NO TAX BILL.

There is not likely to be a new tax bill passed by the present legislature. There is such a multitude of notions, and one half of them put into a bill makes a regular crazy quilt tax bill out of it. There are some propositions claimed to be in the interest of the farmer, yet we are free to say if enacted into a law the enforcement would set the farmer wild with indignation; some tax reform measures are proposed that could not even be carried out if enacted, on account of their utter impracticability. It is sadly amusing to see what foolish notions some fellows have about a tax law.

GOVERNOR PATTISON has vetoed the bill recently passed allowing school directors compensation for attending the conventions called to elect county superintendents. His excellency claimed that as the directors performed all other duties without compensation they had no right to receive it in this particular case. There is no doubt that the veto will be sustained by the legislature.

AS THE electioneering campaign is on hand, look out for the smiling patriot who tells you "there is no honesty in politics"—shoot him on the spot.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S arrival at Chicago, on Saturday, was attended by a grand ovation. He attended church on Sunday and opened the fair on a Monday.

IT IS semi-officially reported that the President will call an extra session of congress to revise the tariff.

Small Pox in Muncy.

Friday evening last a three-year-old son of Elias Murray, residing at Turbotville, near Muncy, died of a malady which the attending physician pronounced small pox. He had been ill since Wednesday the 19th of April, but it was not until several days subsequent that the disease developed itself to a certainty. Remedies were then administered to counteract the loathsome complaint, but the efforts proved unavailing. The family is at a loss as to how to account for the case. They are inclined to think that it was either conveyed to the house in the pack of a peddler who displayed his goods there a few days before the boy was taken ill, or by means of a letter received from Rochester, N. Y. Naturally, the people residing in that community are much excited over the sudden death of the boy from such a dreaded cause, and every precautionary measure is being taken to keep the disease from spreading. The Murray house is under voluntary quarantine, no one being allowed to enter except the physician, while none of the family quit the premises. The house is being fumigated, and this, with the aid of disinfectants, seems to have put an end to further trouble, as none of the other members of the family has shown any signs of having caught the complaint.—Williamsport Sun.

Increased in Membership.

At a meeting of the Society of Christian Endeavor on last Sunday evening the names of nineteen of our young people were proposed for membership, which shows that the good work is not on the wane but gradually increasing in interest and membership. This increase of membership will greatly add to the interest of the meetings by each member taking an active part. The meeting on Sunday evening will be held in the Reformed church and will be conducted by Prof. W. B. Chriswell.

PENNSYLVANIA AT CHICAGO.

Suggestions to Citizens of State Who Visit the World's Fair.

First. All Pennsylvanians who attend the World's Fair are advised to first visit the State Building. This they can readily accomplish by entering the grounds at the Fifty-seventh street entrance, near which, and just opposite the great Art Palace, our Building is located. All of the railroads, electric, cable and horse car lines leading from the centre of the city, have stations at or within a short distance of the Fifty-seventh street entrance.

Second. The State Building is specially designed and arranged for the comfort and convenience of the citizens of Pennsylvania. It is provided with general reception room, separate parlors for women and men, ladies' dressing room, smoking room, writing room, newspaper room, press correspondents' room, and ample toilet facilities, etc., etc. Convenient cloak and parcel rooms have been provided upon the first floor of the building, where all citizens of the State are at liberty to leave such articles as they may not wish to carry around on the grounds.

Third. The Building contains a postoffice to be open during the Exposition hours. Arrangements have been made to collect the mails hourly, and Pennsylvanians who have their mail addressed to the Pennsylvania State Building, World's Fair, Chicago, Ill., will be insured prompt delivery.

Fourth. The newspaper room will contain files of all the State journals that will be sent to the Building.

Fifth. The Bureau of Information is on the first floor, in charge of a competent superintendent, who will be pleased to aid our citizens with advice or suggestions as to how to see the Exposition to the best advantage.

Sixth. A register of Pennsylvanians who attend the Exposition will be kept, with their names and the location of their stopping place, with the probable time of their stay, etc.

Seventh. No fee, unless it be for blacking shoes, will be charged for any service in or about the Building.

Eighth. A cordial invitation is extended to all Pennsylvanians, regardless of race, color or nativity to make the building their headquarters and resting place while at the Exposition, and to avail themselves of the facilities that have been provided. They will find a home and a warm welcome.

A. B. FARQUHAR,
Executive Commissioner,
Board of World's Fair Managers.

Fact Outdoes Fiction.

About February 1, William Humphrey, a citizen of West Clearfield, left his home presumably for the West, where his father resides. He left but little for his family to live upon, and as the weeks came and went they became destitute. Inquiry elicited the fact that he had never written a line to his people, and their pitiable circumstances caused everybody to charge him with desertion. The overseers took charge of the family about April 1, and everybody had a bad word for the seemingly unnatural father. Last Saturday a letter came to the Clearfield postoffice from Connorsville, Ind., addressed to Mrs. Martha Smith. This, we believe, is his mother-in-law's name. The letter was from the family who is caring for him at the place aforesaid. It stated that on the 22nd of February he, with others, was in a railroad wreck, in which he suffered serious injuries. His leg was broken at the ankle, one arm was broken, and he was hurt about the head so that he was unconscious from the day he was hurt until April 17, a period of 53 days. There was nothing on his person by which he could be identified—nothing but a railroad ticket from Indianapolis to Pittsburg. He was never conscious during this whole time long enough for the people to ascertain his name or his former whereabouts. During his delirium, the letter states, he would converse as it were with his wife, and talk about his two little children, Lucy and Abe, but this threw no light upon the mystery. On the 17th of April he rallied, and for the first time since the accident, seemed rational. He did not remember what had happened to him, where he had been or how long he had been sick. Before sinking into his delirium they secured from him his name and he told them to write to Martha Smith, Clearfield, Pa., which they did—the contents of the letter we have just recited. The party writing states that the doctor thinks he will recover, and that they are giving him the best possible attention, and further that the railroad company had assured them that all bills for his care would be promptly paid by them. Taking the trouble of the family, the separation of mother and little children, caused by want, and the circumstances surrounding his own misfortunes and it presents a case that should have more than ordinary sympathy.—Raftsmen's Journal.
