THE SIN OF LYING.

Rev. J. W. Riddle of the Union Baptist church, Pittsburg, began a series of sermons on "common Sin of the Day." The first discourse was on lying. It will be followed by sermons on swearing, drinking, stealing and gambling, and not paying what you honestly owe.

On the subject of lying, Rev. Riddle began by defining a lie a false statement made or repeated for the purpose of deceiving, and containing the elements of willful untruth and intended deception. In determining the vileness of the lie, the motive inspiring it and the amount of truth it has for a basis also enter. Rev. Riddle then said: "Of the many kinds of lies the blackest is the one which contains no truth whatever. They are the ones that probably do the least harm on account of this blankness, for little inquiry soon shows what unmitigated fabrications they are and they are dropped at once. The most dangerous lie is the one in which the liar succeeds in weaving enough of absolute fact to his fabrication to give it the appearance of truth. A person is guilty of lying when he conveys a false impression by withholding a part of the truth. It is also a lie to exaggerate or overcolor a statement.

"In all lying there is some motive by which the lie is prompted. It is true some folks seem to lie without any motive, but it is done through habit. One of the most fruitful motives is that of gain, which some merchants are guilty of when they say that cloth is all wool and a yard wide when it is only three-fourths wool and barely 34 inches wide. Another is the motive of malice and hatred, and lying from such a motive is the vilest kind. Then we have the motive of covering up other sins caused by the fear of exposure or punishment. We must then decide if a person's motive be to ruin a soul, blacken a character or reputation or damage another's influence, that it is a lie of the worst stamp. If it be to cover up other sins, to exalt a person in public estimation, it is little better. If it is to shield a wretched mortal from the violence of a cruel mob, or protect a helpless child from the fury of an angry parent, the lie might seem excusable. There is, however, no conceivable motive which can justify the telling of a single falsehood. We cannot do evil that good may come. We must do right though the heavens fall."

The fact that the nations of continental Europe have eighteen Million trained soldiers under arms is not an encouraging sign of the times, and it is also a rather grim travesty upon the genuineness of the religion which the rulers of those nations profess. Nor are they contented with things as they are. At the present moment the people of Germany are excited over the decision of the government officials to make another large addition to the army, the reason being that France has now a larger number of men enrolled. The coming week will doubtless witness an exciting struggle between the emperor and the reichstag. There is no reason to believe that war between any of the rival nations of the continent is near, save in the fact that their present inflammable temper is liable to lead to an outbreak at any time, and the additional fact that they cannot keep up the present situation many months. They must either fight or disarm or face rebellion. It is a sorry spectacle and we may be thankful that the Atlantic separates us from them.

Arthur L. Thomas, the governor of Utah, in his annual report to the secretary of the interior, says that polygamy in the Territory is on the decline. He says he does not believe that any polygamous marriages have taken place during the year with the consent or permission of the Mormon leaders, and it is his conviction that there is a sincere intention on the part of Mormon people not to approve or sanction polygamous marriages in the future. He says it is to be regretted that the sincerity of a whole people seeking to accomplish a great reform should be placed under suspicion by the acts of a few, but such is the case. It is sure to be some time, and may be years before the practice of unlawful cohabitation will entirely cease.

Bismarck is making trouble again for the German emperor, and the latter is apparently considerably annoyed at the old man's strictures on the government policy. William would probably give a good deal for some effective way of putting a quietus on the ex-chancellor—a way that would be within the bounds of lawful and humane treatment.

ANIMALS AND ALCOHOL.

A writer in a New York newspaper says that flies will gather on a half-drunken man, while a dozen sober men in the same room are ignored by the insects. If this is true the expression, "There are no flies on him," is more than a slangy figure of speech. It is a testimonial of sobriety. He says he has seen flies buzzing around a man sleepy with liquor. They alight on him, and imbibe alcoholic perspiration from his pores, apparently with great delight. When brused of they fall to the floor in a paralyzed condition, but soon recover and fly around in a zigzag fashion which indicates that the alcohol has gone to their heads. Later they return to the sleepy and boozey one, and fill up again.

This observer of flies' bibulous propensities says, moreover: "Many animals yield to the seduction of rum drinking, especially elephants, horses, cows and swine. Poultry, especially turkeys, will absorb the tempting drink till they tumble over in a leaden sleep, lying around as if dead, and utterly ignoring their accustomed roots. On awakening they stagger for a few moments and soon recover, but it is hours before they resumed their cheerful cackling."

It has been said that the term "beastly drunk" does injustice to the brute creation, but it would appear that there are occasions when it is applicable.

In the Iams Case.

The jury in the Iams case on Saturday, at Pittsburg, returned a verdict of "not guilty" as to both charges, but the defendants—Col's Hawkins and Streater—pay half the costs in the aggravated assault and battery case. After the verdict had been rendered Col. Braddock arose and said: "In view of your honor's charge we ask that such portion of the verdict of the jury as places the cost on the defendants be set aside."

Judge Porter—Make your motion in writing and we will consider it. Had the costs been placed on them in the assault and battery we would unhesitatingly have stricken that part off. We don't mean to express an opinion as to what we will do, but it is proper that you file your motion.

The motion was put in writing, as the court suggested, and the court took the motion, but made no disposition of it, except to order it filed.

Ohio's Wheat Crop.

A special report issued by the State Board of Agriculture, based on information furnished by township correspondents, says the wheat product of the state for the past harvest is estimated at an average of fourteen bushels per acre, or a total for the state of 40,000,000 bushels, being short of last year's crop about 5,000,000 bushels. Last year the average product per acre was seventeen bushels, being one of the largest average yields since 1850. This year the increased acreage brings the total crop up to a fair, though not a full one for the state. It is estimated that about 4,000,000 bushels of the crop of last year are still in the producers' hands.

Centre county does better than Ohio on the average, we can count on fifteen bushels this year, and our ordinary average is sixteen to eighteen bushels. Ohio must do better farming.

The fleet and powerful Pennsylvania Railroad engine, with seven-foot drivers and four-foot truck wheels recently turned out from the Altoona shops has been sent back there in order that a few minor repairs may be made. It was run as far west as Galitzin on the Pittsburg division. The locomotive will do service on the New York division, and is expected to pull ten passenger cars over the ninety miles between Philadelphia and Jersey City in ninety minutes.

This is the greatest country for raising stock and therefore Bull's-Head Horse and Cattle Powder has a large sale in the farming districts. Sold by all dealers for 25 cents per package.

It Is a Good Thing.

I say this for Pan-Tina: I have been in the drug business many years, and this is one of the most successful Cough remedies I have sold. A case in point, a neighbor, Mr. L. H. Nicodemus, had a chronic Cough of six years' standing, which no medicine would relieve. I recommended Pan-Tina, and its effect was magical. It is a good thing.

Sixty Million Bushels of Wheat.—A Bushel for every Inhabitant of the United States. The Kansas Crop of '92.

Never in the history of Kansas has that state had such bountiful crops as this year. The farmers cannot get enough hands to harvest the great crop and the Santa Fe Railroad has made special rates from Kansas City and other Missouri River towns, to induce harvest hands to go into the state. The wheat crop of the state will be from sixty to sixty-five million bushels and the quality is high. The grass crop is made, and is a very large one; the early potatoes, rye barley and oat crops are made and are all large. The weather has been propitious for corn and it is the cleanest, best looking corn to be found in the country to-day. Cheap rates will be made from Chicago St. Louis and all points on the Santa Fe east of the Missouri River, to all Kansas points, on August 30 and September 27, and these excursions will give a chance for eastern farmers to see what the great Sunflower State can do. A good map of Kansas will be mailed free upon application to Jno. J. Byrne, 723 Monadnock Block, Chicago Ill., together with reliable statistics and information about Kansas lands.
