The Sweep of Death.

Half a hundred names compose the list of those killed in Kansas by the cyclone of last Thursday and still the W. Lohr. death roll is incomplete. The details of the disaster, so far as it affected the J. S. Dauberman, ier, street com. towns of the stricken section are now believed to be complete, but many of the casualities in the country regions are still unrecorded.

tions of New Haven, Towanda, Augusta and Smolan are now marked only by wreckage and piles of splintered timber, which before composed the houses of the town. Of the fifty dead, twenty-seven were killed outright. The remaining twenty-three are those who were fatally injured and have since died.
