A Chapter of Accidents, Crimes and Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There in the State and Flashed Over the Busy Wires.

POTTSWILLE, Pa., Sept. 1.—The skele-ton of a man was found in the woods near Loffy yesterday. There was a bul-let hole in the back of the skull, which indicated that the man had been murdered. It is thought the body has been in the woods for over a year.

ASHLAND, Pa., Aug. 31. - An explosion of gas occurred at the Girard colliery, Girardville, which resulted in the serious injury of James Powellet and Owen Tierney. The explesion was caused by the ignition of a fuse after the men had charged three holes in the face of the WILKESBAREE, Pa., Aug. 29 .- Hamilton Seymour, a miner, 21 years old, was instantly killed in Pine Ridge colliery by a premature blast. The whole side of his head was blown off. His laborer, a Polander, escaped, having already sought a place of safety before Seymour fired the blast.

Tower Crry, Pa., Sept. 1.—The large Broodside Colliery, which employs about 1,000 men and boys, and had been idle on account of having been flooded by the storm of one week ago, resumed operations yesterday. The large pumps and hoisting tanks did good work in getting the body of water out of No. 3 slope.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 31.-The Democratic county committee elected O. G. Kaup county chairman and A. G. O. G. Kaup county chairman and A. G. Miller secretary. The following were elected delegates to the state conven-tion: Messrs. S. W. Sweely, W. H. Holloway, Dr. D. C. Flanagan, W. S. Montgomery, A. B. Kast, P. J. Eis-welt and W. E. Throne.

WARREN, Pa., Aug. 31.-Glenni W. WARREN, Pa., Aug. 51.—Glenni W. Scofield, aged 74, late judge of the court of claims, died of heart disease yester-day. He had been in poor health for some time and retired from the bench last month on account of his infirmities. Although partly paralyzed since Thursday he retained consciousness to the last. The funeral will take place on Tuesday.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 29.-An ac-cident occurred at the Mill Creek colliery last evening. Hamilton Seymour, an English miner, has been employed in the mine for many years. He was subject to fits. Last evening while in the act of firing a blast, he was seized with a fit and fell to the ground. The charge exploded and blew the unfortunate man to pieces.

CARLISLE, Pa., Aug. 29.—One of the most successful exhibitions ever held by the grangers was brought to a close last evening. During the day speeches were made by Hon. A. T. Taggart and Hon. E. M. Lewsbury. Many other mem-bers of the order made short addresses on the question of helding a constitu-tional convention. The exhibition will' be held at the same place next year. READING, Pa., Aug. 29.-The con-tinuous rains of the past several weeks have been unfavorable for the late crop of potatoes. Reports have been received from a number of districts to the effect that, owing to the wet weather, potatoes are rotting in the ground. Upon the strength of these reports potatoes, which were selling in the country districts at 30 cents per bashel, have advanced. EASTON, Pa., Sept. 1. - James E. Reilly, one of the best known journalists in the Lehigh valley, died yester-day of hasty consumption, aged 38 years. He had been connected with the Easton Daily Argns for ten years, and before that reported on the Easten Daily Free Press. Mr. Reilly was the correspond-ent from this section of The Evening Telegraph, of Philadelphia, for the past ten years, and for papers in other cities. A wife and six children survive him. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.-Side by side in one casket covered with flowers lay the dead bodies of the suicide, Lizzie Wilson, and her babe, at the residence of the dead girl's mother. The body of the mother lay partly on the left side, and on her left arm was her infant, Katie. For an hour or more a constant stream of people passed through the house and viewed the remains. The religious services were conducted by Rev. C. H. Woolston, of the East Baptist church. HAMBURG, Pa., Aug. 29.—Hundreds of people daily visit the scene of the exten-sive washout on the Lebanon Valley railroad, between Sinking Spring and Wernersville. No other repairs have been made than to lay a temporary track around the washout, and the scene is still as it was on Manday morning is still as it was on Monday morning after the flood had done its work. Most of the hands were transferred to the Reading and Columbia branch where two hundred men have been at work all the week. It is expected that, according to the progress already made, a tem-porary track will be completed by tonight. night. PITTSBURG, Sept. 1.—In the United States circuit court Judge Acheson handed down an opinion in the case of the Pennsylvania Railroad company versus Townsend Whelen et al. and the Allegheny Valley Railroad company, decreeing that the sale of the latter road must be made upon the original bill filed by the Pennsylvania railroad in 1884, which provides that the sale be made subject to a lien on mortgages. The income bookholders intervened, asking that the sale be made upon the The income bookholders intervened, asking that the sale be made upon the discharge of the liens on mortgages. The effect will be that the purchasers of the road will be required only to pay the interest on the mortgages instead of satisfying them. The formal decree of sale has not yet been made. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28. - Charles Lawrence, the assistant cashier of the Keystone National bank, who is under going a sentence of seven years imposed by Judge Butler more than a week age in the United States district court, ha made a full confession. The confession, which is addressed to ex-Bank Examiner Drew, fully unfolds the method pursued by the bank officials to deceive the examiner and all other to deceive the examiner and all others having anything to do with the govern-ment and the institution. It sets forth that from 1899 down to about the time of the closing of the bank in March, 1891, methods were adopted deceive the keenest official. The means employed for deception could only be suggested and the fraudulent transac-tions carried on by showd men.

The Young Baroness Confided in the Countess, and the Latter Used Her Knowledge for Blackmailing Purposes-The Tale That Was Sup pressed by Imperial Decree.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A double suicide, or a martier and encide, occurred at Mayoring, Austria, on Jan. 30, 1889, that shacked the world and caused a great sensation. At that time the young Baroness Marie de Vetzera was found dead, along with her lover, the Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria. So many rumors were circulated at I. Newton Baker, Colonel Ingersoll's private secretary, who was shot on Aug. I by Orville E. Anderson, is recovering. Baroness de Vitzera, re-solved that the whole truth should be known, and to this end edited a story, which was put into the form of a vol-ume, to vindicate her daughter, and fifty copies were printed. The emperor learned of the intended publication, and orders were issued which caused the seizure of the volumes. The manuscript was saved, and from it the story is told. A Mother's Narrative.

A Mother's Narrative. It gives a consecutive narrative of the Fortune, the colored editor of New York, affair in so detailed a way that its accuracy apparently cannot be called into or a colored lawyer of Ohio named Maxquestion. An important feature, accord-ing to the mother's story, is the infamons part played in the tragedy by no less a personage that the niece of the empress of Austria. The distinguished lady's actions are given with the fullest of de-tail and the mother blat well, will succeed Frederick Douglass as a passenger train on the Western North Carolina railroad plunged from a bridge a distance of sixty feet and twenty-two were actions are given with the fullest of de-tail, and the pamphlet accuses her of being not only the intermediary but a blackmailer as well. Baroness Marie's last letters to her family are likewise made public, and the story is told how a fortune teller was made to play a mys-terions part in the termely killed. There is good evidence that a track was purposely loosened by tramps.

Briefly summarized, and as told in the young girl's letters, the story is that Baroness Marie Vetzera, then 17 years old, fell in love at first sight with the crown prince, and that she frequently Finally she entrusted her secret to Countess Larisch, the empress of Aus-tria's niece, and this lady at once under-At Vitebsk, Russia, the hungry people broke into the railway station and private residences in search of food. was broken to the mother by the em-press of Austria herself. The paraphilet shares that the prince's mind had long ballier hern given to thoughts of suicide, but that Marie did her best to dismade him from this fatal step. It was not unfil hope for both of them had fled that she resolved to share big death his death.

For the first time is revealed the in-dignities offered to her dead body. How she was carted away in a sitting posthre was carted away in a sitting pos-ture between her two uncles, even a coffin being denied her relatives when moving her; how her mother was perse-outed and vilified, how everything was done to lay the blame on the girl, forms a harrowing story as told by the mother. TWO MORE BODIES FOUND.

Mayor Grant Makes a Discovery in the Park Place Ruins.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Mayor Grant made a personal visit to the scene of the Park place disaster yesterday. He poked about in the ruins in the vant under the sidewalk, and was horrified to discover the charged and mutilated body of a man. What looked like an-other human being was lying near by, Word was immediately sent to the board of health and the coroner's office, and the mayor has issued directions that all of the wreckage be cleared away at

The first body discovered is supposed to be that of Abraham Derkaveritch, of 141 Delancey street. He was employed in the bronze leaf factory of Rosenfeld & Co. The body was not much burned, although at first it looked to be. The second body is thought to be that of a man named Blitz, who was also in the employ of Rosenfeld & Co. Commissioner Robbins and Ohief Boany of the fire department called at the mayor's office late in the afternoon and threw the whole blame of the matter on Contractor Crimmins, who certified to them that every inch of ground had been gone over and that no more debris or bodies remained on the scene. They promised to carry out the mayor's inpromised to carry out the mayor's in-structions immediately. About the ruins the air is heavy with the edor of decomposed human flesh, and it is prob-able that more bodies will be found.

Nine English Miners Killed.

Nine English Miners Killed. LONDON, Sept. 1.—An explosion took place in the Malago colliery, near Bed-minster, Somersetshire. A large num-ber of miners were at work in the mine at the time of the disaster. A dull, rumbling sound underground, followed by a cloud of coal dust issuing from the shaft first announced that some terrible accident had happened. An exploring party was at once organized, and had not been long at work when they sig-nalled that a fire damp explasion of a most sorious nature had occurrud, and that they had already found five dand miners. The bodies of these unfortu-nate men were then hauled to the sur-face. A moment or so later four other the men were then hauled to the sur-lice. A moment or so later four other rought out of the mine, and it was an-ownced that many others were known be either dead or seriously injured.
