COBURN.

Interesting News From Our Coburn Correspondent.

C. A. DeLong spent Sunday with his parents near Boonville, Clinton county.

Howard Kulp made a business trip to Shamokin one day last week.

Luther Guisewite and family attended the funeral of one of his brother Georges' children on last Sunday, near Loganton.

The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reiter, of near this place, died on Saturday and was buried at Aaronsburg, on Tuesday.

The remains of T. C. Weaver were brought to this place on Monday evening, on the train and taken to Woodward, his former home, and were interred there on Tuesday. Mr. Weaver was engaged in a large lumber operation, near Willlamsburg, Kentucky, and was accidently killed while floating logs.

John Hoffa now sports a .bran new bicycle. He thinks he can break the championship record with it.

Some of our young men who have embryo mustaches do not like the ruling of fashion, that the mustache must go. What will our station clerk do if the stern mandates of fashion must be obeyed?

A Wonderful Paper.

The World's Fair Number of The Youth's Companion just received is in every way a magnificent issue, a worthy contribution to the Columbian year and the greatest Fair the world has ever seen. It gives a full description of the different departments of the Fair, also important directions showing how to see the Fair and what to see each day.

Its illustrations are superb, no less than thirteen full pages devoted to the photographic views of those unequalled buildings which make up the "White City." It has a strikingly beautiful cover lithographed in ten colors, with a frontispiece showing the Administration Building, the Lagoon, its gondolas and one of its numerous bridges, and the Electrical Fountain. The whole issue has thirty-six pages and more than sixty illustrations, and is highly artistic. It is certainly without a rival among the World's Fair issues.

All the old subscribers to The Companion will receive it free, and any new subscribers received, with $1.75 for a year's subscription, will also obtain a copy while the edition lasts. Seven hundred thousand copies have been printed, but are not likely to be sufficient for the demand. Single numbers may be obtained by sending ten cents to The Youth's Companion, Boston, Mass., or of any nawsdealer.

Accident and Loss. About three weeks ago Prof. J. C.

Davis hired a horse and buggy from Hardman Phillips, of Yeagertown, for traveling on an exhibition tour giving sciopticon entertainments. Thursday last the Bald Eagle creek at Howard, Centre county, overflowed its banks and an accident resulted to Prof. Davis which proved fatal to the horse and came near drowning Mr. D. and a lad who traveled with him. They were driving about a mile east of Howard and crossing from a canal bridge to an iron bridge that spans the creek, the water between the bridges being almost three feet deep, and the horse stumbled and fell, upsetting the buggy, and the professor and the boy only escaped drowning by swimming. Mr. Davis exhibited pluck in attempting to rescue the horse by swimming along side of the animal for more than 100 yards. His heroic effort failed, and he was pulled out and taken to a residence near by in an unconscious condition. The horse was drowned and the buggy swept down stream .--Lewistown Free Press.

How to Dig Balt.

"The best and easiest way to get bait," says one who knows all about it "is to pour a few buckets of water on a small spot in the yard say about 5 or 6 o'clock in the evening. The next morning all one need do then is to go up and take a can to the spot where the water was poured. There will be plenty of worms right up on top of the ground to fill it. Moistening the top of the ground, you see," remarks the gentlemen, "attracts the worms to the top."

Better Than Balt.

Rats and mice will go into a trap much more readily if a piece of looking glass is put in any part of the trap where they can see themselves. They are social little creatures, and where they can see any of their tribe, there they will go.
