Fire Adds to the Agony in a French Disaster.

MURDER ON AN EXCURSION TRAIN

Picknickers Engage in a Drunker Row Which Costs Three Lives Four Killed and Two Fatally In jured on a Crossing at Elmira

Paris, July 28.—A dispatch just re ceived from the scene of Sunday night's fearful collision between excursior trains near Sainte Mande represents the accident as having been of even a more distressing character than at first ap-After the fearful crash the train caught fire, and those unfortunates who were pinned and wedged in the debris were slowly roasted. Many of the poor creatures were so placed that for many agonized minutes they were forced to look upon death remorselessly burning its way toward them.

Thirty bodies have been taken from the scene of the disaster and the search continues.

The engine of the rear train telescoped the last three cars of the train ahead and almost instantly the reservoir in which the gas was stored exploded with terrific force. The wreckage then caught

A full half hour elapsed after the out-break of the flames before the last faint cry of agony was stilled.

Fully 200 persons are now known to have been killed or injured. The search of the smoking wreck continues and blackened cinders that once were human bodies or parts of living men and women are still taken from among the twisted iron and smoldering wood. The horror exceeds anything known in France for many years and equals that near Basle Switzerland Basle, Switzerland, some weeks ago.

Many of the unfortunate people imprisoned beneath the wreck were drowned, while partly roasted, by the firemen who were summoned to the

In the town hall of St. Mande the blackened bodies lie in rows, unidentified and unidentifiable. In the corner is a heap of charred flesh and bones, all that remains of a number of bodies. The number of the dead is believed to be about forty-nine or fifty.

Le Paris states that an investigation which has been made into the accident has disclosed the startling fact that the accident was intentionally caused by some unknown miscreant who deliberately altered the signals so as to bring the two trains into collision.

Four Killed at the Crossing.

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 28.—An accident occurred about 9 o'clock last night at an Erie railroad crossing near Eldridge Park, in which four persons were killed and two so seriously injured that the doctors say they are likely to die at any moment. The accident occurred while Rev. Wellington White was out driving with his wife and three children, Hattie Haslings, a daughter of a neighbor, and Susie McCarthy, a nurse

Approaching the crossing of the railroad a freight train which had been cut in two to allow vehicles to drive to the park occupied the near track. Mr. White, believing that everything was clear, and not being warned by the sig-nalman, drove between the halves of the freight train upon the other track just in time to be struck by Erie passenger teain No. 24 from the west. Mr. White, his daughter Lillian, aged 9; Hattie Hastings, aged 9, and Susie McCarty, aged 9, were instantly killed. Mrs. White and her 2-year-old child received fractures of the skull and have been unconscious since the accident. Mabel White, aged 7, escaped with serisus injuries, but will recover. Terrible Wreck at Middletown, O. DAYTON, O., July 27 .- From 11 o'clock Saturday night till 6 yesterday morning the Union depot was thronged with anxious crowds of people. All were impatiently waiting for tidings of relatives or friends on the National Cash Register excursion train, which had been wrecked about 9 o'clock by a rear end collision near Middletown.

The first train arriving bearing a portion of the excursionists came in about 4 a. m. and two hours later another bearing the dead and wounded. Then it was learned that three people had been killed outright and seventeen others injured, some of them seriously. The wrecked train consisted of fourteen coaches and one baggage car and was bearing about 800 employes of the Cash Register works and their friends to this city from Woodsdale Island park, near Hamilton, where they had spent the day in enjoyment.

Death Ended the Row.

Cumberland, Md., July 28.—An ex-cursion train from Johnstown, Pa., brought about 1,200 persons to this city on a pleasure trip. On the return trip, when near Rockwood, Pa., a fight took place between some drunken men on the platform of one of the oars, to quell which James Kelly, a policeman from Johnstown, drew a revolver. This action angered the crowd and they made a rush for him and forced nim between the cars while the train was running at the rate of forty miles an hour. The conductor signaled the train to stop, the coupling broke, and Kelly dropped under the wheels and was crushed to death. Lucius Meyers, of Latrobe, was thrown from the platform under the wheels and killed. Milton Pyle, of Somerset, was thrown against some rocks in the ditch and had his skull fractured, from the effects of which he died soon after reaching Somerset.

A Cow Causes a Terrible Accident. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 27.—A suburban train on the Chattanooga, Rome and Columbus railroad met with a terrible accident beyond Mission Ridge. The engine was ahead of the train but running backward when it struck a cow, which turned the engine completely over on its side. The fireman, Lewis Potts, is buried beneath the engine and presumably dead. Engineer Thomas Burchell was injured also about the head and shoulders.

A Fatal Railroad Accident. DENVER, Colo., July 25.-The narrow gauge road east bound express from Salida, Colo., on the Denver and Rio Grande collided with the broad gauge Salt Lake express going west, a few miles from Carlile. The trains were running at full speed and were heavily loaded. The engine and front coaches of both trains were completely wrecked and four persons killed and several inA SOUTHERN LEADER

General Jubal A. Early, the orator of the occasion, was next introduced and began speaking from manuscript. General Early appeared in good health, but showed painfully the signs of old age. The statue is of bronze, heroic in size, and portrays Jackson with uncovered head leaning on his sword and left leg, and looking out upon a field of battle. In the right hand at his side is a field glass.
