The mail which has been received at the White House since the 4th of March is something enormous. Every morning great stacks of letters lie on the legislature has had his name the desks of the clerks in the executive offices, and with each fresh delivery of mail they are renewed and increased. Most of these letters of course, are from applicants for office. Of course there is the usual proportion of crank letters and begging letters; but most of the President's correspondents are seeking appointments. Of course this office-seekers' mail does not reach the President. It simply passes through the White House on its way to the departments. OPPOSED TO NEPOTISM.

President Cleveland defined his views on nepotism the other day in a manner so forcible that he left no doubt in the mind of his hearer that he was irrevocably opposed to the practice. The gentleman to whom Mr. Cleveland outlined his views on the question is a Western Congressman, who came to secure the appointment of a constituent to office. He told Mr. Cleveland that the applicant was a good Democrat, a good fellow, and, furthermore, a relative of the President himself.

"That settles it," Mr. Cleveland is reported as saying. "His name cannot be considered." And then the President is said to have read the congressman a lecture on the danger of appointing relatives to office, in which he placed himself on record as against nepotism in all its shades of meaning and application.

THE FOLLOWING bills were passed finally by the house at Harrisburg: Providing for the expenses of school directors in attending conventions. Providing for the incorporation of casuality insurance companies. To facilitate the labors of the judges of the court of common pleas in the Dauphin-Lebanon district, in the disposition of business by providing suitable clerical assistance.

The act to prohibit the killing of wild deer for a period of three years was amended and passed third reading, as was also the act to regulate the liability under policies of insurance on buildings and structures against fire and lightning.

To authorize the election oi tax collectors in boroughs and townships for the term of three years.

The Health,

There are still a few cases of diphtheria in different sections of the western part of our valley, though not of the dangerous type. The late thaw and rains aided greatly in causing the disease, and has also given a good many a touch of the festive grip, while coughs afflict others is proven by the amount of sneezing that is done-to all of which the doctors do not object.
