The Chicago platform, as adopted, is sound and able but too long.

The attempt to go back eight years for tariff doctrine, with the McKinley tariff square before us as the issue, was tunately the sentiment of the convention, representing the aggressive and of 1890 and 1891, was against the attempted straddle. The exposure of sham reciprocity and the denunciation of trade fitly supplement the tariff plank.

The silver plank will commend itself to conservative men. It denounces the Sherman act as "fraught with possibilities of danger in the future which | universal consciousness of a Divine beshould make all of its supporters as well as its author anxious for its speedy repeal." The Democratic party thus indorses the position taken by Senator alone. The challenge of the Republican Convention on the Force bill is met by an earnest and patriotic declaration against this revolutionary and undemocratic scheme, which will emphasize the issue greatly to Democratic advantage in the campaign, especially at the South. The civil-service- reform plank is in marked contrast with the four lines of perfunctory reference in the Republican platform. The Tilden declaration of 1876 that "public office is a public trust" is reiterated, together with the reaffirmation of the splendid reform doctrine of that platform, and a scathing arraignment of the scandalous misuse of Federal power which secured the nomination of Harrison. The common-school plank will prove important at the West, and the miscellangous sections contain many subjects which will bear reference to here-

Dr. Wolfe's Eloquent Sermon to a Large

The Newberry College commencement began June 12th, with the baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. E. J. Wolfe, D. D., professor of church history and New Testament exercises in an incomprehensible blunder. For- the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, Pa.

The Opera House was occupied by determined Democratic sentiment of an audience numbering not less than the country, as shown in the elections eight hundred persons. A large number of visitors were noticed in the vast assemblage. Although the service did not begin until ten o'clock, the audi-

Dr. Wolfe announced his text from Psalms lxi, 2: "Lead me to the Rock that is higher than I." It was a Gospel sermon, in simple language, forcible in delivery and able in argument of the three propositions: (1) The ing; (2) the universal aspiration after God, and (3) the unattainableness of communion with God by human effort He showed in conclusion that only by It further insists that all dollars shall believing in prayer could the rock be work, "The Lutherans in America," One of the best statements of the which has had a wide sale, has been -Charlestown, (S. THE PEOPLE ON THE NOMINATION.

Mr. Cleveland's nomination has been received with genuine enthusiasm from one end of the country to the other, says the World. There has been a general acclamation of rejoicing on the return to public life of the man who, more than any one else of our time, has inspired the imagination and stimulated the patriotism of those whose ideals are high, and who has done this by faithful and courageous adherence to Democratic principles.

This warm reception of a nomination that had been anticipated for several weeks is a decided contrast to the coldness with which the news of Mr. Harrison's success was received. In the one case the active, earnest and younger men of the party are gratified; in the other they are disappointed. The enthusiasm of the Democratic masses was behind Cleveland as the enthusiasm of the Republicans was behind Blaine. The reason for the contrast is evident. It is cause for general congratulation that the Republicans themselves, especially their leaders, receive Mr. Cleveland's nomination respectfully, with a full appreciation of his high character and with a deep recognition of his strength.

It was different in 1884 and still more different in 1888.

CARBOLL, Iowa, July, 1889.
I was suffering 10 years from shocks in my head, so much so that at times I didn't expect to recover. I took medicines from many doctors, but did not get any relief antil I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic. The second dose relieved me and 2 bottles cured me.

HARRISVILLE, Pa., March, 1891. We began using Pastor Koonig's Nerve Tonic for our 14-year-old daughter (who had had epi-leptic fits since she was 5 years old) ever a year ago with but little hope of any good, as we had been so often disappointed in other remedies, but soon after using this medicine she began to get better, and we hope that any and all afflict ed with this terrible disease will try your wonderful remedy. I recommend your medicine to every one affected with any nervous affliction whatever.
