A DENTIST'S CHILLY BATH.

A Former Centre Hall Dentist has a Wa tery Adventure in Lock Hauen.

Dr. James C. McIntyre, who several years ago practiced dentistry in Centre Hall, and is well-known to all our citzens, had a chilly and watery adventure a few days ago in Lock Haven. The Dr. is located in Williamsport, and is in business with H. C. Krumrine, formerly of Spring Mills. Last Saturday evening Dr. McIntyre went to Lock Haven, and as he had over an hour's time before the late train on the Philadelphia and Erie road left for Williamsport, he concluded to call on his sister-in-law, Mrs. M. E. Blake. The Dr. delayed his departure for the the station until he heard the locomotive whistle above the city, when he started for the Bellefonte avenue station, thinking the trains still stopped there. This train, however, ran past and the dentist determined to run down the track to the lower station in the hope of catching it. In his haste he did not perceive that the drawed and he plunged headlong into the getting out. He then went to a hotel and remained there over night, none the worse for his chilly bath.
