WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS DO AND SAY

A Chapter of Accidents, Crimes and Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There in the State and Flashed Over the Busy Wires.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 27.—The body of an unknown flood victim was found on the Morrel grounds during a baseball game here yesterday.

WARRENSBURG, Pa., June 29.—Rev. Wm. M. Ogden, rector of the church of the Holy Cross at Warrensburg, Warren county, fell dead in the pulpit while preaching yesterday morning. He was 55 years old.

BIRDSBORO, Pa., June 27.—A strange spectacle was witnessed here in a battle between two enraged cows. They charged each other repeatedly with great fury, when finally one of them, in a mad rush upon her adversary, struck a tree and broke her neck.

READING, Pa., June 80.-Mayor Merritt has issued a proclamation setting forth that he will enforce the ordinance prohibiting the sale of fireworks in this city. About fifty boys applied to the mayor for license to sell fireworks from stands on the sidewalks in different sec-tions of the city. In each instance the request was refused.

LEBANON, Pa., June 30.—General Go-bin, of this city, has located the site for the Third brigade encampment at Mt. Gretna, from July 17 to 25. The bri-gade headquarters will overlook the entire camp and parade ground. The gov-ernor and staff will be present on July 22, 23 and 24. The encampment will be made a thorough school of instruction in military tactics and duties.

STEELTON, Pa., June 27.—The employes at the Steelton Iron and Steel works asked for a considerable increase of The employers were willing to wages. accede to a portion of their demands, but the men would accept no compro-mise. In order to avert a strike the company today discharged several hun-dred men. Enough workmen are re-tained to keep the works nominally running.

PITTSBURG, June 30 .- Three bricklayers and a hod carrier, at work on Charles L. Davis' new theatre building, on Sixth street, were precipitated from a scaffold to the cellar, a distance of forty feet. The scaffold gave way when the hod full of brick was carelessly dumped upon it. Their injuries, while very severe, are not necessarily fatal. Their escape from instant death is remarkable.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 29.—Mendel R. Jacobs, a prominent tailor of this place, has been missing for several days, and it has just been ascertained that he has eloped with one of his employes, Miss Mollie Shoupe, of the tender age of 85. Mrs. Jacobs traced her recreant husband to Atlantic City, where he met Miss Shoupe. From there the couple Miss Shoupe. From there the couple fied to New York, where they have been lost sight of.

The animal turned on the boy while he was driving it out of the field. One of the horns of the bull entered the boy's side, fracturing a number of ribs and pene-trating the right lung. The left lung was also badly lacerated. He was otherwice severely hurt, and his recovery is loubtful.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 27 .- The employes of the Fishback rolling mills, rated by the Pottsville Iron and Steel company, have made a demand for the inforcement of the western scale, adopted at Pittsburg on the 17th inst. by the Amalgamated Association of Iron ad Steel Workers of the United States. William Atkins, president of the company, refuses to sign the scale, and there may be a strike July 1. Mr. At-kins signed the scale last year. READING, Pa., June 27 .- The farmers of Berks and adjoining counties are being pushed in their haymaking operations by the rapidly ripening grain. The wheat fields have taken on their golden hue, and the ryc is ready to be cut. The cutting of the rye and wheat has already commenced in some of the northern townships of this county. The grain harvest promises to be a bountiful me. The hav crop is much better than was expected.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 27.—At the large quarries at Piney Creek Robert Calbert and a gang of men prepared two blasts and fired them. One of them, however, failed to explode. Colbert took a sixteen foot bar and prepared to drill it out. He placed the end of the bar in the hole and let it drop, when an explo-sion occurred. Twelve feet of the bar was driven through his body, and it is said his screams were heard for half a mile. The remainder of the bar was pulled through the wound, and after twenty minutes of agony Calbert died.
