H. N. Wert and family departed for Sunbury last Monday.

Our popular young miller had a vision on Monday night. It was in the direction of upper Sinking Creek, at about three o'clock in the morning. It appeared there was a large fire up there and all the people were wearing line in clothes; the children were running about barefooted, while the farmers were making preparations for the coming harvest. Billy's countenance has changed in consequence of his vision for no one can tell him the interpretation thereof.

Better Every Year.

Time was when the "glorious climate of California" did not attract tourists. But year after year the tide of travel sets in stronger and stronger every fall and winter toward this favored region. There is no climate resort, and the usual fine service on the Union Pacific System and the Southern Pacific Railway has this season been brought to a degree of perfection which leaves nothing to be desir-
