THE EXTRA SESSION.

Pennsylvania's Senate Responds to the Governor's Call.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 27.—In the senate yesterday afternoon the remainder of HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 28.—The proceedings in the senate yesterday degenerated into innumerable practical discussions, and nothing of a practical nature was done. The Republicans charged the Democrats and the attorney general with a purpose to make political capital out of the inquiry. The order of business having been changed by authorizing counsel to proceed with the arguments in the Boyer case, the attorney general asked that he be permitted to re-examine that gentleman. The request was denied.

In answer to a question by Senator Robinson as to his knowledge of the state's balances in the Keystone bank Mr. Boyer answered: "No, most emphatically. I never knew that John Bardsley had a dollar of state funds in the Keystone bank until I read it in the newspapers."

The senate reassembled at 3 p. m., but the session was devoted exclusively to eulogies on the late Senator Mehard.
HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—At yesterday's opening session of the senate, after a lengthy debate, it was decided that argument shall proceed in the following order: First, by counsel of the respondent; second, by the attorney general; third, the question of justification of the senate may be discussed by counsel and the senate. Attorney General Hensel said that he would make but one speech, and would address himself to the question of facts only. Unless he had the privilege of closing, he would have to decline to further assist the senate, he said, out setting the question, Lieutenant Governor Watres directed counsel for respondent to proceed with argument.

Rufus F. Shapley, began the argument for his client, the state treasurer.
He commenced by declaring that the governor had no doubt done his duty in calling the extra session of the senate, as he understood the constitution, but the proceedings, in Mr. Shapley's opinion, was not only unjust to his client, but a violation of the constitution. The action of the governor in calling the senate together was criticized because it was taken during a political campaign. He declared that there was not a particle of evidence to show that there was any intentional wrong doing on the part of the state treasurer. The proceedings, he asserted, should have been in the form of an impeachment if the facts justified such action. In any other state, he said, the action of the governor would have subjected him to impeachment. Mr.
Shapley's argument was continued at the afternoon session, and at its conclusion the senate adjourned.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30.—Yesterday's sessions of the senate were taken up entirely with the argument of Judge Orvis denying the constitutionality of the proceeding and the jurisdiction of the senate. The judge began by saying that his argument would necessarily be brief, because his friend, Mr. Shapley, had so nearly exhausted and covered everything in the shape of authority and analogy that it would be difficult without in some respect repeating to continue the argument on that line. This argument, he said, would be equally applicable to the case of each of the accused officials, Messrs. Boyer and McCamant.

The question raised by the answer of those officials to the charges of the governor, which has been filed here in the senate, is of the jurisdiction of this body to inquire into the charges. "To my mind," said the judge, "it is the most remarkable case that has ever come before a body in America since the supreme court of the United States, in ex parte Milligan, decided that a citizen could not be lawfully tried for alleged crimes before a military commission."

The question that arises is, can a citizen of this commonwealth, who has been duly elected to an office by the people and has entered upon the duties of that office, be removed from that office as a punishment for misdemeanor without first being impeached?

The very statement of the case would suggest a very positive negative. It is contrary to every principle of right and justice that a man can be punished for an alleged crime before he has been tried and convicted. The charges in the governor's message are charges in every instance of misdemeanor, every one of which constitutes an impeachable or indictable offense, liable to impeachment by the legislature or indictment in the courts of Dauphin county.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—Before the senate yesterday Mayer Sulzberger, of Philadelphia, in counsel for the accused Philadelphia magistrates, made an argument on the jurisdiction of the senate in the cases of his clients.

In his argument he coupled his clients with the auditor general and the state treasurer. He began by saying that the institutions and constitution of this commonwealth are on trial. He denied the right of the governor to interpret the constitution. The governor is the chief executive, and his duty is to see that the laws are faithfully executed.
The legislature, elected by the people, enacts the laws.

Passing upon the criminality of accused state officials is not executive business. If the state treasurer has abstracted money from the treasury, if the auditor general has been criminal in his administration of his office, the courts of Dauphin county are ample to deal with them.

If the magistrates of Philadelphia are guilty of the vulgar crime of bribery, the interests of the people can be taken care of by their prosecution in the courts of Philadelphia. The only executive business the senate can transact is the passing upon nominations made by the governor.

At the conclusion of Mr. Sulzberger's argument the senate adjourned until 8 p. m. Wednesday.
