Orleans affair was definitely settled.

WELCOME RAIN AT SAN ANTONIO

It Interferes, However, With the Outdoor Ceremonies, and the President Will Let It Go at Half Price. El Paso Introduces a Pleasing International Courtesy.

SAN ANTONIA, Tex., April 21.—The presidential party arrived here at 9 o'clock yesterday morning promptly on time. For the first since their departure from Washington they were welcomed in a heavy rain storm. The reception was most enthusiastic, but under the circumstances the effect of the liberal street decorations was spoiled by the steady downpour, which necessitated the abandonment of all outdoor cere-monies. The president was received with a salute of twenty-one guns, and on leaving the train was escorted through a line composed of Grand Army and Coafederate veterans. The party were then taken in carriages to the Grand Opera house, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Addresses of welcome were made by Governor Hogg and Mayor Callahan, and responded to by the presi-dent, Secretary Rusk and Postmaster General Wanamaker. The president

A Welcome Rain.

MR. MAYOR AND FELLOW CITIZENS: I Very much regret that frequent speaking in the open air during the past week and the very heavy atmosphere which we have this morn-ing has somewhat impaired my voice. I sympathize with you in the distress which you feel that the day is so unpropitious for any street demonstration, but I have been told by one wise in such matters that this rain is worth five million dollars to western Texas. That being the case, it greatly moderates our regret. There has come to be a popular habit of attributing to the president whatever weather may happen on any demonstration in which he takes a part. I suppose I may claim credit this morning for this beneficent rain. I generously assure you that if it is worth as much money as my friend has estimated, I shall not take more than half that sum.

In visiting for a little while this historic city I had anticipated great pleasure in looking upon the remains of an earlier occupancy of this territory in which you dwell. Our glance must be brief and imperfect, but the history has been written and the traditions of those martyrdoms which occurred here for liberty are fresh in your minds and are still an inspiring story to be repeated to your children. I remember in my early boyhood to have heard in our family thrilling descriptions of the ex-periences of an uncle whose name I bear in some of these campaigns for freedom in Texas, in which he took part.

The Great Commonwealth.

I rejoice that you have here so great a com-monwealth. The stipulations under which Texas came into the union of the states, and which provided that the territory might be subdivided into five states, seems not to attract much attention in Texas now. Indeed, so far as I can judge, no man would be able success-fully to appeal to the suffrage of any hamlet in Texas upon the issue that the state should be divided at all. The great industrial capabilities which you have, the beneficent elimate that spreads over much of your vast territory, the great variety of productions which your soil and climate render possible give a promise for the future of a prominence among the great states of the Union that seems to me can scarcely fail to bring Texas to the front among our great sisterhood.
