Mr. Biddle divorced road building from politics. He enlisted the help of citizens because they had faith in him, and with less than $2,500 per mile of road obtained from a loan, with the road taxes about 3½ mills on a low valuation of property and with private subscriptions, he has built stone roads throughout his district. A third of a mile yet unpaved, he expects to complete before the end of his term. A part of the loan, $14,000, remains to be expended in the other district, and as custom requires that the other supervisors shall spend it, Mr Biddle declines to become jointly responsible for a district accordance of the loan and the property of the l ed a district. There were no stone son been brought to a degree of perfecclines to become jointly responsible for satisfaction. Address, Centre Hall, a district over which he has no control. Surely there are lessons here how to get good roads and also how not to get them.

He urges, pleads scolds, badgers and cavorts around until he gets what he sets out for. Imagine his feeling then, when some fellow reproaches him because he does not boom things enough, and nine times out of ten that same fellow has never paid a cent toward supporting the paper, and the paper he reads with has a fine stock of such articles. marked regularity is either borrowed from his next door neighbor or picked up from the counter in the store at which he deals.

A Little Girl's Experience In a Lighthouse Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the Gov. Lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter, four years old. Last April she was taken down with Measles, followed with a dreadful Cough and turning into a Fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly until she was a mere "handful of bones."-Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at J. D. Mur-become well known by reason of the many cabinet specimens, paper weights and decorative slabs of it that are sent to the Eastern cities, but this is by no means the only petrified forest in this country. In the Hoodoo district of the Yellowstone many stumps of trees are found converted to stones, some of them showing knots, grain of the wood and bark as plainly as the living tree, and the pebbly branches of the Yellowstone River are strewn with tons of fragments of fossil wood. In the dreary desert of the Dakota Bad Lands leaf impressions are frequently found in he hardened clay, and at Little Missouri, at the point known as the Burnting Mountain, where a coal seam, has been on fire since nobody knows when here are half dozen tree trunks about thirty feet long. This is remarkable on account of the almost total lack of tree life in this region at present.

A Good Record. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for ten years," says druggist E. B. Legg, of Vail, Ia., "and have always warranted it and never had a bottle returned. During the past 90 days I have sold twelve dozen and it has given perfect satisfaction in every instance." It does not dry up a cough, but loosens and relieves it. It will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment. 25 cent, 50 cent and $1 bottles for sale by J. D. Murray.
