WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS DO AND SAY

A Chapter of Accidents, Crimes and Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There in the State and Flashed Over the Busy Wires.

PINE GROVE, Pa., May 9.—Samuel Fry, a well known farmer of Pine Grove township, died suddenly of apoplexy, aged 70 years. Two weeks ago his wife died in a similar manner.

READING, Pa.. May 11.—For paying out checks on the Penn National bank, where he had no deposit, Tinner A. B. Slechter has been arrested, and in default of bail committed to jail.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., May 12.—Snyder's planing mill and five houses were destroyed by fire at Weissport, near here, yesterday. Loss $80,000. The fire was supposed to be of incendiary origin.

LEBANON, Pa., May 12.—Three children of William Rhine, residing on West Lehman street, this city, died of black measles within two days. There are other cases of the disease in the same MEDIA, Pa,, May 11.-William Donehower has been sworn in to fill the office of prothonotary and clerk of the courts, made vacant by the death of William D. Thomas, until the office is filled by the governor.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., May 9.—The inquest on the body of Calvin Brensinger, the boy whose mysterious death led to the arrest of William Hallman, his stepfather, has been adjourned until the an alysis of the boy's stomach is completed. The evidence thus far adduced is strong against the accused.

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.—George W. Lawrence, 29 years, of New York, a member of the "Ship-a-Hoy" company, now performing at the Girard theatre, was found dead yesterday in his room, on the third floor of 1014 Race street. He had been suffocated by turning on the green without lighting it. the gas without lighting it.

PRINCETOWN, Pa., May 9.—Samuel Schmehl, a wealthy retired farmer who resided near this village, died after a short illness, aged 76 years. Two weeks ago he was robbed of $2,800 in cash and notes. This troubled him greatly, and he at once took to his bed, which he never left, his death finally resulting from grip. NORRISTOWN, Pa., May 12.—The dead body of John Hoffmann, a prosperous Gwynedd township farmer, was found hanging iu his barn. Hoffmann was about 45 years of age, unmarried, and lived on the homestead property. When found the body was cold in death. Hoffmann, it is believed, was mentally unbalanced.

PITTSBURG, May 11.—It is not at all improbable that there will be a clash in July between the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers and the manufacturers. All the Pittsburg lodges and some of those outside have voted the $6 a ton rate for puddling. This is an advance of fifty cents a ton, and the manufacturers will doubtless resist its payment.

PITTSBURG, May 9 .- James McNally, a Koch lymph patient, will be dis-charged from the West Penn hospital Monday with a certificate from his physicians as being cured of consumption McNally has been under treatment for three months. Two other lymph pa-tients, both women, left the hospital yesterday with certificates of cure, but the hospital authorities withheld their Reading, Pa., May 11.—Harry Zechman, about 9 years old, was dragged to death by a cow yesterday afternoon on the farm of his brother-in-law in North Heidelburg. He had the cow out grazing along along the road and had a rope fastened to her neck. The animal took fright and started on a run. Young Zechman had the rope fastened around his arm and was unable to get it loose.

HARRISBUG, May 9 .- Charters were HARRISBUG, May 9.—Charters were issued yesterday as follows: The Midvale Land company, of Nanticoke, Luzerne county, capital, $32,000; the Homestead Building and Savings association, No. 6, of Reading, capital stock, $750,000. The Commercial Ice company of Philadelphia, incorporated March, 1836, has been granted an amendment of its charter fixing the year value of its charter fixing the year. charter fixing the par value of its shares at $25 instead of $100.

LANCASTER, Pa., May 11 .- Jacob Earhart, of Lexington, is only 8 years old, but has thus far had more than his share of trouble. Two years ago while riding behind a farmer's wagon his leg caught in the spokes and was broken; a year ago he was kicked in the head by a horse and a piece of bone was removed by the doctors as large as a quarter; Saturday in cutting wood he struck his instep with a sharp ax, which will disable him for several weeks.

Media, Pa., May 9. — William D. Thomas, prothonotary and clerk of the Delaware county courts, died yesterday after two weeks sickness. Mr. Thomas became suddenly deranged about two weeks ago, and had to be removed to the Pennsylvania hospital in Philadel-phia. His mania was not of a violent nature, but there was a complete collapse of his entire sysem and the giving way of all his powers, and he sank rapidly during the past week. Mr. Thomas was only 34 years old.

Carlisle, Pa., May 11.—While a so-ciable was in progress at Metgar Female seminary the police discovered two men seminary the police discovered two men attempting to gain entrance to the building by scaling the rear wall by means of a ladder. They managed to arrest one of the parties, who proved to be a young college student of this place named Beetem. He was trying to gain entrance to the room of a lady student. He was placed under bail for a hearing. The other party escaped and Beetem refuses to give his name.

HAZLETON, Pa., May 11.—Grand-mother Connelly, aged 110 years, the oldest resident of the region, was burned to death in her little home at Beaver Meadow. She had no living relatives. and for twenty years past lived on char-ity of the people of the village, refusing to be removed to the almshouse, of which she had a great dread. Recently she became so weak that she could not leave her bed, and it was proposed to remove her to the almshouse, where she would receive good care. The old lady suspected the arrangement, and rather than submit to the proposed Mdignity she set fire to the bed clething upon which she lay and was burned to at
