Deaths in the White House

The death in the White House of Mrs. Harrison makes the second case in the history of the Executive Mansion in which the wife of the President has died there.

A little more than a half century ago, on September 10 1842, Letitia Christian Tyler, first wife of President John Tyler, died in the White House. She had entered it in delicate health, unable to perform the social duties of the place, but her death, nevertheless, came as a surprise and a shock to the country. The tolling of the church bells the following day announced her death. The funeral ceremonies took place in the East Room.

Two Presidents also have died in the White House. William Henry Harrison, the President's grandfather, ended his days there just one month after his inauguration.

Zachary Taylor, the old Mexican war hero, also died in the White House in July of the second year after his inauguration.

There have been a few other deaths in the historic building, of which deaths two were of members of the President's family circle. Lincoln's little boy "Tad" died there and so did Mr. Frederick Bent, Mrs. Grant's fath-

During President Arthur's administration the call of death interrupted one of his New Year's Day receptions. While the reception was in progress the Hawailian Minister suddenly fell and died in a very short time.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. The three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by J. D. Murray's Drug store.

Exports of Wheat From India Falling Off. The American Agriculturist in its review of the wheat situation points out that the exports from India are falling off and that Russian wheat is being held for an advance. That the surplus for export from Australia, Asia and South America is very small. The world's reserve supply was by no means made up by last year's heavy yield in the United States, and the replenishing of these reserves accounts for our enormous exports and foreign market at present.

We trust, for the sake of our farmers, that this will have the effect to make prices better for our farmers in this

F. BORNHORST. HICEMAN, Neb., October, 1890. About four years ago our now 20-year old daughter had an epileptic fit after she had retired and about a year later she had retired and about a year later she had another such attack; we could hardly believe that she had this terrible disease, "Epilepsy," but when about three months later she again had a fit we were forced to believe the fact that the dreaded malady had fastened upon her, and as we supposed a disease without a known remedy. About this time we read about Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, and we concluded to try a bottle. God be thanked, she is cured. God be thanked, she is cured
