CHURCH DEDICATED

The New Presbyterian Church Consecrated

Sabbath Morning. The new Presbyterian church was dedicated on Sunday morning as announced in these columns last week. The morning was extremely warm and no doubt many were kept from witnessing the consecration services owing to the dread of the heat. As it was however, the main audience room and Sunday school room were well filled. Rev. Freeman, D. D., pastor of the Huntingdon Presbyterian church, filled the pulpit, and delivered an excellent sermon using as his text, "The Love of God Passeth man is a brilliant speaker and seldom is ing such a fine sermon as that congregaorgan. Services were also held in the afternoon, Rev. Gerly, of Lewistown, occus pying the pulpit. Dr. Freeman again occupied the pulpit in the evening.

The building consecrated Sunday morning was started about two years ago, by a former pastor of the flock, Rev. Kerr. From the outstart it was the intention of the committee to go on with the work only as sufficient funds were in hand, and the process of erection was the wife of the ticket agent at Oak Hall thereby slow. A handsome reflector sheds its light over the congregation at night. This was presented by Miss Emily Alexander, whose contributions and zeal added greatly to the completion of the building. The accaustic properties of the building are perfect and the speaker can be heard with distinctness, in the rear as well as in the front. It is a handsome building, though not large, yet all told, three hundred persons can quite comfortably be seated, and our Presbyterian brethren can well feel proud of their house of worship, and more so since it is entirely tree of debt. A bell yet remains to be purchased, but funds have already been raised towards the purchase of one and Centre Hall will soon hear its peals reverberating through its precints.

The building committee who had charge of the erection of the sacred edifice were J. C. Boal, J. M. Gilliland, Geo. L. Goodhart, W. H. Stiver and B. D. To Drill for Natural Gas.

Arrangements are about completed for drilling a test well for natural gas on lands near Lock Haven, and the men who have the project in hand hope to have the drillers at work in a short time. Over seven thousand acres of land have been leased and the indications are such as to lead to the belief that gas in paying quantities will be obtained. The lands on which the test will be sunk are situated north of the city and in a direct line about six miles distant. In case gas is found Lock Haven will receive such a boom as nothing else can give the town.

Death from Paralysis.

Mrs. Bitner, relict of Benj. Bitner, who died about five years ago, died on Monday morning last, from a paralytic stroke. The District Conference of the M. E. church convened in session in the Centre Hall M. E. church on Tuesday. The Conference is composed of between sixty and seventy-five ministers along with their delegates, who were expected to be in attendance at the sessions, and aristers reported and the conference so far as ministers were concerned was on Wednesday afternoon and accomplished only little work at their sessions. It was expected the sessions would be to the small representation it was decided to adjourn.

A Painful Accident.

The Philipsburg Ledger says: "Philip to the hospital on Thursday suffering from injuries received in the Carwenes sation with another boy he picked up a tar rope and thoughtlessly tossed it up over the line shaft. It caught fast and in a flash jerked him up toward the ceiling, but, fortunately, before he came in contact with anything, the thumb around which the rope was thrown was torn loose from the hand by the weight of his body and he was dashed to the floor, and one arm broken in two places below the elbow. The lacerated thumb was down to Centre Hall, in good health and fastened to the rope hung to the shaft while it was removed. The injury what would, but for this, have occurred."

A Peculiar Case.

The Judge of Cambria county has a peculiar case on hands to decide. In the June flood of 1889, one William H Overbeck was drowned at Johnstow n, and now two widows appear to claim morning at 10 o'clock from the late the insurance money on his life, one coming from Philadelphia, who claims and proves that she was married to the deceased in 1875, and the other widow proves that she was married to the depeased in 1881, at Pittsburg. The Court has possession of the money, and the lawyers are agreed that it shall be disposed of as the Judge shall deem best.

Another Endowment.

The Lewisburg News says: At a mass meeting held in the Beaver Memorial Church, Sunday evening, in the interest of education, over $10,000; were raised toward the endowment of Bucknell University. This endowment at present amounts to $350,000. John D. Rockefeller, through the National Educational Society, gives $10,000, provided $90,000 are raised by popular subscription. Lewisburg started the ball a rolling with a promise of more. The canvass at large will be taken up by the Rev. James W. Putman, of Philadelphia, who had charge of the meeting here.
