GARFIELD'S PENSION VIEWS.

In 1883, in a speech in the House of Representatives, General Garfield said that the pension expenditures, which were then less than $30,000,000 per annum, were "swollen beyond all account," and that "more frauds are being perpetrated on the government by claim agents in different portions of the country than from almost any other single source." If General Garfield were alive to day and repeated such views he would be denounced as a "yellow dog" by the Republican organs, which assume that the G. O. P. has bought and paid for the G. A. R. with pensions.

A GOOD LAW.

The governor has approved the bill introduced by the late Senator Neeb, which makes it a penal offence to willfully and intentionally procure the publication of false statements. The statutes providing for the punishment of ordinary liars did not fully cover the case of this extraordinary class. Now, however, the brainless characters whose shrewdest possible achievement is the imposition of falsehoods upon respectable newspapers can be reached and landed in quarters to which respectable journalists are strangers.

Doing Pretty Good.

This snake story is from the Mifflintown Herald: George C. Harris, a railroad watchman at Black Log while gathering ferns in the woods alongside the track on Saturday last, was disagreeably surprised at finding something encircling his leg, which kept pressing tighter and tighter. Looking down he saw it was a large black snake, which was rapidly encircling his leg. With rare presence of mind he reached into his hip pocket, pulled out his revolver and shot off the snake's head, after which he unwound it coils from his leg. It was a large black snake, measuring five feet four inches in length.

Only One Drink a Day.

A Columbia, S. C., dispatch says: Governor Tillman's rules for the State bar rooms, which will open July 1st, prohibits the same person from being served more than once a day. No loading will be allowed around the dispensaries. Clubs will not be allowed to serve liquor. The dispensaries are to be open at 7 o'clock in the morning and close at 6 o'clock in the evening. A special constabulary force is to be employed to enforce the law.

No Small's Hand-Book.

Governor Pattison Thursday vetoed the bill authorizing the superintendent of public instruction to place in every public school of the state a Small's hand-book, for the reason that he regards all these efforts to make the commonwealth a distributor of such works ill-considered.

Postmasters Recommended.

CONGRESSMAN KRIBBS has recommended the appointment of the following postmasters: W. A. Tobias, Millheim, and H. H. Weaver, at Aaronsburg.

C. P. Long & Co. have just received a large stock of chain and lever pumps. Come and see them.

Maimett and Sore.

The Lewistown Democrat and Sentinel says: It was a pitiful sight on Monday evening, the day Main's circus showed in town, to witness the big strong elephant being prodded and coaxed through the streets from the show grounds to the siding where the company's cars were. The poor beast had been maimed in the Tyrone disaster and was hobbling along with a severely sprained hind leg. Although the distance was but a half mile it occupied between two and three hours to complete the journey. It is to be said for the keeper that he was very considerate for the feelings of his big friend, and boys and girls eased its journey by liberal donations of peanuts and bananas along the way.

A Boy Prevents an Accident.

On the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad there is a trestle at Cherry Run about 30 feet high which trains pass over every day. Last Saturday afternoon G. Miles Miller, a lad about twelve years old, was passing along there and discovered that the bridge had caught fire and many of the ties were burned so as to leave the rails loose. As he knew a freight train for Bellefonte would soon be due at that point he ran up the road and flagged the approaching train thus preventing what might have been a serious accident with loss of life. For a boy so young Miller displayed much presence of mind for which he is entitled to great credit. The damage to the track was repaired on Sunday so that trains run Monday as usual.

The Body Found.

Four months ago a woman jumped from the bridge, at Montgomery, into the West Branch river, and drowned herself. Search was made for her body but without success. One day last week two Lewisburgers went out on the river fishing opposite the town. Near the spot where the water is pumped from the river into the stand-pipe for the supply of the town, they discovered something lodged near the pipe, which turned out to be the putrid corpse of the woman aforesaid, and lodged against the pipe, Lewisburg drinking the water all the time. What would those river towns give to have such pure water as Centre Hall enjoys.

A Vein of Silver Ore.

The Lock Haven Express says that for some time past it has been known that prospectors were searching for precious minerals in Clinton county, and judging from specimens of silver ore shown on Saturday evening, a vein of silver ore has been found. The parties who are interested had but little to say about the matter, further than that specimens of the ore had been assayed, and showed to be worth $1,000 per ton. The place where it was found and who owns the land could not be ascertained by those who saw the rich specimens. The assayer states that richer ore is seldom found anywhere.

Huntingdon Presbytery.

At the late meeting of the Presbytery of Huntingdon the Presbytery was divided into two districts, as follows: The eastern district, comprising the counties of Huntingdon, Bedford, Juniata and Mifflin; the western district comprising the counties of Blair, Clearfield and Centre, with instructions that each district should hold an annual Sunday school convention, and committees were appointed to arrange for them. There will be a convention of the eastern district held at Petersburg on Thursday and Friday June 22 and 23, beginning at 1.30 on Thursday.

The Last Log Floated.

The last saw log has been floated down the Bennets branch of the Sinnemahoning, past the town Penfield, and the Penfield Press says it makes the close of an important epoch in the history of that town. In 1854 Hiram Woodward led a colony from "The Lehigh" to Slabtown, in 1856 moving to Penfield. Mr. Woodward put in and floated away no less than 200,000,000 feet of pine alone for Reading, Fisher, & Co.

How He Saw It.

A Delaware countian spent five days at the World's Fair. He figured his expenses as follows: Railroad fare, $28; six meals enroute, $6; two nights in sleeper, $4; five days room rent, $5; fifteen meals in Chicago, $5; five admissions, $2.50; ten street car fares, 50 cents; guide book, 25 cents; total, $51.25.

Fifty cents is a small doctor bill, but that is all it will cost you to cure any ordinary case of rheumatism if you use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. The first application will quiet the pain. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. D. Murray, Druggist.

Appointed Postmaster.

Mr. Runkle, merchant at Middleburg, has been appointed postmaster for that town. He is a native of Gregg township and a son of Daniel Runkle, also a brother of James W. Runkle, of near this place.
