A DOG'S CUNNING.

Hunting dogs, when they grow old, become rheumatic, or are at least debilitated with pains. We know, too, that they crave heat, and get as near the fire as possible-a craving which increases as they grow older. One such dog, older than the others and slower in getting at the lodge on returning from the hunt, was often crowded away from the fire by the other livelier dogs getting all the best places before him. Finding himself thus turned out in the cold, he would dash toward the door barking, when the others, supposing it was an alarm, would rush away, too, while the old rheumatic went to the fire and selected a place to suit him.

TOMMY'S PARTNER.

They were the oldest pair-Tommy and his partner; for Tommy was a small lad still in frocks, the partner a big cast-iron lion that ornamented his aunty's front yard. Tommy rode upon his back, hung flowers around his neck, shared his bread and butter with him, daubing his lionship all over in the sharing. Daily, as he went and came, it was: "Mornin', Lion; evenin', Lion; don't you be scared till Tommy comes back again."

Everybody laughed over the boy's odd fancy-papa most of all. It was he who taught Tommy to talk of "my partner," and told that young person fairy tales of how his partner came to life of nights, and went about to see if Tommy had been good. "Robert, you ought to be ashamed of yourself; that child believes every word that you tell him," grandma would say after one of these recitals. Mamma and auntie only laughed over them. Tommy, they thought, would soon outgrow such faith; besides, it was useful sometimes, for Tommy had a very stout will of his own, though his heart was so tender that if mamma said, "I don't think Lion likes boys who do that," he was very apt to stop without more ado. By-and-by the circus came to town, and Tommy was told that he was to go and see it. Papa told him as well such tales of it all-the horses, the music, the chariots, the beautiful ladies, and clowns, and elephants, and so on-that he quite forgot to pay Lion his customary morning visit. When presently he found himself carried safe in papa's arms through a crowd whose like his small eyes had never seen, he put on the airs of a connoisseur, looked the camels and elephant and giraffe critically over to say, "Me don't like them-ain't like the ones in my Noah's ark." Then they came to the bear cage, and Tommy wanted to "turn the big dog loose." The tiger made him hide his eyes in papa's shoulder-the creature had such yellow fangs and fierce black and yellow stripes. At the next cage he sprang almost out of papa's arms, and began bawling: "They've got my partner an' put a skin and a tail on 'im, and are goin' to take him away from me. Don'. let them, papa; don't! don't! If you do, I'll be just as bad as I can be."

The keeper grinned; Tommy's papa laughed a little uneasily. "Sure, sorr," said the showman, chucking the lad under the chin, "ye must be early in the business __ a reg'lar infaut phenomenon." "Hush! hush, Tommy!" said his father. Tommy howled on, and refused to be silent till he was taker home. There he found his partner as usual, and ran to cling about his neck, and finally to fall asleep fondling one cold uplifted paw .- [Harper's Young FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

WATERING HOUSE PLANTS. Amateurs, as a rule, are not judicious when it comes to watering house plants. In point of fact, this is an important matter, one that controls to a great extent the thrift of the plant. A good plan with most plants is to wait until the soil is quite dry and then water sufficiently to moisten the soil down to the very bottom of the flower pot. Foliage plants ought to be often sponged or syringed so as to keep the leaves free from dust .- [New York

DECORATED CHAIRS. Decorated chairs make nice presenta An old rocking chair may have the rockers removed, and castors placed in the back legs. Let the front ones be placed on blocks or the back ones made shorter to allow for the castors. Pad the back and arms very thickly, and fasten a roll of the padding across the top. Tack a full ruffle of silkoline around the bottom, letting it just reach the castors. Cover the back and arms with it, tacking it on plain. Tack it under the roll, in front, or fastent it under with invisible stitches. Make a good-sized cushion for the seat, and on the outside of each arm place a big shirred pocket, tacking the bottom to the seat of the chair. Cover a small hassock in the same material, and a nicer present you cannot find for any old person who sits a good deal. The pockets will prove a treasure to them to hold papers, knitting, or spectacles.

THE CLEANING OF CURRANTS.

The cleaning of currants is often a laborious task. So many stones, sticks and refuse matter of various kinds are found in currents that many good housekeepers refuse to use them. It is very difficult, if it is possible, to find anything that will give the same flavor to a pudding or cake as currants. This fruit has a certain acid richness which is very different from the sweet flavor of a good raisin. The which should have the bone crushed but not removed. Bring it to a quick boil in order to throw up the scum.

when the grape is in an immature state, before the seed has formed, and consequently it has no richness and fruitiness of flavor. The best way to clean currants is to rub a cup of flour into every pound of currants.

The flour must be rubbed into the currants thoroughly so as to separate the individual currants. The currants must then be rubbed through a coarse sieve. This last sifting will carry with it most of the fine stems. Pick out any stones or larger stems and immerse the currants in the colander in plenty of cold water, rubbing them well under the water. This will cause any small stems to float. Take out the currants, handful by handful, dry them in a dry towel, spread them on boards or in the bottom of large dripping pans and set them in the closet of the stove under the oven to dry. There are many old-fashioned fruit cakes that owe their whole character to currants, no rasins being used .- New York Tribune.

HINTS FOR THE SICKROOM.

There should be in every house a pair of small porcelain-lined kettles sacredly kept for sickroom cookery. While a broth might be made in the gruel kettle, a delicate porridge would take to itself the slightest of meat flavors and odors. The "burning down" of food and the "chipping" of the lining, accidents which sooner or later befall kettles in constant use, make them wholly unfit for sickroom service. A fresh rinsing with boiling water immediately at the moment of using should always be given. The rims, bails and ears of these kettles should receive the closest of scrutiny; the brush should be vigorously applied at every washing, and the drying cloth be immaculate. In a fine house, where the crystal and silver shone like sunshine, I once saw a gray shred of dishe oth clinging about the ear of a saucepan in which sago was cooking for a fastidious invalid.

A Delicate Broth.-Use half a gallon of cold water to a pound of meat, little acid, seedless sultana raisin does not approach a current in flavor it has a crude acid because it is cured Skim very clean; then set where it will only barely bubble for three hours. Then strain the broth away from the meat, which should be found "cooked to rags." Wash the kettle and return the broth to it, and add salt delicately, as the taste of a person in illness is usually far more sensitive to seasonings than when in health. Let it come to the boiling point and strain again. If the condition of the patient demands it, take on the fine particles of fat by laying a fresh blotting paper or a folded napkin upon the surface for two or three sevonds. Serve in c.

A SARATOGA CO. MIRACLE. HELPLESS FOR YEARS AND EX-CLUDED FROM HOSPITALS

AS INCURABLE.

THE REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE OF CHAS. QUANT AS INVESTIGATED BY AN AL-BANY (N. Y.) JOURNAL REPORT-

> ER-A STORY OF SUR-PASSING INTEREST. Albany, N. Y. Journal, March 12th.

SARATOGA, March 11th .- For some time past there have been reports here and elsewhere in Saratoga County of a most remark able-indeed, so remarka le as to be miracu--cure of a most severe case of locomo ataxia, or creeping paralysis, simply by the use of a popular remedy known as 'Pink Pills for Pale People," prepared and put up by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Morristown, N. Y., and Brockville, Ont. The story was to the effect that Mr. Chas. A. Quant, of Galway, who for the last six or sight years, has been a great sufferer from or eight years has been a great sufferer from creeping paralysis and its attendant ills, and who had become utterly powerless of all self-help, had, by the use of a few boxes of the Pink Pills for Pale People, been so fully restored to health as to be able to walk about the street without the aid of crutches The fame of this wonderful, miraculous cure was so great that the Evening Journal re-porter thought it worth his while to go to Galway to call on Mr. Quant, to learn from his lips, and from the observation and testi-mony of his neighbors, if his alleged cure was a fact or only an unfounded rumor.
And so he drove to Galway and spent a day and a night there in visiting Mr. Quant, getting his story and interviewing his neighbors and fellow-townsmen. It may be proper to say that Galway is a pretty little village of about 400 people, delightfully located near the centre of the town of Galway, in Saratoga County, and about 17 miles from Saratoga Springs. Upon inquiry the residence of Mr. Upon inquiry the residence of Mr. Charles A. Quant was easily found, for everybody seemed to know him, speak well of him, and to be overflowing with surprise and atisfaction at his wonderful cure and restoration to the activities of enterprising citizenship, for Mr. Quant was born in Galway and had spent most of his life there. Mr. Quant was found at his pretty home, on a pleasant street nearly opposite the academy. In response to a knock at the door it was opened by a man who, in reply to an inquiry if Mr. Quant lived there and was at home, said: "I am Mr. Quant, Will you come in?" After a little general and preliminary conversation, and after he had been apprised of the object for which the Journal reporter had called upon him, he, at request, told the story of himself and of his sickness and terrible sufferings, and of the ineffectual by the use of Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for ale People, and cheerfully gave assent to its use for publication. He said: "My name is Charles A. Quant. I am 37 years old. I was born in the village of Galway, and, excepting while traveling on business and a ittle while in Amsterdam, have spent my whole life here. My wife is a native of Ontario. Up to about eight years ago I had never been sick and was then in perfect health. I was fully six feet tall, weighed 180 pounds and was very strong. For twelve years I was a traveling salesman for a piano and organ company and had to do, or at least did do, a great deal of heavy lifting, got my meals very irregularly and slept in enough 'spare beds' in country houses to freeze any ordinary man to death, or at least give him the sm. About eight years ago I began to feel distressed in my stomach and con lted several doctors about it. They all said it was dyspepsia, and for dyspepsia I was treated by various doctors in different places, and took all the patent medicines I could hear of that claimed to be a cure for dyspepsia. But I continued to grow grad-ually worse for four years. Then I began ually worse for four years. Then I began to have pain in my back and legs and became conscious that my legs were getting weak and my step unsteady, and then I staggered when I walked. Having received no benefit from the use of patent medicines, and feeling that I was constantly growing worse, I then upon advice, began the use of electric beits, pads and all the many different kinds of electric appliances I could hear of, and spent hundreds of dollars for them, but they did me no good. (Here Mr. Quant showed the Journal reporter an electric suit of under-wear for which he paid $124.) In the fall of 1888 the doctors advised a change of climate, so I went to Atlanta, Ga., and acted as agent the Estey Organ Company. While there

I took a thorough electric treatment, but it only seemed to aggravate my disease, and the only relief I could get from the sharp and distressing pains was to take morphine. The pain was so intense at times that it seemed as though I could not stand it, and I almost longed for death as the only certain relief. In September of 1888 my legs gave out entirely and my left eye was drawn to one side, so that I had double sight and was disay. drawn to one side, so that double sight and was dizzy. trouble so affected my whole nervous system that I had to give up business. Then I re turned to New York and went to the Re velt hospital, where for four months I was treated by specialists and they pronounced my case locomotor ataxia and incurable. After I had been under treatment by Prof. Starr and Dr. Ware for four months, they told me they had done all they could for me. Then I went to the New York hospital on Fifteenth street, where, upon examination, they said I was incurable and would not take me in. At the Presbyterian hospital they examined me and told me the same thing. examined me and told me the same thing. In March, 1890, I was taken to St. Peter's hospital in Albany, where Prof. H. H. Hun trankly told my wife my case was hopeless; that he could do nothing for me and that she had better take me back home and save my money. But I wanted to make a trial of Prof. hun's famous skill and I remained under his treatment for nine weeks, but severed no benefit. All this time I had been under his treatment for nine weeks, out as cured no benefit. All this time I had been growing worse. I had become entirely paralyzed from my waist down and had partly lost control of my hands. The pain was terrible: my legs feit as though they partly lost control of my hands. The pain was terrible; my legs felt as though they were freezing and my stomach would not retain food, and I fell away to 129 pounds. In the Albany hospital they put 17 big burns on my back one day with red hot irons, and after a few days they put 14 more burns on and treated me with electricity, but I got worse rather than better; lost control of my bowels and water, and upon advice of the doctor, who said there was no hope for me, I was brought home, where it was thought that death would soon come to relieve me of my sufferings. Last September, while in this helpless and suffering condition, a friend of mine in Hamilton, Ont.; called my attention to the statement ont.; called my attention to the statement of one John Marshall, whose case had been similar to say own, and who had been curs! by the use of Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for l'ale People.

"In this case Mr. Marshall, who is a promi-"In this case Mr. Marshall, who is a prominent member of the Royal Templars of Temperance, had after four years of constant treatment by the most eminent Canadian physicians been pronounced incurable, and was paid the $1000 total disability claim allowed by the order in such cases. Some months after Mr. Marshall began a course of treatment with Dr. Williams's Pink Pills, and after taking some 15 boxes was fully restored to health.

"I thought I would try them, and my wife sent for two boxes of the pills and 1 took them according to the directions given on the wrapper on each box. For the first few days the cold baths were pretty severe, as I was so very weak, but I continued to follow instructions as to taking the pills and treatment, and even before I had used up the two boxes of pills I began to feel beneficial effects from them. My pains were not so bad; I felt warmer; my head felt better; my food began to relish and agree with me; I could straighten up; the feeling began to come back into my limbs; I began to be able to get about on crutches; my eye came back again as good as ever, and now, after the use of eight boxes of the pills—at a cost of only $4.00—see!—I can, with the help of a cane only, walk all about the house and yard, can saw wood, and on pleasant days I walk down town. My stomach trouble is gone; I have gained 10 pounds; I feel like a new man, and when the spring opens I expect to be able to renew my organ and piano agency. I cannot speak in too high terms of Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for Pale People, as I know they saved my life after all the doctors had given me up as incurable."

Other citizens of Galway, seeing the wonderful cure of Mr. Quant by the Pink Pills for Pale People, are using them. Frederick Sexton, a sufferer from rheumatism, said be was finding great benefit from their use, and Mr. Schultz, who had suffered from chronic dysentery for years, said he had taken two boxes of the pills and was already cured. Mr. Quant had also tried Faith cure, with experts of that treatment in Albany and Greenville, S. C., but with no beneficial re-

A number of the more prominent citizens of Galway, as Rev. C. E. Herbert, of the Presbyterian church; Prof. James E. Kelly, principal of the academy; John P. and Harvey Crouch, and Frank and Edward Willard merchants, and many others to whom Mr Quant and his so miraculous cure by the use of Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for Pale People are well known, were pleased to have the opportunity of bearing testimony to the high character of Mr. Quant, and of verifying the story of his recovery from the terrible affliction from which he had for so long a time been a sufferer.

Fruly, the duty of the physician is not to save life, but to heal disease.

The remarkable result from the use of Dr. Williams's P.nk Pills in the case of Mr Quant, induced the reporter to make further inquiries concerning them, and he ascertained that they are not a patent medicine in the sense in which that term is generally used, but a highly scientific preparation, the result of years of study and careful experi-ment. They have no rival as a blood builder and nerve restorer and have met with unparalleled success in the treatment of such diseases as paralysis, rheumatism, sciatica, St. Vitus's dance, palpitation of the heart, that tired feeling which affects so many, and all diseases depending upon a

On further inquiry the writer foun I that these pills are manufactured by The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and Morristown, N. Y., and are sold in boxes (never in bulk by the hundred), at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., from either address. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment nparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies, or medical treatment.

A Welsh Epitaph.

The following epitaph is reproduced from a tomb stone in the cemetery in Llwadllwfwdl:

"Here lies in a horizontal position the outside cases of George Rutleigh, watchmaker, whose abilities in that line were an honor to his profession. Integrity was the main spring and prudence the regulator of all the actions of his life. Human, honest, industrious, his hands never stopped until they had relieved distress. He had the art of disposing of his time in such a way that he never went wrong except when set agoing by persons who did not know his key, and even then was easily set right again. He departed this life November 7, 1811, wound up in the hope of being taken in hand by his Maker, thoroughly cleaned, regulated and repaired and set the world to come."-Jewelers' Circular.
