GRANGE PARK.

THE PICNIC A GREATER SUCCESS THAN EVER BEFORE.

Fine Weather and Immense Crowds. A Large Number of Exhibitors. Over Three Hundred Camping on the Grounds.

The Grangers' Eighteenth Annual Picnic Exhibition is a success again this year and the attendance has been greater than of any year heretofore. The Park is admirably situated. No better location for the exhibition could be found in Central Pennsylvania.

Wednesday opened beautifully with a bright sun and cool air. All morning a continuous stream of vehicles passed through town and the trains coming in were heavily loaded with cars, and the coaches were packed. People began to swarm upon the ground early and the immense throng numbered over ten thousand.

Today promises another grand day for the picnic. Long before daylight the buggies and wagons began to come in for a perfect caravan and prospectors are for an attendance that even exceeds that of yesterday.

Among the attractive features yesterday was the address of ex-Governor St. John of Kansas, who received the usual amount of favorable comment upon the able manner in which he handled the rum question.

Saturday morning, Centre Hall's streets were lively with wagons loaded down with camp equipment and over one hundred tents were taken already that day for the following week by those who took advantage of the opportunity to avail themselves of the outing.

Sunday morning opened beautifully with a clear sky and a brisk breeze, and a large attendance was anticipated for the day.

Monday morning opened bright and clear with indications for a beautiful day, which were verified. As early as three o'clock in the morning vehicles began to pass through town to the park.

Mr. Henry E. Rarick, a former Centre Hall boy, attended the picnic for a few days. He is employed in the locomotive department of the Altoona shops and has a good position.

A horse belonging to Johnny Sourbeck, of Bellefonte, on Sunday tramped into a post hole on the Grange picnic ground, and had a leader of the front leg severed by a sharp stone.

Centre county folks who go to Philadelphia mainly stop at the St. Elmo, on Arch street. Col. Feger, the proprietor, is a prince in cleverness, and makes all his guests feel at home.

The saw mill of Howard & Perley, at Williamsport, was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning. The fire was discovered at 12:35 and in two hours the structure was in ashes.

A well-meaning exchange says the safest plan when a stranger wants you to sign a paper, is to consider the matter for three days, spend three more in meditation and prayer, and then kick the stranger off the premises.

The picnic had begun. Only a few exhibitors of machinery were in attendance and those were local. The machinery exhibit this year is far below that of last year.

In the afternoon about three o'clock the sky again became overcast with dark and threatening clouds and was followed by a very brisk breeze. Much to the approval of all it rained only slightly and soon cleared up.

The Lewisburg Fair.

The Union county Agricultural Society is one of the oldest organizations of the kind with the confines of the State. THE FARMERS CAN PLAY.

Bellefonte Done up to the Tune of 9 to 4 By Centre Hall.

For the third time this season it has been proven that Centre Hall is really the possessor of a base ball club that can play ball and another scalp has been added to her list. The Centre club of Bellefonte, was scheduled to play with our boys on Saturday and they came over with the full expectation of making the farmers chase the ball all afternoon, but before the game was ended they began to realize that the farmers were fully as familiar with swinging the bat and chasing the leather as jerking the handles of the plow and from the way the boys swung the stick it seemed they were more familiar with it.

It was an interesting game all through and both teams indulged in a little kicking from the decisions of the umpire. Murray and McCloud were the points for the Centre Hall Club and Saylor and Yerger for Bellefonte. Murray pitched a fine game and the field support was almost perfect. Only three hits were made off Murray and whenever Bellefonte hit the ball it was either a little pop up fly or an easy grounder and the batter became an easy victim to be thrown out at first. Only four balls were batted outside of the diamond and the fielders had an easy time of it.

Have you visited the Department Store in Grange Park? If not, you have missed the finest display of wares on the ground, and as such, it has been conceded by all our competitors. A great deal of labor and expense has made the display very attractive, enough so as to excite the comment and notice of all those who attend the picnic, and not without sufficient cause for this.

If you miss our display, the greatest feature and attraction in the park will not be seen and 'twould have been as well you had stayed at home. The store is "way out of sight," and the others are "not in it."
