Opposing the Colored Veterans. Among the delegations to the encamp-ment are that of the department of Louisiana and Mississippi. The delega-tions of this department will demand of the national encampment separation from the negro, and if denied they as-sert they are prepared to pull out of the organization. They realize that their demand will meet with bitter opposi-tion from many of the northern organ-izations, and have pre-pared to fight the izations, and have prepared to fight the issue to a finish.

"If the national encampment com-phes with our demands," said a delegate from New Orleans, "the white veterans of the department of Lousiana and Mississippi will continue to be a part of the Grand Army of the Republic. If our demand is refused they can muster us out. We are going to bring the ques-tion to a final issue."
