How Balmaceda Governs the Chilean Republic.

MARAT'S METHODS REPRODUCED.

The Famons French Communist No More Arbitrary Than the Man the A Insurgents Are Trying to Oust. Revolutionists Lack Munitions of War-To Urge Recognition.

NEW YORK, June 19.-Many startling facts in connection with the revolution now raging in Chili which throw light upon the ferocity and despotism of Balmaceda are now given to the public for the first time through the United Press.

The three gentlemen—two of whom are prominent Chilians—from whom these facts are obtained are at present in this city, having arrived last week. They have witnessed the conduct of the revolution from its inception and speak from actual knowledge. The combined stories of the three show that Balma-ceda is well termed "the tyrant." In Santiago, where his headquarters are, no one dares to utter a word against

Jean Marat's Methods Reproduced. The tyrant has caused a cross of red to be painted on all the houses of people whom he suspects are not wholly in sympathy with him, and into these marked residences his police and soldiers go at any hour of the day or night. They ransack the rooms on the ground that they are looking for revolutionists who are supposed to be hidden that who are supposed to be hidden there. The soldiers demand wine and food, and after having as good a time as they wish depart only to repeat the raid in some other marked residence. The people in these houses are forbidden to lock their

No one is allowed to ride on horseback through the streets after 5 o'clock in the afternoon; no three persons are allowed to walk the streets in company at any time of day, and no two persons can stand and converse on the street. It is a veritable reign of terror. The storekeepers and all who employ laborers have to furnish each one with a tag, showing they are regularly em-ployed by such a merchant at such a place. This system exists in Valpariso

Monstrous Cruelties.

One of the gentlemen referred to was walking along the street past a jail and heard terrible shrieks from some one on the other side of the wall. He inquired of a soldier the cause, and was told that some of Balmaceda's soldiers were punishing a man who had refused to work for him by driving tacks and visited. for him by driving tacks and pins into his hands. The next day he saw a horrible punishment to a Chilean who had been overheard to say he was willing to work his hands off for the revolutionists. The poor fellow's hands were placed on a block and his fingers pounded to a jelly by a hig mallet in the hands to a jelly by a big mallet in the hands of a soldier. He was then told he could go work his hands any way he wanted to, and for any one. The New Yorker denounced the affair to a friend, a resi-York man returned to Valparaiso, and just before he sailed he received a message from his friend saying that he had been locked up by Balmaceda's men, accused of being a revolutionist sympa-

Insurgents Lack Munitions of War. The weak point of the revolutionists is lack of arms and ammunition. Could the necessary arms be secured their number would at once be increased by 10,000 men. There are now at Huanasco, Vallenar, Freirina and Carrizal bodies of men-in all some 9,000-who are only waiting to get arms and ammunition before they take up the march against Balmaceda. At the smaller places on the coast, as far north as Arica, are sim-ilar companies of would-be soldiers. The arms for these men were on the Itata, and had they secured them, with what ammunition the Itata carried, the Chilean revolution would have been settled in short order. Baimaceda's army consists of 25,000 men, well equipped. Of these only 3,000 are of the old regular standing army; the rest are recruits forced into the service.

"Balmaceda said one of the men from whom these details are obtained, "calls them volunteers. To give you an exact idea of how voluntary their service is, I have seen batches of them, numbering from twenty-five to fifty each, brought into Valparaiso and surrounded by soldiers with fixed bayonets. This I have seen more than twenty times.'

To Urge Recognition. One of the most prominent leaders of the revolutionists, Dom Pedro Monett, is said to be on board the Pacific Mail steamship City of Para, which is expected here tomorrow. It is said he comes to confer with the authorities at Washington looking toward the recognition of the revolutionists as bellige rents. A rumor is also current in Spanish circles that the European agents of the revolutionists had paid the balance of the contract money due on two cruisers that have been finished for the Chilean government, and have loaded and dispatched these vessels to Chile, where they will fight against Balma-ceda. If this rumor is true it will be the hardest blow the revolutionists have Railroad Magnates on Trial. New York, June 23.—The trial of New Haven railroad officials for vio-lating the state law against heating cars by stoves began yesterday. Those on trial are: Charles P. Clark, Ezekiel H. Trowbridge, William D. Bishop, Nathaniel Wheeler, Henry C. Robinson, Edward M. Reed. Joseph Park, Chauncey M. Depew, Henry S. Lee, William Rockefeller and Leverett Brainard. The jury was completed late yesterday after-noon. One of the men in the jury box, a Washington market provision dealer, who had lived all his life in New York, declared that he had never heard of C. M. Depew or De Lancey Nicoll. Testi-mony is being taken today.

Sullivan's Money Put Up. New York, June 22.—Charles H. Johnson and James Wakely, according to their announcement, called at the office of the Illustrated News to meet the backers of Slavin and endeavor to arrange a fight between Slavin and Sullivan. Slavin's friends, however, did not publican appearance. Johnson and Wakely, after waiting an hour for them, decided to allow the $1,000 forfeit to remain with The News, so that Slavin's main with The News, so that Slavin's backers can cover it whenever they are

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Read proof below:

Dn. B. J. KENDALL CO.:

Sirs:—Last Summer I cured a Curb upon my horse with your celebrated Kendall's Spavin Cure and it was the best job I ever saw done. I have a dozen empty bottles, having used it with perfect success, curing every thing I tried it on. My neighbor had a horse with a very bad Spavin that made him lame. He asked me how to cure it. I recommended Kendall's Spavin Cure. He cured the Spavin in just three weeks.

Yours respectfully,

WOLCOTT WITTER.
