THE NEW PENSION RULES.

The Secretary of the Interior by a recent decision has ruled that a man who is able to earn a living at manual labor and who suffers from no wound or disability incurred in actual service is not entitled to receive a pension from the government. This ruling has caused consternation among a class of pensioners who are drawing bounties, and are perfectly able to perform manual labor in support of themselves. Under the last administration pensions were granted indiscriminately and without reserve to every camp follower, who applied for same. Pension sharks sprung up everywhere and the government was swindled out of enormous amounts of money which should have been appropriated to the deserving and disabled veteran, who risked his all in support of his country when dire calamity threatened it.

The ruling in the future will place only those who are in actual need of assistance upon the roll of honor, while those who are drawing pensions to which they are not entitled will be stricken from the rolls, and it is only among this class that the cry of indignation goes up that the Democratic party is unfavorable to the old soldier.

The list of pensioners in each county or district should be published and the public made aware of those to whom a pension is granted and the amount received. In this valley there are some drawing pensions to which they are not legally entitled and who are well able to perform manual labor with no disability, and if the list were published the public would learn some facts which heretofore were not familiar with.

The distinction is an important one. It applies not to pending and future applications, but to many thousands of pensions that have been awarded, and will be re-examined, with the certainty that many pensions to unworthy applicants will be revoked. This the first move to purge the pension roll and preserve it as the roll of honor, and it should receive the cooperation of every taxpayer and veteran.

WE HAVE had the Ford's theater collapse,—what will be the next horror?

GOV. PATTERSON'S vetoes seem to be on such sound reasoning as to elicit general commendation.

CLEVELAND'S ADVICE TO THE PEOPLE.

In announcing his intention to call an extra session of Congress not earlier than the 1st nor later than the 15th of September, unless unexpected contingencies should necessitate an earlier meeting, President Cleveland said: "While there has been no mystery nor secrecy in regard to my intention in this matter, I think it not amiss that our people should be informed authoritatively that the time is at hand when their representatives in Congress will be called upon to deal with a financial condition which is the only menace to the country's welfare and prosperity. It is well for the people to take up the subject for themselves and arrive at their own conclusions as to the merits of a financial policy which obliges us to purchase idle silver bullion with gold taken from our reserve. One does not need the eye of a financier to see that this gold thus subtracted from the government's stock is eagerly seized by other nations for the purpose of strengthening their credit at our expense. It does not need the art of statesmanship to detect the danger that awaits upon the continuance of this operation. Already the timidity of capital is painfully apparent, and none of us can fail to see that fear and apprehension in monetary circles will bring suffering to every humble home in our land.

"I think that between now and the meeting of Congress much depends upon the action of those engaged in financial operations and business enterprises. Our vast national resources and credit are abundantly sufficient to justify them in the utmost faith and confidence. If, instead of being frightened, they are conservative, and if, instead of gloomily anticipating immediate disaster, they contribute their share of hope and steadiness, they will perform a patriotic duty and at the same time protect their own interests. What is just now needed is calmness in financial circles and study and reflection among our people."

WE DO not have any thunder gusts any more—electrical storms have taken their place.

PRICES of grain have not been so low in thirty years as now. The prospect ahead is not flattering. Those farmers who are reducing their acreage of wheat do wisely.

AN IMMENSE PAPER.

We have received a copy of the special Columbian World's Fair edition of the San Francisco Examiner, for Sunday, June 4, containing 120 pages, the largest newspaper ever issued, containing matter enough for a book of 1000 pages. This edition is devoted principally to the state of California, profusely illustrated, setting forth all the interests of that grand and wonderful land, the garden of the world. It has a beautifully illuminated title page, in which the goddess of flowers and fruits is represented in just such glory as one can revel in in California only. The Examiner, outside of this wonderful edition, justly bears the reputation of being the greatest newspaper on the Pacific coast. To A. Boyd Henderson, managing editor, who is a native of our own valley, we are indebted for a copy of this special edition of the Daily Examiner.

MUST VOTE IN THE DISTRICT.

A law was passed that all elections must be held in the respective districts and cannot be held in adjoining districts. Potter north precinct must now move its polling place out of Centre Hall, and will likely go to Old Fort, or some point near the borough limits.

THE SHERIFF candidates are working industriously to win that tempting plum.

EVERY Saturday afternoon is now a legal holiday. There is nothing in the law preventing any one from using the forenoon as a holiday if it suits. In fact any one can make a holiday of every day in the year for himself if he sees fit. Regular loafers have 365 holidays in the year.

PRACTICAL ROAD REFORM.

The recent law passed by the Massachusetts Legislature, providing that after August 1, 1896, the tires on the wheels of draught wagons used in that State shall be from three to five inches in width, is a practical step toward road reform. Such tires tend to make good roads, serving in a measure as rollers; and as the new law does not go into effect within three years, it will inflict no special hardship upon the owners of wagons. The law in New York State, which exempts the owners of wagons having similar tires from certain road taxes, is a measure of the same character.

WHERE WE ARE AT.

The legislature having adjourned without passing any apportionment bills leaves Centre county in her old district. We remain with Huntingdon as a judicial district, 49th, Hon. A. O. Furst, president judge, commission expires January 1895.

The senatorial district 34th, Centre, Clearfield and Clinton, Hon. P. G. Meek, senator, term expires Dec. 1894. The congressional district, 28th, Centre, Clearfield, Elk, Forest and Clarion, Hon. G. F. Kribbs, re-elected in 1892.

So all know, "where we are at" without asking any question.

The legislature of Pennsylvania, in violation of the constitution has failed to make an apportionment for twenty years.

THE COLLAPSE of the pension building at Washington should be thoroughly investigated, and the blame attached to where it belongs. There was criminal negligence on the part of some one, and that one should be indicted, regardless of party or position.

THE PEACH crop of Jersey and Delaware, at this writing, promises to be a large one. Peaches will be cheap this year, whereat all lovers of this delicious and useful fruit will be glad.
