THE FARMER IS NOT IN IT.

The claim of some of the protectionists hereabouts that a protective tariff "nourishes land values" is fairly met in figures we get from board of equalization.

Another fact. While county values have been increasing the value of city real estate in Ohio in 1880 was $412,000,000, while in 1890 it was $550,000,000 an increase of $138,000,000.

What is true of Ohio is even more strikingly true of Pennsylvania, as it is greater manufacturing State, and therefore on the home market theory the farmers should be more prosperous.

Republican protection means the greatest good to the least number. It will be observed that it differs materially from Jeffersonian Democracy.

O'Donnell, the leader of the Homestead strikers, has been refused bail, and is now held in jail to be tried for murder.

The high tariff shriekers are in a ridiculous quandary how to face the farmers in this campaign. They pledged great prosperity through high prices that were to follow a high tariff.

Bellefonte and the Tariff.

Bellefonte has just such industries as a high tariff was represented to help and make the town boom.

dustries are as flat as a flounder altho there has been a protective tariff for twenty-five years?

Will any high tariff business man of Bellefonte explain why the life has been knocked out of that town, why its empty store rooms, why its idle glass works, why its closed nail works, why its abandoned car shops, why its other industries are lagging?

Come, you high protective tariff men, get up and explain why your high tariff has failed in its mission at Bellefonte and all over the country.

The Republican guns are spiked. High tariff is unpopular and the Force Bill is infamous in the sight of all honest men.

The Republican county heeler have not yet been able to pick a flaw in the characters of the nominees on the Democratic county ticket.

The Schuylkill County Commissioners at their triennial assessment, raised it from $32,000,000 to $72,000,000. The method they pursued was to raise the farm properties 50 per cent., the town properties 100 per cent. and the coal properties 240 per cent.

MR. CLEVELAND'S ACCEPTANCE.

The letter of Grover Cleveland is like the man—strong, straight forward, sensible, honest. It takes up the issues of the canvases in their order and defines his own and the Democratic position upon them simply, clearly and in a manner to leave no doubt in any candid mind as to his convictions or his party's purpose.

Mr. Cleveland's statement of the objects, powers and limitations of our republican government is Jeffersonian in its philosophy and Jacksonian in its expression. Whether treating of tariff reform—which he declares "is still our purpose"—or of Federal interference in elections, of the currency, the civil service, individual liberty or foreign relations, Mr. Cleveland is simply and sturdily Democratic.

The protection in which he believes is "the protection of the people in the exclusive use and enjoyment of their property and earnings"—a definition which goes to the root of the question at issue. Taxes "representing a diminution of the property rights of the people," he declares, "are only justifiable when laid collected for the purpose of maintaining our Government and furnishing the means for the accomplishment of its legitimate purposes and functions."

Mr. Cleveland's treatment of the currency question is wise and right. He maintains that "the people are entitled to sound and honest money, abundant in volume to supply their business needs," and that with "every dollar of the same intrinsic or purchasing power" both gold and silver "can be safely utilized upon equal terms."

The ex-President speaks a good word for civil-service reform and for "our worthy veteran soldiers and for the families of those who have died," but he rightly insists that "our pension roll should be a roll of honor, uncontaminated by ill-desert and unvisited by demagogic use."

Several minor issues are briefly but satisfactorily touched upon, and Mr. Cleveland then refers confidently to his record as a public servant for a further understanding of his views and his rule of conduct.

It is an admirable letter—the plain talk of a plain American citizen to the plain people. It is a sufficient campaign document in itself for all who honestly desire light as to Democratic principles and purposes.—New York World.

Dave Martin, a disreputable Philadelphia thug Republican, ballot box thief and ballot box stuffer, and corrupter of voters, has been sent over to New York to debauch voters there, and do all dirty work necessary to carry that state for Harrison.

Let the Democrats of New York watch him closely and make it hot for the notorious Philadelphia thug.

Mr. Kribbs, of course, will be re-elected to congress from this district. He deserves the support of all honest voters. He was true to the public interests in all his votes and always at his post. He did not consume the time of the House by idle gab, which is too much the case by some members, who get off windy speeches and do some very windy voting too.

The New York apportionment has been declared constitutional, by the General term of the Third Department of the Supreme court which handed down a decision in the Legislative apportionment case of George C. Carter, of Utica, against Frank Rice, Secretary of State.

The motion and injunction for a mandamus and injunction were denied and the apportionment by the extra session was declared constitutional. The opinion was by Mayham P. J., and Justice Herlick. Justice Putnam expressed no opinion, not having had time to examine into the case.

Whether a pauper can vote was decided in the court at Hollidaysburg, last week. The application of Daniel McConnell, an inmate of the almshouse, to have his name placed on the voters' register, was denied. The court held that paupers are not entitled to franchise. In other counties it has been decided that paupers can vote. Who is right?

"The greatest good to the greatest number,"—men of all parties advocate that principle. From the foundation of our government, down to this day, the popular vote of the people of the United States has been in favor of the Democratic party and a low tariff, in every presidential campaign. Certainly the voice of the people of this country should be respected in regard to the tariff question.

Chairman Harry said that Senator Hill's speech will be sent broadcast over the country as a campaign document. The National Committee has ordered 100,000 copies of the speech printed.

Bourke Cockrain will make 35 speeches for Cleveland in New York State during October. Senator Hill will do his stumping in Virginia and South Carolina.

No Sunday Cigars.

The recent crusade of the Bellefonte dominies against the Sunday papers, has spread itself to the cigar stores, and the ministers recently made the rounds of town and requested all the proprietors to abstain from selling the soothing weed on Sunday.

All Kinds of Advice.

Since the picnic is over and the same summed up by the different papers in the county, all kinds of advice has been tendered the committee to make the picnic a success. Some advised a race course for trials of speed, the offering of premiums, etc. This is all very well and the advice costs nothing, but if the managing committee followed to the letter the suggestions tendered, the picnic would not bear that name any longer.

A Big Failure.

The Wilcox paper manufacturing company, the oldest paper house in the country, has failed in consequence of the quarantine of rags, which raised the price 100 and 150 per cent. The company had large contracts to fill, taken before rags went up, and were unable to fill them at their given rates.
